

THIEVES ROB THREE HOMES IN WEST END OF CITY

Garling to Decide Police Probe Authority

QUESTION PUT UP TO SOLICITOR

Civil Service Board Members are Still at Variance

ACTION IS DELAYED

Mayor May Appoint Special Investigation Committee

"Only an adverse opinion from City Solicitor H. E. Garling on the question of whether the civil service board has authority to prosecute an investigation of the entire police department will prevent us from proceeding in a firm manner in running down the charges that have been made against members of the department, hearsay for the most part thus far," F. W. Durbin, a member of the board, said Saturday night.

A meeting of the civil service commissioners, F. W. Durbin, F. H.
Downing and F. W. Zelts, held Saturday, resulted in the adoption of a resolution putting up to the city solicitor the question as to the authority of the board in the premises.

Durbin said Saturday that Zelts and himself are firmly convinced that the board has authority to proceed, while Downing holds to the opinion, basing his contention on sections of the Ohio laws governing civil service boards, that it has no such authority.

To avoid any misunderstanding and to facilitate procedure, as well as to clarify the atmosphere on the scope of the law, Durbin and Zelts voted with Downing on the adoption of a resolution putting the question up to City Solicitor Garling.

Zelts and myself intend to proceed with the investigation as originally planned," Durbin stated. "If we are sustained in our belief that the board has authority to probe charges or rumors detrimental to any member of the police department.
We want these things cleared up. If the men are guilty of the things that have been said, and still being told about them, they should get off the force. If not guilty, they should be cleared of suspicion. That is the object of planning this investigation."

Member Downing, who stands with the "right to investigate" department heads and a firm in his conviction that he is right on that point.

In event the city solicitor holds that the board cannot act, it is still possible for Mayor Burkhardt to appoint a special investigating board.
In the opinion of Downing, that is the only procedure that can be taken.

Mayor Burkhardt was emphatic Saturday in upholding the position taken by Downing.

MAJOR BACKS DOWNING
The mayor only has authority to make an investigation of a "department or delegate such authority to others. In my position as chief executive of the city I have the power to appoint a special investigating committee or delegate such authority to the civil service board members," Burkhardt said Saturday night, after his return from New Weston, where he delivered an address before a homecoming assembly.

The mayor indicated that he is in favor of a probe and that he is willing to appoint an investigating board to carry on a complete and searching investigation of the department.

Safety Director D. W. Morris has not changed his belief that an investigation should be started and is in the position of affording the civil service commission or any other body with authority, the fullest possible cooperation.

ROUGH SITS TIGHT
In the meantime, Chief of Police Roush is sitting tight, refusing to be worried over the prospect of his department being turned upside down for the purpose of disclosing its workings in every detail. He is adhering to his original determination to afford an investigating board every assistance possible in getting at the facts if there is anything wrong, or clearing his men of suspicion if reports circulated are untrue.

As the situation now exists, there will be no further move made, Commissioner Durbin asserted Saturday, until a legal opinion is forthcoming from the city solicitor.

PACKERS AND EMPLOYEES PREPARING FOR FIGHT
CHICAGO. — The "big five" packers and leaders of their employees Saturday night were preparing for a fight, the United Press was advised Saturday night.
The strike vote of the packers employees, the "open shop" recently decreed by the packers, will not be taken into account Saturday night in union circles, that a strike will be called.

Couple Jailed As Slayers of Woman

Husband and Nurse are Accused of Murdering Wife
In Virginia

HACKED TO PIECES

Pair Arrested on Story of Children—Charge Denied by Prisoners

COLONIAL BEACH, Va. — Twenty-nine wounds, inflicted by a hatchet and a revolver, were found by an autopsy here Saturday on the body of Mrs. Roger D. Eastlake, whose brutal murder is charged by a coroner's jury to her husband and his alleged sweetheart, Miss Sarah E. Knox, of Baltimore.

This little village has been stirred by the brutality of the murder and threats of violence have been made against Eastlake, a naval petty officer. He and Miss Knox, who is a nurse, have been removed to the county jail at Montrose, to await grand jury action.

BODY FOUND IN HOME.
The body of Mrs. Eastlake, the mother of four children, was found in her home here.

The jury found that Mrs. East-lake's death was caused by "sharp instruments in the hands of her husband and the nurse."

The testimony against Eastlake was given by two of his children, eight and ten years old. They said they were awakened by the noise of the murder. They entered another room of the house and saw their father.

He, according to the children's testimony, rushed them back to bed, saying their mother had been hurt and being taken to the hospital.

Miss Knox admitted she slept in the house about ten years from the tragedy the night before and was up early to see Eastlake.

CLUES UNEARTHED.
A bloodstained raincoat, identified as belonging to the nurse, and a revolver were found in a clump of bushes nearby. The hatchet was found in the Eastlake house and traces of blood were in the kitchen sink, indicating the murderers tried to wash away evidence.

Police said bloodspots were found on clothing worn by Miss Knox.
Neighbors testified that Mrs. Eastlake had been extremely nervous regarding alleged relations of her husband with the nurse.

The nurse asserts she saw a man running away from the house in the early dawn. She said she rushed in and found the body. The husband testified his wife prepared breakfast for him and was in good spirits

FOUR ARE SHOT IN KLAN BATTLE

Ku Klux and County Officers Clash in Texas.

WACO, Texas. — The "Empire Invisible" met the regularly constituted forces of the law in a gun battle at Lorena, near here Saturday and the casualties numbered four wounded.

Sheriff Bob Buchanan, who attempted to stop the scheduled Ku Klux Klan parade, and three of his deputies, were seriously wounded.
Three of the men were shot and the fourth was stabbed in the breast.

This was the first contact between the Klan and the law and order forces which have threatened to stop their activities.

The battle broke out when Sheriff Buchanan's orders to the Klan-men not to parade were ignored, after a conference lasting one hour and 30 minutes. The Klansmen formed a line and swung into the fight. More than 500 men were seen in the column. As it swung into sight a shot was fired.

PRICES OF MEAT ON DOWN GRADE IN OHIO
COLUMBUS. — Meat prices in Ohio have begun to drop, reports Saturday from the largest cities showed.

Reductions of approximately ten percent in wholesale prices were noticeable in Cleveland, Toledo, Akron and Cincinnati in the last ten days, advices here said today. The most noticeable cut was in beef.

Pork remained practically steady.
Cleveland reported western beef a drug on the market at 10 to 15 cents a pound as compared with 14 to 16 cents ten days ago. Veal followed beef, lamb now selling for 35 cents retail, a drop of five cents.
Toledo reported beef at 13 1/2 cents ten days ago, against ten cents today, with wholesale pork prices steady.

STATE HIGHWAY HEAD PROMISES PRESENCE AT MARION ROAD MEET

Leon C. Herrick has announced his intention of attending the meeting of the directors of the Harding Highway association, scheduled to be held in Marion, October 18.

In a letter to J. Kennard Johnson, secretary of the highway association, received Saturday, Herrick stated that he will be present at the meeting, and has instructed district highway engineers in charge of the five counties to attend.

Five hundred signs for marking the highway will be distributed at the meeting, each county getting its proportionate share.

RAIL UNION IS HIT BY SENATOR

Will be Wiped Out if Strike Comes, He Declares.

WASHINGTON. — The American people will wipe the railroad unions "from the face of the earth" if they carry out their threat to tie up the transportation system with a general strike, Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, declared Saturday in the senate.

Nelson's attack came during consideration of the tax bill and drew a hot reply from Senator Heflin, of Alabama.

TIERED OF THREATS
"I'm getting tired of these threats," declared Nelson, referring to the strike vote of the Railway Trainmen.

"I do not know but that it would be a good thing for the country, if these railroad men should start a strike. Let the people realize that they will be deprived of their food and fuel. If the employees embark on such a strike, I venture the prediction that the American people will rise in their might and wipe them from the face of the earth."

LABOR BLAMED
Nelson said the delay in industrial revival in the country was due to the attitude of organized labor to refuse to come down to reasonable wages and a reasonable basis of employment.

For this reason, he said, millions of men who might be working are idle today.

Senator Heflin, of Alabama, replying to Nelson, said that labor should not be deprived of the right to strike "unless capital is deprived of the right to reduce labor's pay to starvation wages."

He charged that Republican party was "trying to crucify labor" at the demand of Wall-st.

LIMA MAN SELLS BIG OIL LEASE HOLDINGS

Oil bearing leases held by Perl Feltz, Lima, and M. J. McGarrity, Bellevue, Pa., in the Hainesville, Iowa field were purchased by the Gulf Refining company, Houston.
It was announced Saturday. Consideration was given as $40,000.

Feltz and McGarrity secured the leases recently and came north to interest oil men here in their proposition. The deal with the Gulf Refining company was closed after negotiations which have been pending for two weeks past.

Flowing wells have been drilled on all sides of the lease sold, it is claimed.

Feltz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Feltz, 211 S. Cole-st.

MERCHANTS TURN PROFIT TO JOBLESS

Plan Adopted by Business Men to Wipe Out Unemployment

SELLING AT COST

Object of Move Is to Revise Industry and Create New Trade

(By HAROLD D. JACOBS)
NEW YORK. — American merchants have initiated a system of "no profit" sales to revive industry in general and help wipe out unemployment.

The movement, started by a Brooklyn concern, has begun to sweep over the country. It was learned Saturday night. It has already received the endorsement of public officials and is being studied by President Harding's unemployment conference.

Under this new plan, merchants are throwing millions of dollars worth of commodities on the market at exactly the price the goods cost them, not even charging for the expense of handling.

BENEFITS POINTED OUT In doing this, they declare they are losing hundreds of thousands of dollars in profits, but are reaping these benefits:

Speeding up industry by increased production for replacement of goods sold.

Decreasing unemployment thru resultant new business for manufacturers in addition to forcing wholesalers and retailers to use larger sales forces.

Restoring confidence in the business situation.

Bringing large sums of money into circulation.

"An important aspect of these 'no profit' sales is that they are not old goods, bought at high prices, which have laid on the merchants' shelves, but are being purchased right now for the sole purpose of releasing commodities which have clogged the country's warehouses," Herman Neanderland, originator of the plan, declared.

SALES FORCE INCREASED
"Of course, it means that the regular stocks of merchandise will remain practically idle while this special merchandise is being liquidated. But we feel the emergency needs this rather spectacular remedy."

"Then, too, American merchants made good profits during the war.
Why should they be willing to share some of these with their customers and the jobless now?"

Neanderland is connected with A.
J. Naum and Son, Brooklyn merchants, who were the first to put the plan into effect. They purchased $500,000 worth of new goods, which they will put on sale next week and which, they say, will cost them at least $150,000 to move, exclusive of the profits they will lose on the older stocks. This one concern alone will increase their sales force by at least 300 persons.

PAINTING IS IDENTIFIED
LONDON. — One of the best examples of fine art of Van Dyck, famous painter, has been discovered in King's college. It had been hanging on a wall there and had not been identified until taken down to be cleaned.

ARBUCKLE'S HOUSEKEEPER QUIZZED

Katherine Fitzgerald, housekeeper for Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, screen comedian, is one of the witnesses in the federal liquor investigation which outgrew Arbuckle's arrest in San Francisco, after the death of Virginia Rappe. She is said to have been questioned concerning the "cellar" of Arbuckle's Los Angeles home, over which she presides.

FIRE TAKES TOLL OF $1,000,000

Pier and Freight Cars Swept at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — Fire swept thru Pier Number 9 of the Erie railroad here Saturday, destroying freight cars, setting fire to tugs and causing damage amounting to more than $1,000,000.

Combined land and water fire fighting forces from New Jersey and New York fought the spectacular blaze for over five hours, before it was under control.

Flames and smoke were discovered bursting from the pier, which was the oldest along the water front, late today, and a general alarm was sent in for fire boats and engines to prevent the fire from spreading to other piers and freight trains on adjoining tracks.

Eight freight cars, loaded with leather, were totally destroyed and the ensuing clouds of smoke made the firemen's task the most difficult.

Little effort was made to save Pier Number 9 itself, two barges, away to safety from the end of the pier.

Two heavy explosions, believed to have been due to gasoline tanks on the pier, punctuated the lengthy blaze, which finally burnt itself out after the safety of the adjoining docks had been secured.

There were no casualties.

HIGHWAYMAN WORKS NEAR THE SQUARE

Police Fail to Get Clues to Thugs Who Take Clothing and Jewelry

OFFICER IS VICTIM

Juvenile Official Loses Property—Boldness Displayed by Yegg

Butglars and second story workers operating in the exclusive west end residence district Saturday night entered three homes, ransacked bureaus and dressers and escaped with clothing and jewelry.

A lone footpad waylaid a pedestrian within a stones throw of the heart of Public Square and forced him to turn over his money and valuables.

All of the houses robbed were entered between the hours of 8:30 and 10 p. m. Residents were not attached. The homes were those of Dr. Shelby Mummaugh, 1025 W. Market-st.; Frank Chapman, juvenile court officer, 803 W. Spring-st. and A. D. Swinshart, decorator, 328 W.
Spring-st.

The fact that all of the houses are within a short distance of each other leads the police to believe that they were robbed by the same gang.

ENTER OVER FORCE
At the home of Dr. Mummaugh, the thieves failed to obtain entry on the lower floor, scaled a porch and climbed in thru an open window which was lowered from the top.

The sleeping rooms on the second floor were ransacked, the police state, and a number of articles of apparel, including several shirts taken. Dr. Mummaugh also reported a number of articles of jewelry missing. The loss will amount to about $100.

Frank Chapman lost a cameo ring and a cameo pin.

A few doors down the street, the home of A. D. Swinshart was broken into and a cameo ring, a brooch and a number of other rings taken. The police had no knowledge of how an entrance was obtained.

LOSS MAY INCREASE.
Officers were sent to the scene to investigate, but they failed to find trace of the robbers. Many other articles other than those enumerated, may be missing, it is believed when the owners have finished taking an inventory of their belongings.

When W. H. Fisher, cigarmaker, stepped out of the Manhattan cafe into the alley at midnight a hold-up man was waiting at the corner of a shed. The man relieved Fisher of $225.00 in cash.

"Hand over your watch and money, and be fast about it." The bandit commanded gruffly.

A revolver was sloved in his stomach, Fisher stated and he was forced to give up his money.

"Now highball," ordered the man,
when he had pocketed the money.

DEMAND MORE PAY, Mine Workers Seek General Increase in Wages.

INDIANAPOLIS. — Higher wages will be sought by union coal miners when they meet the operators in conference and no reductions will be countenanced, the United Mine Workers convention decided Saturday night.

Without a dissenting vote the miners adopted the report of Vice-President Phillip Murray taking a determined stand for increased wages. The question of wages will be left in the hands of the wage committee which will formulate and report to a reconvened convention next February.

By adopting Murray's report, however, the convention virtually instructed the committee to demand a general increase.

It is presumed that the union will also demand a six-hour work day and five day week.

DAN CUPID LAGS IN HIS SEPTEMBER RECORD

There was a remarkable falling off in the number of marriage licenses issued in September of this year, as against September of last year. The unemployment condition is blamed for the deficit.

Dan Cupid had 68 licenses and six banns to his credit in September last year. In the past month just 47 licenses were issued and four banns.
A deficit of one-third the number issued last year is noticeable.

LEGISLATORS ARE FLOCKING IN

Solons Return to Wash'gton For Real Work.

OHIOANS ON DECK EARLY

Senator Pomerene Fights Seating of Newberry.

WASHINGTON.—(Special)—Ohio members of Congress are flocking back to Washington over the week-end, prepared to take up on Monday morning the first serious legislative work since the recess.

The House convened with the Senate on September 21, but the latter branch has merely been marking time while the Senate considers the revenue bill, the railroad refund bill, the peace treaties and other important measures.

Tomorrow (Monday) the House will agree upon a program and administration leaders are expected to give the right of way to selected measures, including the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill, pending the passage of the revenue and railroad refunding bills by the Senate.

Among the Ohio congressmen who are already at their desks in Washington are Representatives John L. Cable, Lima; Murr C. Norton, Cleveland; Edwin D. Ricketts, Logan; John S. Speaks, Columbus; and Nicholas Longworth, Cincinnati.

Representative John G. Cooper, Youngstown, is expected Monday after an absence of about two months in his district. Representative R. G. Fitzgerald, Dayton; Representative C. L. Knight, Akron, and Representative James T. Begg, Sandusky, are also due here early this week.

Representative Begg addressed a Chamber of Commerce meeting at White Plains, N. Y., Thursday night, returning to Sandusky for a few days before coming on to Washington. Representative Simon D. Pess, Yellow Springs, and Representative Theodore E. Burton, Cleveland, are expected by the middle of the week. Representative Pess is to speak at Zanesville Monday evening.

The Senate this week had under consideration an amendment to the present law granting exemption from the corporation income tax to building and loan associations, vitally affecting 1,250,000 members in Ohio.

Hundreds of telegrams have been received by Ohio members of Congress this week from associations in nearly every city in the state, protesting against any change in the present law.

Lima concerns which protested against the amendment early this week, thru letters and telegrams to Senator Pomerene, include: The Citizens' Loan and Building Company, L. A. Feltz and the Lima Home and Savings association, Harry M. Steman, secretary.

Senators Pomerene and Willis moved last Tuesday to defer consideration of the amendment and the matter will not be definitely disposed of until the bill comes up for final passage.

As the revenue laws now stand, "domestic building and loan associations operated exclusively for the purpose of making loans and without profit" are exempt from the corporation income tax. The Treasury Department under a recent ruling is attempting to collect an income tax from concerns which it claims are actually doing a banking business, under the guise of operating as a building and loan association. As it passed the House, the new revenue bill exempts only "domestic building and loan associations, operated exclusively for the purpose of making loans to members." The Senate bill rejects the House amendment and changes the existing law by exempting "domestic building and loan associations, substantially all the business of which is confined to making loans to members."

Senator Pomerene in a speech in the Senate this week declared that the Ohio building and loan associations are now involved in litigation under the present law in an effort to prevent the Treasury Department from denying them exemption.

Senator Willis also spoke on the amendment.

"In our state we have the largest building and loan association business in the world," Senator Willis said. "We have a very peculiar situation in Ohio. The law governing our building and loan associations is somewhat different from the law of any other state. As I understand this provision, as it now stands, not only will it operate as a discrimination against certain of our building and loan associations, but it also strikes with peculiar force all the building and loan associations in Ohio to a much greater extent than it will those of any other state in the Union. I know of communities in Ohio where practically all the homes have been built through the operations of the building and loan associations."

Senator Willis declared he would favor the House amendment in the present law is changed by Congress. Senator Pomerene asked that action be delayed until the interests affected could be heard further on the question.

Ohioans took a prominent part this week in the President's Unemployment Conference which is meeting in Washington under the direction of Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

James A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, was selected as chairman of the Committee on Unemployment statistics but declined. He was then offered the chairmanship of the Committee on Emergency Measures by Manufacturers, but refused in favor of another Ohioan, W. H. Stockhouse, of Springfield, president of the National association of Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers. A former Youngstown business man, Henry M. Robinson, now of Los Angeles, acted as chairman of the committee on organization and is taking an active part in the conference. Senator P. Halle, Bascom Little, W. S. Carter, John A. Panton, all of Cleveland, E. M. Poston of Columbus and W. C. Proctor of Cincinnati are the other Ohioans attending the conference.

The minority report, filed this week by Senator Pomerene of Ohio, recommending that the Senate de-

HOW FRIENDLY LONDON MOBBED CHARLIE CHAPLIN

London's greeting to Charlie Chaplin was like the victorious home-coming of a conquering hero. Tens of thousands of Londoners packed streets for blocks, as he made his way from Waterloo station in an automobile surrounded by mounted police and detectives. This picture shows a small part of the throng that welcomed the comedian. Arrow indicates Chaplin in light suit. For days he was given police protection against friendly mobbing, whenever he ventured from his hotel.

There vacant the seat of Senator Truman H. Newberry, Michigan, because of alleged irregularities in his primary and election, was one of the most bulky volumes ever submitted in a Senate election investigation.

Senator Pomerene remained in Washington for ten days following adjournment, in order to complete the report. He returned from Canton early last week and induced Senator King, Utah, and Senator Ashurst, Arizona, both Democrats, to join in the minority report.

The Pomerene report is expected to give rise to a bitter partisan fight in the Senate. A majority of the Republicans, including Senator Willis of Ohio, it is understood will vote to adopt the majority report which recognizes Newberry's right to his seat in his minority report. Senator Pomerene charges that "corrupt and illegal methods and practices were employed at the primary election" and that Senator Newberry "violated the corrupt practices act and the primary act of the State of Michigan, and that by reason thereof he ought not to have or hold a seat in the Senate of the United States."

Action on Senator Willis' anti-medical beer bill was postponed indefinitely when administration leaders decided to give the revenue bill and the peace treaties prior consideration in the Senate.

Senator Willis has letters and telegrams on file from "dry" leaders and organizations in nearly every county of Ohio, demanding that the Senate dispose of the bill promptly. The House has already acted, the Ohio members with the exception of Longworth and Stephens of Cincinnati, supporting the bill.

Senator Willis has announced that he will press for the consideration of the bill in the Senate as soon as the tax bill is disposed of.

On his return to Washington Monday, Representative John G. Cooper, Youngstown, was a member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, the Ohio members were to move to report the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill from committee.

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice-chairman of the Republican national committee, Mrs. Guy Mallon, chairman of the Ohio League of Women Voters, and other Ohio women have written their congressmen asking that the bill be passed during the present special session. Hearings were held by the House on Monday before the recess, but the committee has not voted to report the bill. The measure passed the Senate early last summer carrying an appropriation of $1,400,000 for a campaign to disseminate information concerning maternal and infant hygiene.

Harry O. Bentley, attorney of Lima, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black, Lima, were Washington visitors this week, calling on Representative John L. Cable at his office. Blue "B" is a member of the Lima Savings Bank, is monitoring the bill and left here for New York.

OHIO FEDERATION NEWS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

Delegates to the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in Cincinnati the week of October 23 should make their hotel reservations as early as possible. Mrs. Jessie Fox, chairman of the convention, has a block of rooms at the hotel. Some of the hotels are already beginning to fill up. Wherever it is not inconvenient to do so, delegates are asked by Mrs. Fox to share rooms with others. Three or four delegates from the same town may have a room accommodating them, with single beds. All hotels are within a block of one another with the exception of two and there are only two to four blocks from official headquarters and the convention hall. Write to any of the following hotel for reservations: Gibson, official headquarters; Simon, Haylin, Mrs. Fox, Grand, Palace and Emory. Mrs. Fox, the hotel chairman, is furnished a copy of each letter asking for reservation from the hotel managers. Accommodations in private homes can be procured if preferred. For such accommodations write to Mrs. M. L. Kirkpatrick, Upland place, Cincinnati.

LECTURE COURSE AT LIMA. Arrangements for a lecture course to be given at the High School auditorium the week of November 14 have been made by the library committee of the Lima federation. Miss Jessie Ackerman, writer and traveler, will be the speaker. Her first lecture will be on "Psychology of Mobs." Others include "China," "South America" and a "New World."

CHAIRMAN OF MUSIC NAMED. Miss Emma Roeder, Park-ave. Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, has been appointed chairman of music for the big Cincinnati convention. The appointment was made by Mrs. Kenmore Dunham, general chairman of the Queen City gathering.

HARDING TO ISSUE JOB APPEAL

Will Put Unemployment Situation to Mayors.

WASHINGTON.—President Harding will make a personal appeal next week to governors, mayors, labor and capital leaders to put into effect at once the emergency recommendations of the national unemployment conference for relieving unemployed.

The appeal will be framed by President Harding and Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Fate of the government drive to end widespread unemployment over the nation rests primarily in the hands of state and city authorities. Success or failure of the movement officials here agreed, depends upon the governors and mayors act on the appeal to be sent them by Harding.

The president's appeal probably will be issued at the White House Tuesday. In it the president is expected to tell state and local executives that the nation looks to them as the "leaders" in the uplift march and that "whole-hearted response" on their part is expected.

The appeal also will review the recommendations of a conference which met upon each community to coordinate a local emergency board which shall:

- 1. Establish free employment agencies.
- 2. Take stock regularly of the number of unemployed.
- 3. Coordinate and direct all charitable and relief work.
- 4. Speed up public works to the fullest extent compatible with the public need.

THREE SPIES ESCAPE

PARIS.—Police all over France are searching for Paul Courrier, German spy serving in the trenches, who escaped with two other spies. Duplicate keys and a rope ladder were used.

LEAGUE URGES WORLD NOT TO INCREASE ARMS

GENEVA.—The assembly of the League of Nations Saturday unanimously adopted Lord Robert Cecil's resolution, urging nations not to increase armament budgets during the next two years.

M. Noblesse, of France, in a masterly address to the assembly, explained that France could not disarm until the duel in Germany between the peace party and the "revenge" party had been settled.

Paul Hymans of Belgium and H. A. L. Fisher, of England, announced that their governments were solidly behind France in this attitude. Fisher said France and Britain recently had differed on many points, but that there was no division on the proposition of maintaining the peace of Europe and the world.

RABBIT BREEDERS PLAN FOR SHOW IN NOVEMBER

Premium lists for the annual show of the Lima Rabbit Breeders Association will be issued this week. It was announced Saturday by E. A. Emslen, secretary.

Dates for the show, which will be the largest held in the country, aside from the Baltimore exhibit are November 23 to 27 inclusive. The Ohio Breeders' association will meet in Lima during the event. The show will be held in Memorial Hall, it is announced.

Regular meeting of the Lima association will be held Monday. Final plans will be perfected at that time.

FUNERAL SERVICES PRIVATE.

Private funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. at the residence for Almond Edward Shuster, 51, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shuster, 1122 Hughes-ave. Rev. A. Beck, pastor of Second-st. Methodist church, and Rev. L. E. Wingert of the church of God, will officiate. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

HAIR NIPPER CAUGHT

CHATHAM, Eng.—Police believe they have the man who has cut off the hair of eight girls here, in the case of William A. Wright, a sailor. Wright denies knowledge of these acts.

BATTLE IS STAGED FOR PRESIDENT

Harding Views Sham Fight of 5,000 Marines.

WITH PRESIDENT HARDING AT WILDERNESS RUN, Va.—Under the eyes of the commander-in-chief of the fighting forces of the United States, 5,000 marines late Saturday staged a thrilling sham battle on the historic Wilderness battle ground of the Civil War, 15 miles from Fredericksburg, Va.

BIG GUNS IN ACTION.

President Harding stood on a knoll, within sight of General Lee's headquarters, while artillery roared, machine guns and rifles cracked and marines swept by him to their objective. Field glasses in hand, the president watched the Fifth marines go into battle in skirmish formation and then with full-throated cry, carry on over the broken ground to the enemy stronghold.

A baby tank lumbered past the president and across the cornfields, mopping up the "enemy." Hand grenades made jagged holes where the artillery shells were supposed to strike.

AIR BOMBING TEST.

Machine guns spluttered a continuous fire all around Harding and during the action a .75 millimeter gun rolled up within 15 yards of where he stood, firing volleys of "blanks" at the "enemy" machine gun nests across the valley.

They went a quarter of a mile to watch the maneuvers.

Following the infantry action, a squadron of airplanes staged a spectacular bombing test and anti-aircraft guns directed blank shells at the planes. A night bombing demonstration was scheduled for Saturday night.

The official party is housed in seven tents, the president's being the largest.

AUTO COMPANY SUED FOR $30,000 DAMAGES

ELYRIA.—Suit was filed here Saturday against the White Automobile Company totalling $30,000 by Emma and William C. Passenow, of Elyria, in common pleas court.

Mrs. Passenow in petition says that on May 6, 1920, she was riding in an automobile driven by her husband. She said a caravan of White motor trucks passed them when one truck collided with their machine. She said she was cut and bruised and severely injured to the amount of $20,000.

Passenow in a separate petition alleges he sustained injuries amounting to $10,000.

CHILD'S ARM BROKEN IN FALL FROM PORCH

Fishing in imaginary water from the porch of his home, 339 S. Pierce st., proved costly for Dicky Bowman, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Bowman, Saturday.

Dicky and a little girl companion had no more than baited their hooks until Dicky took a tumble from the porch to the ground below. In the fall, his left arm was broken between the wrist and elbow.

Dicky is reported resting easily at his home.

AMBULANCE REMOVALS CITY UNDERTAKING COMPANY

Mrs. V. H. Shaffer, 342 S. Jackson st. to City hospital. Mrs. Ernest Gossard, City hospital to the Erie station, en route to her home in Alger.

SIFERD, Mrs. Jesse Gellan, St. Rita's hospital to her home in W. High st.

JUST RESTING!

Miss Ida Schnall's athletic prowess has won her nine cups and ten medals. How? Oh, basketball, baseball, track and field sports, swimming, diving. She's probably the champion all-round woman athlete of America. Here she is "resting" at Atlantic City.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEF IS RELEASED ON BOND

James Lechleitner, 20, held to the grand jury on charge of stealing an automobile belonging to A. S. Weinfield, obtained his release on $1,000 bond Saturday noon.

Walter Hogan, 17, of 870 W. Brice-ave, who is alleged to have driven the car from this city to Ottawa, was arraigned in juvenile court Saturday and was released on his own recognizance. He will be tried Tuesday.

Both boys were intoxicated when they took the car from in front of the A. S. Weinfield.

It was their intention, according to Lechleitner to return the car, but they had a joy ride.

DEATH SUMMONS COMES TO MRS. JOHN STYER

Mrs. Martha Ella Styer, 68, who had been ill for two years, died Saturday afternoon, from cancer. She was the wife of John Styer, E. Fourth st.

Mrs. Styer is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters. Children are W. H. Styer, R. F. D. No. 6, Lima and E. J. Styer, 1230 E. Elm st.; Mrs. G. W. Graham, R. F. D. No. 6, Lima; and Mrs. J. O. Critchfield, 826 Michael-ave.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m., at the Second-st. Methodist church. The Rev. O. E. Smith, Cradersville, will officiate. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

TRAIN RUNS AWAY

SYDNEY, Australia.—After the first locomotive of a "double header" pulling a train on the steep Tumutella incline had lost its power, the "pusher" lost control of the brakes and the train rolled down hill. It stopped by smashing into another train, but no one was hurt.

PLANS MADE FOR PEACE PARLEY

British-Irish Political Turmoil Gives Way to Calm.

LONDON.—The political turmoil raging for weeks over the Irish peace negotiations gave way Saturday night to a peaceful calm.

Both government and Irish leaders were confident smiles. There will be no further activity, until after the peace conference is called in London October 11, and the two parties begin to discuss out their difficulties over a mahogany table instead of behind machine guns.

Preparations for the conference were begun by both parties immediately after the receipt of Eamonn De Valera's acceptance. There seemed to be a relief that Sinn Fein is willing to concede some of the points which have postponed the conference. There was also an official expression of opinion that Lloyd George has a new home rule plan that will meet the demands of the Irish.

There was no official announcement of the selection of delegates, but it was believed the conference would be composed of Sir Henry Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland; Lord Chancellor Birkenhead; Sir Leming Worthington-Evans, secretary for war; Home Secretary Short; Winston Churchill, colonial secretary—as the British delegation, and:

Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins, commander of the Irish republican army and minister of finance in the cabinet; Robert C. Barton, members of parliament; Eamonn Duggan, M. P. and George G. Duffy, Sinn Feil foreign minister—as the representative of De Valera.

FUNERAL OF ACCIDENT VICTIM

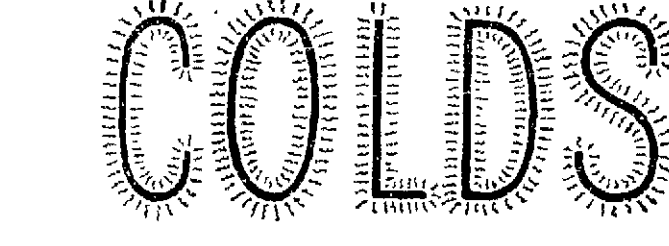

Funeral services to Oliver Denfield, 11, who was instantly killed by a Baltimore & Ohio Switch engine at the Findlay-st. crossing Saturday morning, will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the First Christian church. The Rev. E. A. Watkins, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in St. Matthew's Lutheran cemetery, Shawnee-tp.

THIN, FADED HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE" TO THICKEN IT

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the root, invigorates and strengthens the hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.

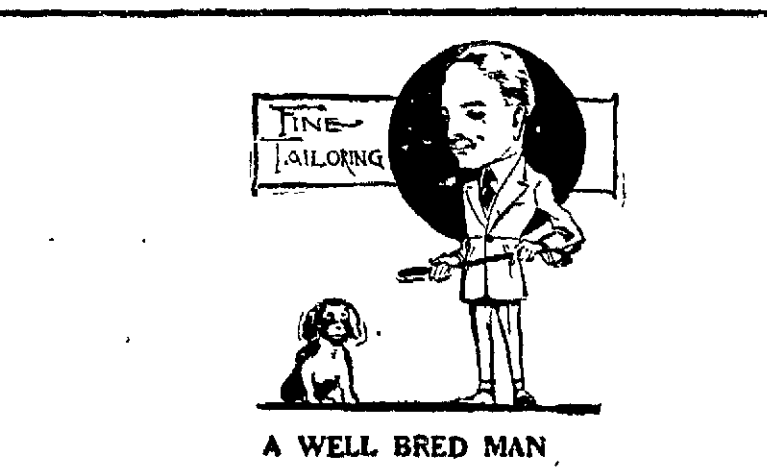

Girls! Girls! Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin scraggy. A single application of delightful Danderine will double the beauty and radiance of your hair and make it look twice as abundant.—Adv.

FISK TO CONDUCT INSTITUTE HERE

Merchandising Expert Comes For Series of Meetings.

SESSIONS LAST FIVE DAYS

Movement Fostered by Merchants' Association.

Three evening lectures in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, two evening lectures in the high school auditorium, one afternoon meeting for the women of the city in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium and two luncheons at the Argonne hotel, comprise the series of meetings that will be given to the merchants of Lima this week by James W. Fisk, one of the leading merchandising experts of the country.

Fisk comes to Lima to direct a merchants' institute, under the supervision of the Merchants' Association. The series of lectures will not only be given for the benefit of merchants of this city and their employees, but an invitation is extended by the members of the Lima Merchants' Association to the retailers of any of the surrounding towns, to attend any of the sessions.

The program of the week as arranged by Fisk is as follows: Monday at 8 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Fisk will speak on "Finding the Weak Spots in Your Business."

In the talk Fisk will tell of his work in some of the larger stores of the country, such as Lord & Taylor, New York City, showing a definite analysis for looking for conditions that should be corrected.

Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Fisk will address the women in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on the subject: "What Women Can Do to Make Shopping More Satisfactory."

BUYING AT HOME: A talk on buying-at-home, a strong appeal for patronizing local stores. An explanation from the merchants' viewpoint of many causes of complaint, so as to secure the sympathy and toleration of the public regarding service. A forceful presentation of the returned goods habit. C. O. D. delivery, over-due accounts and other problems for the solution of which the co-operation of the public is essential. An analysis of local needs and wishes in merchandise and service, made with the assistance of the audience.

Tuesday evening Fisk will speak in the High School auditorium to sales people and merchants on "How to Sell."

This will not be the usual theoretical talk on salesmanship that deals in such generalities as courtesy and industry. It presents actual brass-tack facts on how to sell. It takes the sale in pieces and shows why success in selling is not a matter of chance. It explains a plan used by many of the best metropolitan stores, a plan that means more sales and better service at a lessened percentage of cost to the store. It is not an experiment.

Wednesday noon at a luncheon for merchants in the Argonne Hotel Fisk will talk on "How to Get People into the Store."

This talk covers advertising; how to lay out an ad, what to advertise, what to say and how to say it and how to map out a complete advertising campaign. It also takes up the essentials of window trimming and shows how to judge the sales-producing power of show windows. It shows how to make personal, printed and window display advertising work together. This talk will be followed by such discussions as the merchants may wish.

CUTTING COSTS Wednesday evening the merchants will meet in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to hear Fisk's address on "Cutting the Cost of Doing Business."

This shows the merchant by simplified time saving systems how he can have the details of his business at his finger ends all the time; what other stores have done to reduce costs; how turn-over affects profits; how to keep stocks and sales up. It is a blackboard talk and the usual mistakes made by retailers are clearly showing by having the audience work out the problems.

Thursday evening, Fisk will again speak in the High School auditorium on "Helping the Goods Sell Themselves." This lecture will be for sales people and merchants.

This shows how to arrange the store so that the goods will sell easily; how to trim showcases, counters and ledges; how to learn the selling points of merchandise; what to say to different kinds of customers; how to demonstrate the goods; information that is certain to make each employee more valuable to his employer.

Friday noon at a luncheon for merchants at the Argonne Hotel, Fisk will speak on "Credit and Collections."

How to grant credit, where and how to get the necessary information about an applicant, how to keep records of accounts due, how to make daily comparisons of credits allowed and collections, how to get money and keep the customers, how merchants may co-operate in credit affairs.

FAILURE OF COOPERATION The final lecture of the series will be delivered before the merchants at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Friday at 8 p. m. Fisk will speak on "What Co-operation Can Do for Stores."

During the week, Fisk will visit the store of any merchant registered in the institute who may wish this service and go over with him any matters on which he might like the opinion of an impartial experienced outsider. This service will be made as intensive as the merchant wishes. In addition to the above, any merchant will have the privilege of writing Fisk at any time on any retail problem and if he cannot give an answer offhand, it will be referred to his business advisory committee, made up of the best informed men in the country in each line of business, who have offered their services to help the cause of retailing in general. The best business brains of the country are thus available to the retailers thru the institute.

Silks!—Crepes!

When one says silks, this season, it is understood that they mean crepes—for is not crepe, the one material of the season? And when one thinks of crepes, they should think of Blum's, for we are carrying very complete selection of crepes this Fall in the new shades. You will find only fine qualities here.

Crepe backed satin, the newest combination material of the season, in the 40-inch width, at $4.00 and $6.00 per yard.

Crepe de chine, in trimming colors, and the shades for frocks too. It is 40 inches wide, and is priced at $2.00 to $4.00.

Duvelyn 36 inches wide, a material that is very suitable for one piece dresses. All the Autumn shades $5.50 yard.

Snow Crepe, a material that resembles duvelyn, but is finer in weave, much used for tailored frocks, at $6.00 yard.

Charmeuse, in both the plain and crepe backed qualities, a popular material, 36 and 40 inches wide, at $3.00 to $5.50 per yard.

Chinchilla satin, and roshanara crepe, for heavy-tailored dresses. An unusual quality. 40 inches wide, at $6.00 and $6.00 a yard.

Canton crepe, in both the plain and satin finishes, the very finest qualities, at prices that are low in comparison. $4.00 and $4.50 a yard.

Woolen Materials!

When you are wanting woolen materials for frocks, suits, coats, or children's wear; when you wish the finest quality for a reasonable price, the Blum woolen department is the place to shop for them. We are carrying a full line of tricotines, serges, skirtings, coatings, and all the various other ones of the season. And you will find that we always have the unusual at the usual moderate price.

Storm serge, mostly used for children's wear. A very heavy durable quality. 36 and 54 inches wide, at $1.25 and $1.75 a yard.

French serge, of the finest quality. Of course you will find it in the shade you want and at the unusually low price of $2.00 to $4.50 a yard.

When you are looking for the finer grade of materials for finer frocks, etc., a glance through the following will help you to settle the question:

Tricotine, $3.00 to $9.00 yard.

Poirot twills from $2.50 to $5.00.

Picquettine, 54 inches wide, at $7.00 a yard.

Milnetto, 54 inches wide, at $9.00 a yard.

Kittens ear broadcloth, at $15.00 a yard.

Broadcloth in trimming shades, also in the 5 inch width, at $4.00 and $6.00 per yard.

Coatings— 52 to 56 inches wide, Gerone, Veldyne, Marvella, Peach Bloom, Novelty cloth, and others, all strictly all wool. The prices are $5.00 to $12.00.

SMART COATS—

For Kiddies From 6 to 14 Years

When one arrives at the age of six years and starts to school, they must be considered much more than before. And when winter comes, with the necessity for a new coat, they must be clothed just as attractively as their older sister. Our line of Printzess coats for Juniors is very complete, and the styles are very attractive. They range in size from 6 to 14 years, and the materials, tailoring, styling, and every other feature, are as well done as the famous Printzess garments for women. Bring your kiddie here for her new Winter coat. The styles will please her and the price will please you.

Suits—

The Autumn mode in suits

Our showing of the new suit models by Printz holds dominant interest for the woman who appreciates true tailored style. All the beautiful nuances of fashion, all the fine points of the mode are observed—and yet without extreme effects.

Some of the new ideas of suit design are particularly chic.

Fur continues unabated in popularity as a finish for the fall suit, while rich embroidery gives an artistic touch. Materials high in favor are twill-cord, tricotine and the softer fabrics such as Duvel de Laine.

For women and for misses, the range of style is comprehensive—from elaborate, fur-trimmed models to plain tailored lines.

You will be delighted with this unusual collection, combining as it does distinction and value.

Coats—

Among the new coat models

Interpreting the new Parisian coat styles the Printz models attain special distinctiveness by the use of rich fall fabrics in a diversity of color tones, by a careful blending of the proper fur or garniture and by skilfully adapting the accepted silhouette to definite types.

The wrap-coats are original in design, featuring new lines and charming decorative touches. Equally attractive are the plainer coats for continuous service. Printzess tailoring emphasizing every detail of good workmanship greatly enhances the charm of style.

We are showing a large collection of models for the woman of mature years, the young matron, the slender miss and the girl of six to fourteen, and we suggest you see them at your earliest convenience.

Our Line of Printzess Garments is Now Very Complete

For this reason we urge you to come in now,—

MARSHALL WRITES GOOD THUNDER

It's Material For Democrats By a Republican.

HIS OPINION DIVIDES G. O. P.

Durbin Visits Lima—Fess Star Ascends—Politics.

(By J. W. FISHER)

By and large, the most disturbing thing that has come upon the G. O. P. horizon in Ohio since the election in November of 1920, is the dissenting opinion of Chief Justice Carring-ton T. Marshall of the Supreme court on the reorganization ripper emergency act.

Unconsciously, perhaps, Justice Marshall has produced a document of tremendous political significance. This is the conclusion that has followed wide publication of the decision, more space having been accorded it than had been given to a minority declaration of views of any Justice of the Ohio Supreme court in a great many years.

Marshall's decision has re-awakened interest in the emergency and may possibly make it the storm center of the canvass in Ohio for supremacy at the polls next year. There is no question whatever but that the Republican party is divided into two factions on the emergency issue, each of which will strive for supremacy, while the decision is hailed with consuming delight by the Democratic element, ready and eager to adopt it as a campaign document, although it was prepared by Chief Justice.

Marshall, whose allegiance to the G. O. P. has never been questioned. The minority report is of especial value to Senator John Frankin Burke of Elyria as a candidate for the Republican nomination of Governor. Burke has declared himself a candidate for the purpose of seeking vindication of his stand on the initiative and referendum. Thus, it may be expected that others will step forward to champion the cause, hence the rift in the party will doubtless widen.

When Senator Burke plead with his colleagues in the senate to stand by the constitution and repudiate the emergency clause, he was greeted with jeers. Burke asked for bread and was handed a stone. Then, when the party leaders met in reunion at Put-In-Bay, the shoe was on the other foot. The Burke star was in ascendency, because he had the manhood to stand firm for a principle in a crisis. Their latter day advances were met with the stony glare. His appeals to the party over the heads of the administration nettled Governor Davis and his cohorts.

Since Justice Marshall has taken a stand similar to that of the Elyria Senator, Burke will be more determined than ever to drive the issue straight to the party. He will very likely succeed, but it looks like a foregone conclusion that instead of helping himself, he'll be helping the Democratic party, just as the G. O. P. insurgents did when their party repudiated the tariff upward. In any event, whether Burke succeeds or fails in an effort to force his party to reverse itself on the referendum issue, the Democrats can and will capitalize the issue in the election of a Governor and state officers next year.

As the Republican candidates come out into the open, one by one they will likely be forced to declare themselves on the issue of upholding the General Assembly, Governor Harry L. Davis and the majority Judges of the Supreme court, or standing by the constitution. Justice Marshall did not design his minority opinion as a campaign document, but it is just that.

The battle next year will surge around Associate Justice Benson Hough of Delaware, who stands for renomination. He had the deciding vote on the ripper and cast it in behalf of sustaining the emergency law. Representative C. C. Crabbe, who aspires to be Attorney General, will also be affected by the ripper. Crabbe helped to whip his associates into line for the emergency clause of the ripper act. He is also the author of the famous, or infamous, Crabbe act on the liquor issue.

If the party stands for the Davis law next year and for sustaining the court, Crabbe is considered to be a logical candidate. But if the party decides to return to constitutional lines, he will likely be asked to withdraw, as being out of harmony with the party position. That the office of Attorney General is most of all a legal station, the inconsistency of his candidacy would thus be magnified.

Just as individuals pay finally for their sins, the G. O. P. stands to again pay dearly for its indiscretion and lack of foresight.

W. W. Durbin of Kenton and Columbus, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, was in Lima during the past week, attending the fourth annual convention of the Kiwanians of Ohio. He is the president of the Kenton club.

Aside from his interest in Democratic affairs of the state, Durbin is a manufacturer and possesses no small amount of ability as a politician. He is the owner of a private theatre, erected near his home in Kenton, where he entertains parties of his friends with feats of sleight of hand and legendariness.

His political enemies declare that Bill employs the same magic in manipulating political affairs that he uses in his theatre. But that's probably gossip. Bill is a likable person. He is easy to approach, speaks freely and candidly on any subject and never wavers in his support of the principles of the Democratic party.

He has enemies; every politician has, more or less. But Bill doesn't let his enemies worry him; not the least. He has been watching the whirling dervish doings of the Republican administration at Columbus and has treasured up a lot of things that will be employed at the proper time to demonstrate to the deer people of Ohio that their chosen officers have been running wild in legislation that costs a lot of money and that they have been playing football with the constitution.

Durbin's watchful eye also rests on Washington. He has secured possession of a picture of the President sitting serenely therein, probably taken while Warren G. was absent on a "week-end jaunt." No matter what anybody's estimate of Bill Durbin may be, the fact remains that he is a busy man and that he has little time to hate his enemies. He doesn't. He simply dismisses the matter from his mind and goes on saving wood—in business and in politics.

No matter if you do hate Bill politically, you'd have to like him personally, if you knew him.

Elections held during the past few days in New Mexico and in Massachusetts afford no "crumbs of comfort" for the Democrats. However, the situation in both states was out of the ordinary. A United States Senator and Congressman were elected from districts that are traditionally Republican without opposition, hence the "victory" the G. O. P. leaders prate about is merely what was expected under the circumstances.

In New Mexico Holm O. Dursum, Republican, was elected United States Senator in the place of Senator Fall, who resigned to go into the President's cabinet. He defeated R. H. Hanna in the state by something like 8,000 votes. The result is not surprising, considering New Mexico's record heretofore. It was believed that Dursum, who was appointed to step into Fall's shoes in the Senate when the latter resigned, might be slapped on the wrist for his action in voting to seat Truman Newberry of Michigan, under charges of having bought his way into office, but the folks in the southwestern state probably figured that "birds of a feather flock together" and let it go. That Massachusetts, always Republican, from dog catcher to Governor and United States Senator, reflected his position in the election of A. Platt Andrews, from the Sixth district, for Congress by something like 12,000 over Charles F. Pettibill, his Democratic opponent. Figures are not available to prove or disprove the assertion, but it is stated that in Massachusetts, the normal Republican majority was materially reduced.

Perhaps, too, in both states the voters approve of do-nothing Congress, a vacationing President and a general condition of unemployment, while the administration leaders pose for pictures and refuse and neglect to enact measures that will afford material relief from a condition that has been and still is intolerable. Election results in Massachusetts and New Mexico are not worrying the leaders of the party out of new.

They figure that when the fall does come, "it'll be all the harder. The direct charge of the League of Nations that munition makers are retarding disarmament because war is for them a lucrative business, has greatly peeved one T. Coleman Durbin, who solemnly insists that war is the last thing the munition makers want and that it usually means no profits for them.

You have a right to believe just as much, or little, of DuPont's statement as you like. But the absurdity of the thing is so manifest as to make it laughable. The profits of the DuPonts in 1914, 1915 and 1916 were the talk of the country.

And it is quite generally understood that the DuPonts were among the contributors to the propaganda fund against The League of Nations. If Congress is still in a mood for investigations, it might find it worth while to inquire into the activities of the ammunition factories of this country, before we entered the war and during the fight against The League of Nations.

Resolutions passed as "a lie" by the statement made by Ambassador George Harvey at the London dinner of the Plerim society, as to the reason for America's entrance into the war, were adopted by the convention of the South Carolina Department of the American Legion.

The resolutions request President Harding to recall Harvey and administer to him a public rebuke. Amendments seeking to inject the time honored adjective before the word "he" were defeated only after heated debate by the 300 delegates, who finally decided that the resolution would carry more weight if the adjective was omitted.

The sentiment among South Carolina Legionnaires is only a reflection of that felt among former service men and citizens generally everywhere in the United States.

It must be thoroughly patent to the President by this time that the sending of Harvey to the court of St. James was an egregious blunder.

The decision of the board of rivers and harbors engineers of the war department in refusing to approve the Great Lakes and Ohio River canal in Ohio and Pennsylvania is a severe blow to the hopes and aspirations of former Congressman B. F. Welby, who has been, since his retirement from Congress, in the employ of the Manufacturers' association of Cincinnati, to continue his efforts in behalf of the Miami & Erie as a ship canal.

The board, after an exhaustive examination, concluded that the Pittsburgh and Ashtabula route was the most feasible, but that the cost would be too great to insure its undertaking by the government. Army engineers examined the proposed Miami and Erie route, passing thru the western part of Allen Co., including a branch connecting with Lake Michigan. A channel 12 feet deep with a suitable width was proposed. The special board found that the Pittsburgh and Ashtabula route is the shortest and cheapest of construction.

The rivers and harbors report that it "is not convinced of the advisability of the United States undertaking the construction of any canal between Lake Erie and the Ohio river.

In addition to being the editor of the local paper in the village, the Windsor Herald, and holding down the job of postmaster, Colonel William G. Hoffer, former managing editor of the Wapakoneta News over in Auglaize Co., has been chosen by the Democratic party in his town as a candidate for mayor of the village.

The doughty Colonel expects to win, too, according to word that comes out of Windsor. He will be a poor sort of a candidate if he didn't. In these days parties are seeking men who have confidence in themselves. Too many men are elected to office who have shoestrings where a backbone is supposed to exist. Hoffer isn't in that class.

Possessing the courage of his convictions, the former Wapak editor fought for a cause he believes is right, even if a majority goes in the other direction.

George Stauffer of Ottawa at last has a "happy home" in politics. Banned about from pillar to post while United States Senator Francis Bartlett Willis and President Warren G. Harding were from out their citizenship a cover the patronage table, Stauffer waited patiently.

"All good things come to those who wait," George didn't get what he wanted, but that makes little difference. He has a job under the administration, so what's the diff? It's a job, with a salary and gives George an opportunity to shine.

By telegram, George was asked if he would accept the post of United States Marshal for northern Ohio. He "considered" it for a few days and then said yes. The Ottawa man immediately set about selecting his aides and arranged to reside in Toledo, altho the District headquarters is in Cleveland.

Then his name was sent to the Senate. So sure was George that his appointment would be confirmed that his plans for service were worked out before the Senate had an opportunity to consider it.

Charley Haskell first Governor of the state of Oklahoma, who went into southwest activities after a long-time residence in this part of Ohio, with Ottawas as his seat or operations, has gone back to Oklahoma from New York, where he resided for a number of years.

Haskell expects to remain permanently or is there only for a visit, isn't disclosed. Haskell is admired by the people of the southwest for the shrewd manner in which he presented the claims of Oklahoma for statehood.

At the time the demand went thru the claim was advanced that Oklahoma, the forty-sixth state to be admitted, was then the twenty-third state in population, fifth in railroads, second in oil and eighth in coal, wheat and corn. Haskell was president of the Oklahoma constitutional convention which brought order out of chaos.

Haskell is a Democrat and tells a New York newspaper that he knew President Harding as a country newspaper publisher, adding that the Marion man was noted for his conciliatory nature.

George D. Beaumont, former Lima man, born in recently as United States Marshal at Junction, Alaska, is a living example of the idea of watchful waiting.

Beaumont was a major with the signal corps overseas during the war and is also a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He arrived in Washington in March and determined to land the position in the far north. Displaying a form of patience that would do credit to the job of the public narrative, he finally landed the job after a six months' siege.

But is that respect, Beaumont hasn't a thing on a lot of other fellows who have been trying for jobs ever since the administration in Washington changed. And numerous of them haven't landed anything yet, altho they are in a position of willingness to take most any job offered, just so it will get them on the payroll.

Congressman John L. Cable is being flooded with letters from building and loan associations in the 4th Ohio district, protesting against the proposed tax law. The bill as it is drawn up does not state that the associations must be organized "exclusively" in making loans to members, but "substantially" all of their business must be with members.

Cable explains.

The internal revenue department issued an order in June, 1921, providing that building and loan associations are subject to the association tax only when the association borrows a large sum of money from non-members and then turns the sum to non-members. The number of non-members being disproportionate to the number of members.

Cable states that an "informal" mailing of the ruling of "substantial" is that from 75 to 90 per cent of the business of the association must be with members in order

BURKE DOES NOT FAVOR KNIGHT

Doughty Senator Cannot See Congressman as Governor.

REVIVE WAR ON EMERGENCY

Employees Must Wear Davis Label or be Fired.

COLUMBUS. — (Special.) — "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? Or, who shall stand in His holy place?"

"He that hath clean hands and a pure heart, who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

Our readers will, of course, instantly perceive that this quotation is lifted from the Psalms, say the twenty-fourth chapter, and almost as rapid will be their perception that something similar might be written of the fitness of certain individuals to lead a progressive movement in Ohio. Who "hath clean hands" in leading the battle against those who subverted the Constitution of Ohio? And who has not sworn deceitfully?

The friends of Senator John Franklin Burke, of Elyria, say that Congressman Charles Landon Knight of Akron does not fill the bill. They read him off the list this week as quite unworthy to ascend "into the hill," to use the Scriptural term. They bring several separate counts against him. So to the great regret of many legislative candidates, Senator Burke is not to be thwarted from his purpose of testing out the Republican party of Ohio by getting behind Mr. Knight and being satisfied with a more or less doubtful Congressional nomination to succeed the Akron man.

Not only acts of omission, but acts of commission, are charged against Mr. Knight, who will be arraigned before the people of Ohio for his deeds. One of the positive specifications against him is that he is somehow in league with Governor Harry L. Davis on matters of party management, some judicial selections and the picking of Rev. Howard S. MacAvoy as Director of Welfare under the reorganization ripper act, being mentioned. A second is the fact that Mr. Knight omitted from his paper, by design, it seems, all mention of the statement of Senator Burke at Put-in-Bay wherein the senator coiled on some worthy man to offer himself for examination before that imposing, if silent, group that is determined to "right the wrong," as Chief Justice C. T. Marshall expressed it, that was done to the Ohio referendum in the emergency act and in the majority decision. The acts of omission include a silence unbroken to this very hour on the betrayal of the people's rights and failure to say a word when all other newspapers, with only half a dozen exceptions, cried aloud in protest.

It is the view of Senator Burke, as his friends took care to show, that if Congressman Knight had or has a pure heart in reference to these things he has well succeeded in concealing said fact. It has been conceded quite the thing by his friends to make approaches to the senator for an endorsement, but no fruits meet for repentance have been brought forth, again to continue the Bible lesson of the morning. And Burke has considered that in times past those that "are not for me are against me." In the same way who is at liberty to dispose of other candidates and they in order are certain to come before him. The point that he has repeatedly made and the big point is that a progressive must be supported for the nomination for governor, whether Governor Davis seeks a second term or not. It was Knight, himself, who took himself out of the running, in case Davis asks for a second term, a thing that does not figure in Mr. Burke's plans. Yielding for the Governor's sake is indeed one of the counts against Mr. Knight and it may be said to dispose of a booklet that floated over Ohio and now seems to be floating into Limbo once more. Mr. Knight's merit was that he might be employed to head off Burke and if he wasn't good for that, he was good for nothing.

Burke with other puzzles. Some of them are easy. Many of the other candidates are committed to the Davis emergency program and hence cannot be regarded as likely to bid for the same sort of vote that he will seek. As to others, it is a bit different. One wonders what he will have to say regarding Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith who thinks that he, too, may ascend if not into the hill of the Lord, yet nevertheless on the referendum bill. The Secretary's claim rests on several different grounds which may be briefly enumerated as: His private advice against the emergency clause of the referendum bill; his willingness to aid in bringing the suit to the Ohio Supreme court, his opposition to a gerrymander by officials thru congressional sanction instead of with the approval of the people, his insistence upon fair and honest interpretation of the law and constitution with reference to election of delegates to the national convention last year. But are they sufficient? Or will Mr. Burke, too, rule him out on the ground that silence was aiding and abetting the Governor and that a real friend of the referendum should have spoken out? Whoever can he consider John H. Chester's defense that he (Chester) was against the emergency clause, but voted for it only because he wanted to be in "good fight position" to tear into the tax issue? "Who shall ascend into the hill?"

As for the referendum, its future despite the one glaring violation, never stood on firmer ground. The retreat of its enemies will be as disastrous as Napoleon's retreat from Moscow, if not as famous. It has already begun. And who is out in front leading it? None other than our friend, Hon. John G. Price, Attorney General for Ohio. Price did not quite realize that himself, but he has started the backward march early. He did it when in the Emergency Board sessions this week he began calling a halt on the "emergencies" that were being approved as fast as the roll could be called. Director of Finance Floyd E. Waite looked pained and grieved when the Price bolt was shot, thinking in his trusting way that as he is the Pooh-bah for all Ohio, there ought not to be any question raised by a mere elective Attorney General. But he could not wait to go ahead, seeing that Auditor of State J. E. Tracy, who was never mixed up in the referendum fuss, was not inclined to stand by him. And so the matter goes for a legal ruling and inconsistent as it may sound, to be made by the man who defended the right of the General Assembly to suspend the constitution because summers are hot and winters are cold; or some other such reason. Happy, lucky, John Price, the first to be back home after the great invasion of 1921!

But that isn't all. Only a day after the emergency matter, the esteemed Ohio Supreme court began to fall back, too, into what the German strategists were wont to call "prepared positions." They, too, are going hereafter to protect the referendum, if need be, with their lives. If present indications are any guide. The first chance the court had was on an initiative ordinance from Cincinnati, which the city resisted on the ground that rights of mere citizens have been suspended. The court quickly held that the voters cannot be blocked out from having their say in the matter under the Constitution of Ohio and the statutes thereunder. A new majority came into being. The irreconcilable three, Judges Marshall, Johnson and Wanamaker were joined by Judge James E. Robinson, while the reporter of the court set down Judges Hough, Jones and Matthias as not participating. Gradually, under the shades of night and what Judge Jones called, "public forgetfulness," the other three may crawl under the canvas. If people say that all the comedy of life is on the state, just tell them that it isn't true. Some courts of law and justice are still functioning!

Unlike his celebrated predecessor, Casey, Patrick F. "Pat" for short, was put out on a foul. He did not strike out. Not Casey! It was this way. Casey was asked out by Miss Rose Moriarty, the angel of sweetness and light in the Ohio Industrial Commission. Rose, whose appointment was so much undesired by both manufacturers and workmen, thought that Casey should have made good certain assertions which she made. Casey would not do it and so she waited the hour when she might have his political head on a platter. It came and now Casey is among the contingent for whom the clock struck on October 1, which is today. He has been actuary of the commission and a rattling good one, too. No fault is found with his work. However, that is not essential in these days. They can fire for anything, even $70 a month telephone girls being shunted out of the cold world in the midst of this unemployment, if they will not say they are Davis Republicans. It makes no difference whether they have dependents or not. That is not even considered. Clerks of all kinds were fired, turned out wholesale because Governor Davis wanted jobs. Casey went out on the same day that the liability insurance companies had to quit having a hand in the workmen's compensation business.

Some one can write an exceedingly interesting story some time if he can tell just what are the sources of inspiration for some of the legislation which appears on the statute books. For example, there is a law which takes the care of the religious exercises in the county jails where some bootleggers and other offenders are confined and vests it in the probate court. Now the General Assembly, which enacted this change and the Governor who signed the bill never suspected that this all grew out of a two-by-four factional contest in Franklin-co over the naming of a prison chaplain. The Daugherty faction here wanted one man, and the opposition declined to let the bunch have their man and punishment was meted out by taking away the job of prison advisor in religion. But most of the sheriffs are paying no attention to the law and conducting affairs under the old order of things. But revenge was exacted for a disobedient sheriff. Selah!

Western and southern Ohio farmers who are selling tobacco at normal prices were given this week the solemn opinion of C. J. West, federal crop reporter for Ohio, that cigars, cigarettes and tobacco are too high and that they should come down. The arguments are well understood by the producers of raw tobacco, but they will bear repeating to those who do not have so intimate experience. Briefly, the prices to tobacco growers are far less than the prices paid in pre-war period, while smokes and chews are still at wartime figures. There is need for readjustment, says West. Where once the price was as high as 75 cents a pound, the price today is somewhere near eight cents. It is asserted that the tendency may be slightly higher in the near future, because the high-priced stocks have been used up and only low-priced material is being worked up now.

Soundings continue to be taken by candidates for United States Senator all over the state. There seems to be a feeling that Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty will never again allow the voters to get a chance at him and that Simeon D. Fess of Yellow Springs may shift a long time and then leave that tempting senatorial cheese alone. But if he goes in, the Seventh District Congressional nomination will be the prize of either Senator Charles Brand of Urbana or former Senator Frank Parrett of Fayette-co. They are both "rarin" to go and old Fess holds on like grim death to a sick kitten. Can't be blamed, seeing that the Fess family would be able to buy all of Yellow Springs except Antioch College with the money they are saving with pa and all the boys on the payroll. Both Parrett and Brand are well supplied with money because neither of them have so large families of payroll age. From what he heard while here, Mr. Fess doubts whether next year is a good one for a meek and forbearing fellow like himself to face an infuriated populace. The party is still all right now, but he doesn't know how soon it will go to pieces if the winds of industrial adversity drive on the reef of high taxes. And S. D. Fess has Fabius beaten for caution.

There is a source of pride to Ohioans that this state has not only been selected as the one in which to make the intensive health test for children, but that it may also be among the first states to banish infantile paralysis. It was at Mt. Vernon that the first serum was administered in this part of the country and now James E. Bauman, the real head of Ohio's health department has arranged with Dr. Reesnow of Rochester, Minn., for all the serum needed in Ohio for treatments. The fact that the state has one of the best state departments in the world and that Dr. H. H. Snively, the director of health, had the good judgment to continue it and that it has active health commissioners in every county, makes it possible for the state to act within a marvelously short time after an outbreak of the disease is reported. The rest depends upon the people themselves. There are still more deaths from diphtheria than should occur, due to the fact that proper precautions will not be taken by some physicians to have in readiness arrangements for getting the antitoxin which the state is ready to supply in cases of need. But Ohio from now on should make an admirable showing, the foundation having been laid during the recent progressive years.

When all the facts in the state purchase of supplies are analyzed, the people of Ohio only will know to what extent they have been losers by turning out of trusted servants. The suit filed this week is only a beginning. It will take accountants with access to the records some time to learn just how badly the public purse was victimized by the double freight charges that it has been compelled to pay under the present mode of operation. Goods which may be bought in any one community of a dozen can, of course, only be bought in Cleveland, even tho designed for use as far south as the towns on the Ohio river. Then there is a story of articles bought in Cleveland, shipped to Columbus, sent back in package to Cleveland for use in an institution there. These transactions go on notwithstanding the claims of millions saved, the reasons being as much a mystery as the savings themselves. MARCUS

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

SENTIMENT in the business world has been mixed during the past week, with no decided gain for the optimistic side, which seems to have been rather overplayed by the press and business men of the country, based on actual developments.

Firmer prices are becoming general, but expansion and volume in any line is sadly missing. The railroad situation, far from clearing, is again threatened with labor strikes, which are not, however, being taken seriously by either government or transportation executives. It is no time for anyone to strike, whether working on the railroad or in the laundry.

Steadily advancing quotations for Liberty bonds until the Victory issues have almost reached par, and slightly firmer to higher quotations for the rails, have featured the New York market; while grains in Chicago have no more than held their own. Politics is still playing a terrific part in the country's affairs, but the Unemployment Conference has added nothing to the general situation. The popular-type statesman, who retains power thru catering to the masses, is now busy blocking the very portions of the proposed new tax laws, which might aid business and put men back to work. The breed will probably succeed in so embarrassing the bill as to block any worthy changes which would put money into industry, rather than into an army of clerks and officeholders in Washington and Federal centers.

Locally, Lima is in better condition than sister cities, but with money still very tight in the banks, and none available at the Building & Loans. There is no indication of better things for our great locomotive, steel and motor plants and upon a return to at least an eighty per cent basis for these industries, really depends Lima's ultra-prosperity. Retail trade is much improved, and with colder weather should boom this week.

A BAD PRECEDENT

SUMMING UP the Arbuckle case, Police Judge Lazarus commented on the scarcity of evidence that might be construed to connect the defendant with a crime.

The assistant district attorney interrupted: "But your honor is not overlooking the witness who heard Miss Rappe saying 'I'm dying, he hurt me'?"

"No," answered the court, "but I am taking into consideration the fact that she was in great pain, that she said he hurt her, but not that he attacked her. It reminds me of the line in Lord Byron's 'Don Juan'—"

"And saying she would never consent, consented."

The courtroom laughed uproariously, say the dispatches.

Usually, in commenting on a criminal charge as serious as that in the Arbuckle-Rappe case, the judge uses as his reference such serious sources as the Ten Commandments or the statutes based fundamentally on them.

Lord Byron, the distinguished reference cited by Police Judge Lazarus, was a rake, notorious in his day as a dissolute and revolting participant in the vilest of debauches.

When law conceives any connection between such a character and a case like the Rappe girl's fate, Blackstone finds himself in the company of Boccaccio and Oscar Wilde.

It is a rotten precedent.

BOYS WHO ARE ENVIED

WHAT Lima Boy Scout wouldn't hail the chance to trade places with the two Scotch Boy Scouts selected by Sir Ernest Shackleton to go with him on an Antarctic cruise of at least two years?

One comes from the northern tip of Scotland and the other from the nearby Orkneys. The winds and the waves have no secrets from them. Shackleton is not picking his cabin boys for their ability to roll their own; not because they have a taste for pretty ties or can drive a tin Lizzie with one hand on the wheel and the other arm around the waist of a flapper.

These boys will aid in fighting the ocean and the ice, to be accompanied only by the penguins and the sledge-dogs; to stand and walk everywhere in the fury of the fiercest winds that blow. They must obey orders mutely and keep their tempers under the strain of interminable darkness and inviolable solitude. They will have something more to do than to light the cabin lamps.

NOT A BALANCED RATION

One thing about the Chautauqua just closed: It was not very much in the way of a leg show. Another thing: There was too large a proportion of the programs singing and not enough playing. Singing has to be mighty good to entitle it to crowd violin solos, orchestra music, bands clear off the programs. And Chautauqua singing all sounds pretty much alike—thin, quavering, sopranos, lightweight tenors, and basses that bawl out in unmusical tones, and everybody trying to use the trombone stop at the same time.—Howard Courant.

Andre Brulo, a dilettante, has won the kissing championship of Europe. The ladies whom he kissed during the contest say his kisses were "chaste," the American entry's kisses were "flaccid," the Englishman's "lepid," the Spaniard's "vampirish." But we saw where an American kiss cost $20.00 the other day, and Andre would have to go some to beat that. Then, again, there are all kinds here, a taxicab smack costing only about $2 for the fares and the Fifth Avenue bus variety only 20 cents. Some of these kisses are chaste, and others are chased.

Official kissing has been discontinued by the president of France. It won't be necessary for the American-about-to-be-decorated to exclaim, "Here, here—none o' your cheek!"

Some men kiss their wives; others don't shave.

Yes Mabel, you are correct. Hootch hounds are used in still hunting.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

You don't fancy work and the dreariness of it. There's nothing about it can make you to love it. You hate it, you tell me, it's ugly and trying. And sets you to fretting and grumbling and sighing. You work, not because you are eager and hot to. But merely because you know well that you've got to.

Just suppose that an ugly old man came and told you: "If in my arms now and then I may hold you, I'll leave you my fortune. If you will walk my way."

That still small voice you have heard so much about, is only money talking.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to own two pairs of trousers, both with suspenders?

The price of coals has not dropped, at least the city of Lima has not heard of it for it is paying about twice what other cities do.

WORK

You shall find friendship and fame on life's highway. I am ugly and childish and not very tender. But if you will love me I'll crown you with splendor.

Now suppose that that ugly old man often bored you. Yet always at night was the first to reward you. And showed you the way how to rise far above him.

And helped you to win. Would you hate him or love him? Well, Work is the ugly old friend of this story. Who gives us our chance both for riches and glory.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

William Fellows Morgan, President of the Merchants' Association of New York, Tells

I HERE are two main causes, in opinion, for the prevailing business stagnation.

The first and most important is the readjustment incident to a return to normal conditions. During the war the entire economic structure was disarranged. In many instances the government took control of existing agencies, such as the railroads and shipping, and introduced innovations with respect to management and wages which, while doubtless necessary at the time, are unsuited to peace conditions.

All our energies were bent toward the production necessary to winning the war, and prices rose to abnormal levels. Now that the stimulus of protecting our national life has been withdrawn, the law of supply and demand again prevails and deflation is in progress.

DEMAND SHRINKAGE
The shrinkage of demand curtails production and creates a situation which is equally hard for employer and employee, causing strikes and unrest.

The second is the great difficulty in finding markets abroad for our produce. It would be very helpful if we had such an outlet for our industry, but the other nations of the world are going thru an even severer course of readjustment than we are and furthermore, since practically all of them owe us enormous debts, the rate of exchange is so heavily in our favor that it is practically impossible for them to purchase of us.

Thus the loss of our foreign market comes at a time when our domestic market is at its lowest ebb. The present business depression must terminate sooner or later just as the boom period which followed the war came to an end. Such radical fluctuations in our national prosperity more or less inevitably followed the great derangement in our economic structure brought about by the war.

BUYING ENCOURAGING
Moreover, it is as likely that similar changes will occur in the future until we devise some method of keeping more accurate account of the world's stocks on hand and of measuring prospective demand for our products so that we can better anticipate needs and operate our industries accordingly.

Present stagnation, however, should not be made the occasion for undue pessimism. Altho the pro-

AH! EPSOM SALT LIKE LEMONADE

You can now buy epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real, epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.—Adv.

ABE MARTIN

Mrs. Em. Moots went t' th' state fair this mornin' t' try out th' back seats at th' auto show. Iko Lark, who has been grouchy an' despondent of late, wuz cured by elderberry wine t'day.

PYORRHEA

The most common disease known to humanity. Ninety per cent are affected with it.

This condition can be as readily cured as Typhoid Fever or any other of the commoner diseases. Do not, because of a fallacy, permit yourself to be the victim of a disease that is causing your system to be the breeding place for millions of germs. These can and are causing many diseases.

You would not willingly swallow a few drops of pus each day, but this is what you are doing; it matters not how clean your food is and how carefully it has been prepared, the instant it passes the lips and is in contact with the gums it is spoiled, and this spoiled, mixed with these impurities, to be absorbed, can not do other than be injurious to your system.

It is fast coming to be an accepted fact, that good health depends largely on good teeth and a CLEAN mouth. This you can have.

There is no specific cure for any disease, yet many diseases can be cured.

Yes, Pyorrhea can be cured, and have permanent results.

A visit to my office will be of benefit to you.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well YOUR HEART

ease kills more people annually than do either tuberculosis or cancer. Investigation indicates, too, that a great many of the cases of heart disease now occurring are preventable. Under favorable conditions a leaky heart, which is one of the forms of heart disease — a term quite inclusive — can be so treated that the effect of the trouble will not be felt until old age.

Men with sound hearts probably can afford to live lazy lives, converting their muscles into putty, but the man with a leaky heart must keep his muscles in trim if he would live long.

In the case of a "leaky heart," some of the blood that should be pumped into the arteries leaks out thru the tiny outlets not intended for that purpose and so the heart must repump some of the blood each beat. This requires good red muscle.

A good red heart muscle is not possible to keep without first keeping the arm and leg and shoulder muscles big and strong. Then, too, the man with a leaky heart has to eat enough good nourishing food to keep his muscles well nourished, but he cannot eat indigestible foods, for this calls upon the heart for more action.

He cannot afford to indulge in foolish eating as a man with a strong heart and a cast-iron stomach thinks he can do.

There are various forms of exercise which a man with a leaking heart can take. He must have some form of exercise or he cannot keep his muscles in trim. He can play tennis, ride a horse, or swim. But these must be entered into moderately. He must respect his wind and not make a heavy drain on his heart. If he feels his heart pounding in his chest, or in his throat and in "panty" he should stop immediately. The man has gone too far in his exercise whenever he finds these symptoms. He is doing himself harm rather than good by such action.

The important thing to remember about a leaky heart is that it is all right as long as it is strong enough to supply the extra demand for blood which is called for because of the leak. Building up the wind is one of the best ways to do this and for this reason it is that exercise should be taken in moderation.

Vigor of Youth In A New Discovery

Science Produces a Vitalizer Superior to Famous Gland Extracts—Magic Power in a New Discovery

Have you lost your youth, vigor and "pep"? Does life seem dull and work a grind? Don't worry. Science has discovered a new vitalizer superior even to the much discussed "gland" and "money gland" treatment. The principal ingredient is an extract from the bark of an Amazon tree, it is said to be the most amazing invigorator ever discovered. Combined with other tonic and vitalizing elements of proved merit, in most cases, the compound produces marked improvement in a day or two, and in short time the vitality is raised, the circulation improved and the glow of health is felt in every part. The new vitalizer contains expensive chemicals, but manufacturing in enormous quantities has brought it within the reach of all. Furthermore, the laboratories producing this new vitalizer, which is called Re-Nu-Tabs, are so confident of its power that they offer it on the basis of "no result, no pay." Any reader of this paper may test the new discovery without risk. Send no money, but just your name and address to the Re-Nu Laboratories, 110-B Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo., and a mail order of Re-Nu-Tabs will be sent with the postpaid delivery if not delighted by the results at the end of a money order will be returned in full. Do not hesitate about accepting this test offer. It is fully guaranteed.

MARSHAL WRITES GOOD THUNDER

that the loan escape payment of the income tax.

This is supposed to appease the building and loan men and stop the storm of protest against the measure.

Just what its value could be in finally isn't altogether disclosed, but the Washington propagandist is passing out another batch of bait to farmers. This time it is in the form of a plan to permit farmers who are proud of their farms to take out patents for names of farms and thereby establish a patented standard of quality for the produce grown on them.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has evolved this brilliant idea, but it is likely the farmer would be more interested in some sort of plan that would insure him better prices for his products.

But, further concerning this trademark thing: If a farmer uses his farm name and trademark as part of his selling operation, the trademark protects the owner in interstate commerce, all states. Several states have laws which authorize the registration of farm names with the state authorities, but a trademark registered by the government is held up as protection for the use of the farm name outside of the state in which the farm is located. Wonderful, if worth while.

Representative Simeon D. Fess, former Lima man, has Congressmen John L. Cable on his string for the position of United States Senator. Getting back to Washington, after a jaunt over the 4th Ohio district, Cable tells political writers that he found sentiment strong in every county of his district—sixty count 'em—for Fess for U. S. Senator.

Cable believes Fess has the call for the Republican nomination; that he didn't ask the people for the information but that they volunteered it. Since Harry Daugherty and Governor Davis have been casting long shadows in the direction of the Senate, Fess has been practically lost sight of in that connection. At that, he might spring a surprise on Daugherty and Davis. Who knows?

Cable tells, too, that he finds among the people here at home more satisfaction with the President than with Congress. Of course that doesn't mean that they are altogether satisfied with Harding. Perhaps it's a case of "the lesser of two evils."

But then, no one ever tried to deny that President Harding isn't a likable man. He is.

E. H. Moore of Youngstown states that Judson Harmon will be invited to represent the Democrats in Ohio as their candidate for Governor next year. Moore was pre-convention manager for Governor Cox and is supposed to be sufficiently close to Judson Harmon to speak authoritatively.

However, right now no one knows, save Judson Harmon, whether that grand Ohioan will consent to the use of his name. W. A. Julian, Cincinnati, candidate for United States Senator last year and who spent the summer in Europe with Harmon, says Judson won't run for Governor. But, after all, maybe he will.

Clement L. Brumbaugh, former Congressman and a native of Greenville, where he was for several years superintendent of schools, died in Columbus during the past week.

Brumbaugh was for two terms Representative from Darke-co and was the Democratic floor leader. In from the 12th Ohio district and remained until 1920, having been four times elected in a normally Republican district. In 1912 he defeated Congressman Ed Taylor.

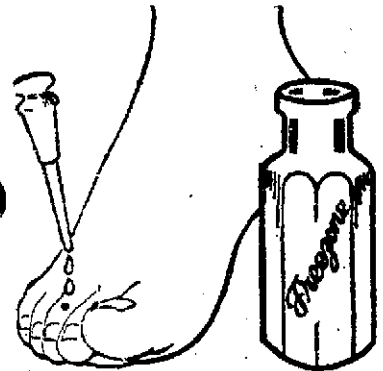

Brumbaugh is well remembered by older residents of 4th Ohio district. He was prominent as an attorney and scholar and gave good service in Congress.

Priced This Year at Much Less Than for Many Years

The Blanket Story

The Famous SLEEPY HOLLOW PLAID Blankets are made from cotton grown in the Tien Tsin Valley, China. Foreign cotton has a crinkled fibre like wool and when manufactured into a blanket gives a crisp touch and appearance of the finest wool. SLEEPY HOLLOW and wool blankets are non-conductors and are equally warm. This quality is due to the thousands of tiny air cells which repel cold and retain body heat. SLEEPY HOLLOW PLAIDS are as warm as wool at half the price.

The Plan of the Sale

The quantity of SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets produced is limited and the entire production is distributed by special sale, in first class stores only and on the same sale days. We are fortunate in having our store selected as the distributor for our own town and we have been allotted our full quantity. The prices this year are much less than they have been for many years past. We want you to come to our store and see these SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets. We recommend that you buy your blankets NOW.

WILSON PLANNED ARMS MEET

Ex-President's Ideas Revealed by Page Letters.

NEW YORK — (By N. E. A. Service) — The Wilson administration, as early as 1913, was pushing plans for a disarmament conference like the one called by President Harding for November.

This fact is to be told in letters of Walter H. Page, late ambassador to Great Britain, printed in the October issue of World's Work.

The letters point to the efforts of former President Wilson, Col. E. M. House and Page to get Great Britain and Germany together in a conference with the United States and find a means to use their enormous military expenditures and resources for peaceful and humane purposes.

In a letter to Col. House on Aug. 28, 1917, Page wrote: "Here are great rivers and armies and great withdrawals of men from industry — an enormous waste. Here are all the privileges and taxes that this state of things implies — every one a hindrance to human progress."

"There's no future in Europe's vision—no longer look ahead. They give all their thought to the immediate danger.

"The great powers are mere threats to one another, content to check one another."

WAY OUT NEEDED

In a memorandum written about the same time, Page added: "A way must be found out of this stagnant watching. Else a way will have to be fought out of it; and a great European war would set the Old World, perhaps the whole world, back a long way. It seems impossible to talk the great powers out of their fear of one another or to 'haggle' them out of it. They'll never be persuaded to disarm. The only way left seems to be to find some common and useful work for these great armies to do."

"Nobody can lead in such a new era but the United States."

"May there not come such a change in Mexico—to clean out bandits, yellow fever, malaria, hookworm—all to make the country healthful, safe for life and investment, and for orderly self-government at last."

"May not the existing military power of Europe conceivably be directed, gradually, to this use?"

WILSON ENTRUSTED

President Wilson was enthusiastic about House's idea on the treatment of backward nations had strongly impressed both Wilson and House. It developed into a plan for an Anglo-American-German compact to deal not only with "disarmament, but other matters of the world at large."

But Page had not faith in Germany. He had not faith in an alliance that included Germany as an equal partner. He did believe in the co-operation of the English-speaking countries.

On Feb. 4, 1914, he wrote House and referred him to the campaign of 1870 to reduce armaments, "when old Bismarck dumped the whole basket of apples by marching against France."

"You know I sometimes fear some sort of repetition of that experience," he added.

THOUSAND ATTEND WEST NEWTON HOME COMING

More than 1,000 persons attended the second annual home coming staged by the community club of West Newton, a village 18 miles southeast of Lima Saturday.

Prizes were donated by Lima merchants and were awarded to winners in the stock show and athletic games held during the afternoon. Mayor F. A. Burkhardt was the principal speaker. West Newton is located in the extreme southeast corner of the county.

CANDY DAY PLANS

Lima Kiddies to be Given Free Sweets on Three Days.

Candy Day will be a big event for Lima youngsters.

Manufacturers and dealers in the city are planning to distribute hundreds of pounds of sweets to the children on three days during the coming week. Candy Day on Saturday, October 8, will be the climax of the annual event.

Kiddies in the Children's Home and the Day Nursery will be given a treat on Wednesday, when the committee and "Y" girl will distribute generous quantities of sweets among them. In the afternoon the public and parochial schools will come in for sweets. Boys and girls in the first and second grades will be the lucky ones. Tickets entitling students of the higher grades to free candy given away in the square at 4:30 will be passed out.

Thursday 500 balloons will be released, 300 of the carrying numbers entitling the bearer to a free box of candy at the Chamber of Commerce, Friday tags will be distributed by the Boy Scouts, which will entitle holders to candy at various stores.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of my beloved husband, James Phalen, and for the beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. James Phalen.

JUNG'S ARCH BRACES

Manufactured and guaranteed by The Jung Arch Brace Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Are you kept from enjoying your work because your feet burn and ache continuously?

Does it "nearly kill" you to stand for a comparatively short period?

After walking or dancing do your limbs and feet sting with pain?

Do you miss out on golf, tennis, and other sports because your feet can't stand the gaff?

Physicians and foot specialists say that tired, burning, aching sensations of the feet are the warning signals and results of foot strain.

If that's your condition, here is the relief and comfort you've long looked for—

Jung's Arch Braces—

nothing like them for fallen arches and other foot troubles

Jung's Arch Braces provide quick, permanent relief for all cases of fallen arches, weak ankles, and other troubles resulting from foot strain.

Jung's Arch Braces are different from all other types of braces and supports. The wearer does not have to suffer months of annoyance, as with many foot appliances, before relief and comfort are obtained.

No leather pads or metal plates to annoy the wearer!

Jung's Arch Braces are simple, sensible, and efficient. They are made of specially prepared SUPER-LASTIK. They hold the tiny bones of the foot in a natural, comfortable position while Nature strengthens the weakened muscles and ligaments.

At the same time, the muscles and ligaments function naturally and comfortably. Annoying metal plates and leather pads have been eliminated in the construction of Jung's Arch Braces. They fit the feet snugly. No ungainly humps. They take up no room in the shoes.

Here are the troubles

Jung's Arch Braces relieve:

While primarily a very helpful brace for fallen arches, Jung's Arch Braces relieve the following—

Tired Feet	Run-over Heels
Weak Ankles	Aching Feet
Calloused Feet	Flat Feet
Ingrown Nails	Burning Feet
	Corns

NEW YORK YANKS COP AMERICAN LEAGUE FLAG

CLEVELAND NOSED OUT; SERIES TO START OCT. 5

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK and the Empire of Manhattan now have everything.

Since the long-bearded, gloveless patriarchs of baseball first started tossing a baseball around, the vaunted city of wonders has been wanting a world series all to itself.

Miller Huggins, the tiny manager of the New York Yankees, added the first American League pennant to the city's list of "worth seeing" Saturday afternoon when his row of murderers defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 3 in the first game of a double header.

The victory decided the pennant in the American League. It was the strangle hold that put the lone Cleveland Indians on their back for the count and pushed the jowling Yanks against the Giants of John McGraw in the world's series.

When Elmer Miller, the fortunate graduate of the American Associa-

WILD DEMONSTRATION FOLLOWS VICTORY

They threw bats in the air, slapped each other on the back, climbed to the top of the dugout and then in one pack, ran yelping to the clubhouse with the flatfooted Huggins choking yards behind in their dust.
The Yanks were "in" and a crowd of 30,000 gave vent to a whoop that reverberated from Coogan's Bluff like a clap of thunder.

SULLIVAN USHERED IN TO HELP ATHLETICS

James R. Sullivan, just up from Moline, Ill., in the Three-I League was doing the pitching for the Athletics. He was making rookies out of the heaviest hitters in baseball. But the Yanks did get to him and won.
Nothing remains in the way of the Yanks and about $7,500 each as the

40,000 EXPECTED TO ATTEND GAMES EACH DAY

Club officials and the police are preparing to handle a crowd of 40,000 at each game.

It is estimated that the winner's share of the money will amount to about $7,500 each, while the losers will get close to $5,000 each.
The clubs will use the Polo Grounds next week to practice, taking turns in morning and afternoon workouts.

HOW YANKS NABBED PENNANT

This tells the story of how the New York Yanks won the American League pennant Saturday, when they defeated Philadelphia in two games while Cleveland lost to Chicago 8 to 5.

HOW SHORT NEW YORK STANDS MAKE HOME RUNS JOKE

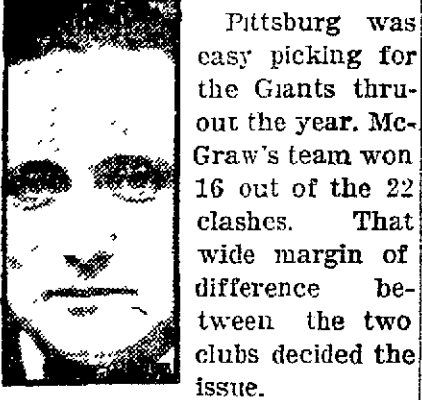

Fanbody ever breaks Babe Ruth's home run record besides the Bambino himself, he'll have to play on a New York team. 'Cause why? 'Cause those short New York stands insert a whole lot of joke home runs into the ball games at the Polo Grounds.
Nowhere else in either big league would that home run of Wally Schang's last Monday have been anything but a pop-fly for an easy out. Yet it decided the ball game against the Indians and practically clinched the pennant.
And Babe Ruth's first homer that day would have been no more than a single or double anywhere else.

BILLY EVANS SIZES UP GIANTS AS GOOD, NOT GREAT, BUT A GAME BALL CLUB

(By BILLY EVANS)

NEW YORK.— Ability to knock off its leading contender, was the determining factor in the winning of the National League pennant by the New York Giants.

Pittsburg was easy picking for the Giants thru-out the year. McGraw's team won 16 out of the 22 clashes. That wide margin of difference between the two clubs decided the issue.

That would make it seem that New York was much the superior club. There seems to be considerable difference of opinion on that point. The fact remains that the Giants could beat the Pirates almost at will. With scarcely a month to play, Pittsburg enjoyed a seven and one-half game lead. Then followed a five-game series between New York and Pittsburg, the former winning five straight. That was the blow that killed the Pirates.

The New York Giants are not a great ball club. There are no great teams in either the American or National League. However, the Giants are a game, hustling aggregation, led by two of the most aggressive managers in the game, John McGraw and Hugh Jennings. Such a combination of playing strength and leadership makes the Giants size up as a pretty formidable aggregation to beat in a world series, which calls for gameness more than anything else.

Good pitching is most essential for a pennant-winning team. During the greater part of the 1921 campaign the Giants did not get good pitching. Don't get the impression from that statement that the Giants are lacking in capable pitchers. It just seemed that at no one time was McGraw able to have four pitchers working smoothly.

During the greater part of the season, the last month of play excepted, McGraw usually had only two pitchers on whom he could depend. The dependable pitchers were not always the same fellows. For perhaps a month two certain pitchers would carry the burden, and then, as two others would round in to form, the two dependable would develop a mediocre streak.

It takes a game ball club to keep plugging along with a pitching staff lacking in consistency. At one stage of the race it seemed the Giants were hopelessly out of it. It seemed impossible for McGraw's club to combine hitting with pitching. Then there came a break, the pitchers rounded into form. Good pitching was aided by timely hitting and brilliant fielding, and the Giants were on their way.

Some idea of the clip at which the New York team traveled during the last six weeks of the campaign can be gleaned by consulting the "figgers."

With less than 50 games to play, McGraw's team sliced away the Pittsburg margin of seven and one-half games and was able to win with a couple to spare. The Giants in a short space of time accomplished a seemingly impossible task.

In that stretch of games, New York beat Pittsburg in eight out of nine clashes. Ability to knock off the leading contender decided the issue in favor of the Giants.

Let us look over this team, which was able to come with such a remarkable rush, after the pennant had practically been conceded to other quarters. So certain had it seemed that Pittsburg would win, at one stage of the race, that Governor Devlin of the Pittsburg club, had started arrangements to enlarge his ball park.

However, the sudden reversal of form on the part of the Pittsburg club, and the "Garrison" finish of the New York team, stand out as the two big events in the closing days of the National League race.

Pitching usually decides the outcome of every world series, so it is fitting that the Giants pitching staff be given first consideration. While there are perhaps a dozen pitchers on the New York staff at present, seldom are more than four pitchers regarded as world series possibilities.

LIMA GYM CLUB'S FIRST FIGHT CARD TO BE STAGED TUESDAY

Thirty-two rounds of boxing will be staged at Memorial Hall Tuesday night, when the Lima Gym takes their initial plunge into the promotion of fighting in this city.
Here's their card:
Tommy Harrison vs. K. O. Jeakie, 10 rounds.
Pig Iron Turner vs. Red Young, 5 rounds.
Speck Kessler vs. George Barnes, 4 rounds.
Sailor Grant vs. Kid Bruno, 6 rounds.
Chuck Schuman vs. Tom Andrews, 4 rounds.

Jeakie has eight consecutive knockouts to his credit. Captain Maxwell says he is one of the fastest lightweights ever staged by a Lima promoter.

Maxwell is matchmaker for the club, and labels the boxers as being honorable pugs. He says: "I want the boxing commission to rule any of the fighters off the card if they don't live up to their contracts."

Jack Beall, Jr., 776 Ritchie-ave., leaves Sunday for Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he will become advertising representative for The Oil and Gas Journal.

EVANS DOPES BABE RUTH'S PART IN WORLD SERIES --- LIABLE TO WHIFF OFTEN BECAUSE OF ANXIETY

(By BILLY EVANS)

World's Greatest Baseball Authority
NEW YORK — What is the value of a home-run hitter in a world series? Will Babe Ruth play as big a role in the coming clash between the Yankees and Giants as is generally expected? What part have home runs played in deciding the outcome of world series games? Has any world series been won largely thru the medium of some player's ability to hit home runs?

Would the chances of the New York American League club be seriously handicapped if Ruth should suffer an injury that would keep him out of the world series? How much does the presence of Ruth in the lineup mean to the Yankees? When he is in a batting slump, does his failure to hit have any bearing on the rest of the team? These and a score of other questions have been fired at me when it was apparent that the New York Yankees and the great Babe Ruth would be the American League representative in the world series. The ordinary series offers enough topics for conversation, but when the outstanding figure in baseball, Babe Ruth, is listed among the performers, it makes the annual clash all the more interesting. Ordinarily, home-run hitters have not played an extremely important role in many of the world-series. It is apparent that the value of a slugger would be more evident over a campaign of 154 games than in a short series, of nine contests. It is also a matter of record that in a short series, pitchers work far more carefully on a batter noted for his ability to hit home runs than they do during the ordinary game. It is always customary to pass the home-run hitter when the situation is dangerous rather than pitch to him and take a chance on his breaking up the ball game. It is a certainty that Babe Ruth will draw many an intentional base on balls during the coming series if he happens to bat with a couple of men on and the Giants in the lead. That is good baseball.

There is a chance that Ruth may not do the many great things the public expect of him. In a pinch he is going to be passed. When the Giant pitchers elect to work on him there is sure to be nothing at stake. At such times Ruth is going to look at the very best the Giant pitchers can offer. Ruth hates to disappoint. He will certainly try his best to come thru with a home run or two. At such times Ruth is very liable to strike out. So that Ruth is liable to whiff more often than he makes home runs. TROY PLAYS LIMA TODAY; BERRY QUILTS TEAM

The Troy baseball club doped by many local fans as the strongest opposition that the home team has in the elimination series being played by the several recognized leading clubs of Northwestern Ohio, will cross sticks with Lima at the home yard this afternoon, which from recollections of three past mixups between the two hustling aggregations is pretty fair assurance that the diamond battle will be a repetition of the hard fought contest that has been witnessed on the home field for the last several weeks.

Elk Main, who for the third time last Sunday pitched a no hit, no run game on the local field, will work the game from the middle of Lima's line up, and is expected to play an all important part in the evening up of the Lima-Troy series which at the present time stands two and one in favor of the town stagers. Main will be opposed on the mound most likely by Laundry, who ranks among the leading pitchers in the Texas League.

Clerk, Harris, Arvey and Seward, whose hard hitting and fighting disposition have been the biggest factor in the uphill fight that the home team has made in the elimination series that Wapak, Troy, St. Marys and Kenton are contesting for, will all be in today's game determined to conquer the enemies.

EARL BERRY
 Despite agreements with the home team to finish the season here, Earl Berry has accepted a twelfth hour contract with the Spencerville team and will work for the causal town nine against the St. Marys team today.

Berry, it is stated, was approached by a delegation of Spencerville fans who dug up sufficient funds to entice the local hero to forget agreements with the Lima team and desert the home town.

The line-up that will take the field for Lima today is as follows: Nugan, Cable, ss; Harris, lf; Clark 3; Russen, c; Seward, 1; Malloy, rf; Arvey, cf; Main, p.

Another record crowd is expected to witness the game which will be called at 3 o'clock.

Halloran stated emphatically last night that Berry will not be given a chance to pitch for the Lima team in any of their remaining games.

Husky Bunch Of Yearlings Out At Ohio State

COLUMBUS—More than 200 candidates for the Ohio State University football team were lined up yesterday for the annual Freshman Coach Trauman's call for practice. This is the largest number of yearlings that has ever reported to a coach here. Some of the youthful gridgers have good high school records and are expected to do much when called upon to train and serve with the varsity.

The varsity squad was put thru another scrimmage by Coach Wilce. The whole team is getting hardened and commencing to look fit.

WHY BABE RUTH IS GREAT

Three things contribute to the greatness of Babe Ruth, the Sultan of Swat: His vision, which is ten per cent faster than the average man's; his massive shoulders, which give him the driving power, and his trusty bludgeon.

Old Mates Help Pull Up Giants

H O-HUM! Wot's a pennant? So yawns John McGraw and Hughie (Ee-Yah) Jennings, the veteran pilots of the New York Giants.

Six times has John led the boys to a league pennant and three times did Jennings steer his Tygers to the muslin.

Now they have combined their rears of experience and are pulling a double steal on the National League.

Besides leading the league six times McGraw has finished with the Giants in second place seven times, once in third and twice in fourth. And Huggins, outside of his three firsts, has led the Tygers in second place twice, in third two times and in fourth place three times.

OLD TEAMMATES
 McGraw and Jennings are old teammates. They played together on the famous Baltimore Orioles and they had helped that club to the championship in 1894-95-96.

Jennings started out as a catcher, but when with the Orioles was considered one of the greatest shortstops of the game, while McGraw played brilliantly at third, for nine successive seasons batted better than .325 and at one time led 'em all in base running. Jennings himself was no slouch on the paths, for during those balmy days he stole 60 bases in a single season.

When Baltimore dropped out of the circuit in 1900 the owners sold McGraw, along with Robertson, to St. Louis. McGraw went to the Giants during the middle of the 1902 season, and they finished in last place. In 1903 he brought them up to second place and the next season won the league pennant.

HUGH PROGRESSES
 It was in 1917 that Detroit got hold of Jennings as a manager, and the first season under his direction the Tygers finished in sixth place, and going on one better, he won the pennant the very next year. In the years before Jennings came to Detroit, only once did the team finish anywhere near the top of the pole.

Jennings was born in Pittston, Pa., on April 1, 1870. He started in the coal mines and his ball playing limited to Saturdays and Sundays, attracted so much attention that Chapman, manager of the Louisville

IS HARDEST WORKER ON GIANTS' CREW

Frank Frisch, star third baseman of the New York Giants, is not an average man.

Third base is generally conceded to be one of the hardest base ball positions to play. Star third basemen are rare birds.

Yet Frisch says the catcher has the hardest job on the ball club: "There's no argument to it," he says. But ask the fans of Gotham who is the hardest working member of the Giants, and the answer would be almost unanimous: "Frank Frisch."

club, grabbed him off. His presence on the Baltimore club was accounted for thru a trade. McGraw was born in Truxton, N. Y., April 7, 1873, and after dabbling around the village got his first chance as a pro with the Ocean team of the New York State League.

Central Hi Wins-South Is Beaten

(By Franklin Doan)

INCONSISTENT playing or South Hi coupled with continued blunders in the early part of the game by frequently fumbling the pigskin in crucial periods, was the contributing causes of them suffering their first defeat of the season here Saturday afternoon at the hands of the husky Findlay eleven by a score of 40 to 10.

During the time South was getting drubbed, Central Hi was battling Von Wert there and by putting up a different brand of football than that which they exhibited during their first encounter of the season at College field last Saturday against Fremont, they came out victors by a score of 13 to 0.

The South boys were outweighed in almost every position, but their inability to keep the ball after they got it proved a great handicap to the Southsiders. Findlay displayed an almost perfect aerial attack. Their line plungers were erratic at times, but the Southsiders couldn't penetrate their line to pull them down for less than 5 or 8 yard gains. In open field running the visitors showed much skill.

WHAT'LL HAPPEN IF THEY KEEP FOOLING WITH THE LIVE BALL

If they keep fooling around with that live ball, some day we are going to read the box score, thus:
 Two base hits—Speaker (8), Sewell (3), Ruth (4), Meusel (5), Pipp, Ward, O'Neill.
 Three-base hits—Ruth (7), Meusel (4), Speaker (5), O'Neill (7), Smith (5), Wamby (3).
 Home Runs—Ruth (8), O'Neill (6), Speaker (6), Schang (1), Peckin'gh, Miller, Meusel (8), Sewell, Smith, Johnston.

Game called on account of darkness, third inning.
 Score, New York 56—Cleveland 77.

Phillies-Giants Divide a Double Header Saturday

PHILADELPHIA—In their last appearance of the season here Saturday, the Phillies managed to split even in a double header with the National League champions winning the first game 13 to 9 and losing the second 3 to 6. Lots of hitting off Douglass won the first game for the Phils. There was nothing to the second but the Giants. They blanked the lowly Phils without much effort.

PRISONERS RELEASED TO ATTEND CHURCH

In order that they may attend church services, Sunday Judge Emmett Jackson Saturday announced that he would release E. Dillen, "Swift" Leonard and A. E. Keller from the city jail.

The trio was sentenced to 30 days each for looking upon wine when it was red, but in this case it was Jamaica ginger that caused their incarceration.

They have been cleaning the walls of the criminal court for the past few days and so diligent has been their work and because they agreed to stay away from "hooch." Judge Jackson decided to show clemency.

TOWNS ARE SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKES IN UTAH

RICHFIELD, Utah—Terrorized residents within a radius of 50 miles of here were preparing to flee Saturday night because of fears of another recurrence of earthquake shocks that have rocked this district five times in the past three days.

The shock early Saturday was more severe than any others. The towns of Elsinore and Monroe were hardest hit.

CINCINNATI SHOWS A NEW ONE IN BUCKING PRACTICE

HOW THE CINCINNATI "BUCKING STRAP" LOOKS IN ACTION

CINCINNATI—Back in the good old days of ambulances, the only way a coach thought he could condition a football squad was by filling them up with beat and teaching them the art of kicking each other in the shins.

The twentieth century coach looks upon beat as a handicap and the training is as scientific as the trick plays.

These scientists are yearly perfecting new training methods.

Baseball Has Boomed This Year And Records Have Been Smashed

THE lusciousness of the 1921 world's series melon has a lot to do with the ferocity of the baseball fight down the home stretch.

All receipts records for the big mix are expected to be shattered when the box office count on this year's intake is completed.

Baseball, despite unemployment, has boomed during the season. And the boom has resulted in attendance records being broken at many parks. The close race for the finish is only whetting the appetites of the bugs to be in at the knockout.

If the Polo Grounds is the scene of a part or all of the games, the golden shower at the gate will become a cloudburst, for the New York park will hold countless more fans than the comparatively small stands at Cleveland, with a normal capacity of about 21,000, and Pittsburgh with 23,000. And the bigger the gate, the bigger the players' cut of the melon.

The White Sox-Red series to 1919 HIGH RECORD holds the high record to date for receipts. Three-quarters of a million dollars was turned in at the gate during the eight games by 236,928 fans.

The Cincinnati world champs collected $117,157 as their share, while the losing Chicago team took $78,104. This doesn't include any money that may have been left lying around under pillows by mistake.

In the 1920 Cleveland-Brooklyn series, capped by the Indians, each Cleveland player drew down $4200, while the members of the Dodger crew got $2300 apiece.

The '20 series, next to the White Sox-Red affair, played to the biggest money of any of the de luxe baseball attractions. Receipts for the seven games were $564,738 turned in by more than 178,000 bugs.

'18 SERIES JOKE War time restrictions and the turning of public interest from the world series battle to the world battle overseas made the 1918 games between the Red Sox and the Cubs

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER

With Yankees and the Giants opposed in the World Series it will be a case of brother against brother, as it was last year. Bob Meusel (in uniform) is right fielder of the Yankees and Emil Meusel is left fielder of the Giants. Last year Doc Johnston on the Cleveland team was pitted against Jimmie Johnston, his brother, on the Brooklyn team.

more or less of a joke. For the six games the players got as their share only $69,527 as compared with more than $150,000 turned over as the share of the players the year before in the same number of games in the White Sox-Giant series.

Not since 1914 has a team copped in four straight games. In that year the Braves took over the Athletics in 1914 time, the brevity of the series cutting the gate to 111,000, altho the players cashed in to the tune of $121,000.

100 Stores—4 Factories

Five Acres of Floor Space

Like a monster department store covering approximately five acres of floor space, all on one floor, High Street Lima, is giving the masses of much of the buying public throughout the city and for many miles about.

There is little, if anything, that one needs that cannot be purchased from some merchant of this busy business street. One may shop on High-st without doing much walking, for practically every department that is to be found in the world's greatest and largest department store is located on High-st within a distance of about four hundred feet.

One of the features of the street is the recently remodeled Rose jewelry store. A beautiful new front has just been completed and the store has been completely remodeled thru out.

For the ensuing week many of the merchants are making special price and service inducements.

Wentworth-Dean Electric company has a special display of electrical appliances for the home, as well as new 1922 designs in lighting fixtures.

The Lima Paint and Color company is featuring a special product that will cut down house painting bills.

The Emerson W. Price Company, complete office outfitters, invites your inspection of the new showing of office fixtures and general office needs.

Wright Cash Market, with three big stores, demonstrates how you can do better by buying groceries, meats and vegetables at any one of the Wright stores.

Warfield's candy and cigar store welcomes you to a leisure hour that will help you work more efficiently. Warfield's is featuring candy for National Candy Day.

The Lima Home & Savings Company pays Five Per Cent on savings accounts. On this page they have a word for you.

Kinney's shoe store is one of a chain of 100 stores. The company also owns four shoe factories. These are two big reasons why Kinney's can sell good shoes at a low price.

The well tailored man will do well to inspect Thompson's new fall and winter suitings. Thompson's also do dry cleaning and pressing.

C. C. Black's wall paper store is a good place to go for that new fall paper. All the newest designs are now being shown.

Schuler's Cash Feed Store is making a special feature for this week. Read about it in the advertisement on this page. Mr. Schuler also operates a feed store in Wapakoneta.

A wonderful talk, one of a series that is running every Sunday in the News, is given on this page by Puetz Pratt, High Street Jeweler. This store carries a remarkably complete stock.

GEMS AND FOLKLORE

By J. W. Puetz

Altho gems are among the most permanent and most valuable of substances, their worth depends to a great extent upon sentiment. The associations of gems in the human mind have been penetrated in history and legend; some are identified with religions but most are black with superstition, the origin of which is generally very obscure.

In Indian the mystics believe in virtues and malign influences of precious stones and a French doctor has recently written a book describing the medicinal properties and influences of different gems.

The agate is the emblem of health; alleviates thirst, staves storms, increases strength, renders its wearers kind and eloquent; the Mohammedans combined powdered agate and apple juice while dose was said to cure insanity.

Amber was believed to be good for the stomachache, fits, scrofula and jaundice. The amethyst was thought to be an antidote for poison; it sharpened the wits; promoted chastity and was a sure preventative of intoxication.

Beryl, or emerald, foretold the future and reviewed the past for its wearer. The bloodstone, while being a remedy for dyspepsia, also rendered the wearer invisible if it were rubbed with the juice of the hellebore.

Carneian cured tumors, cleared the voice of singers and orators and stopped bleeding of the nose, while cat's eye cured cramp and colic in babies—it should thus find high favor as a setting for infants' rings.

Coral was a fever cure, while the diamond cured epilepsy and insanity, the garnet averted plague and deflected the wearer against thunder and lightning.

Jade cured diseases of the kidneys while jasper was for consumption and saved its wearer from drowning; jet cured snake bites, onyx cured nightmare, the oval was a heart stimulant and the pearl cured stomach trouble and all skin diseases.

The ruby guards against plague, poison, and melancholy; the sapphire imparts energy and cures hoarseness; the topaz averts sudden death and the turquoise is insurance against accident. Buy with confidence!

THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR

FIRST NUMBER WOMAN'S MUSIC CLUB IS SUCCESS

Matinee Recital Thursday at Memorial Hall Portends Unusually Delightful Season of Events—First Concert Wednesday—Country Club Season Closes

BY ROSEMARY CHRISTEN

THAT the year 1921-22 will be a most successful one for the Woman's Music club was demonstrated Thursday afternoon by the splendid attendance at the opening matinee recital at Memorial Hall. The enthusiasm and interest of those present was very encouraging.

The engagements for the coming year include the best talent available. The first concert will be that of Wednesday, October 5th at 8:15 p. m. at Memorial Hall, when the Little Opera Company will present Wolf Ferrari's "The Secret of Suzanne," with the pantomime dancers. The engagement is a delightful one. The story of the opera is said to be lighter than that of ordinary grand opera and is described as "a delightful fragment of grand operatic comedy apart from its musical charm." The pantomime dancers appearing with the opera represent the best talent among the latest schools of interpretive and pantomime art. They include Delia, from the Ruth St. Denis School; Paula, from the Greenwich Village Follies and Martha, from the Roshanara company.

A very charming affair will mark the formal close of the season at the Shawnee Country club, Sunday with a dinner and a musicale. The program will consist of varied numbers, both vocal and instrumental, those taking part including: Mrs. Harley Holmes, Mrs. Harry L. Gayer, Mrs. Ralph Austin, Miss Mary K. Roby, Miss Margaret Gregg, Miss Nell Pursell and Miss Violet Bradley. Those in charge include Mrs. Clinton Sealts, chairman of the entertainment committee and Mrs. Fred E. Gooding and Mrs. Virgil Knisely, in charge of the musical program.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hogan, of W. North-st., entertained with a pleasant surprise party Thursday evening in celebration of the 13th birthday anniversary of their son, Herbert. Games and a contest, in which Raymond Reeves was successful, were the pastimes of the evening and at a late hour the guests were ushered into the dining room, which was artistically decorated in pink and white. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Charles Tappen and Mrs. C. E. Price. Pink and white nut baskets were presented as favors. Guests included Misses Dorothy Whitington, Eugenia Doan, Evelyn Piper, Elizabeth Zimmer, Helen Jacobs, Maxine Weber, Mary Bowman, Dorothy Walther, Mary Moore, Nelson Durbin, DeWitt Gilmore, Raymond Reeves, Joseph Lang, John Keller, Harold Reeves and Horace Maxson.

Mrs. G. I. Wallace, of W. Spring-st., president of the Domestic Science club will entertain the members of the club Tuesday with a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home.

Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church will meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the church with Mrs. E. W. Mosier, Mrs. Seymour Evans and Mrs. T. M. Johnson as hostesses. The scripture lesson will be given by Mrs. Mullenhour; installation service will be in charge of Mrs. D. F. Helms; demonstration, "After Forty Years, What?" Mrs. H. D. Zurnehy; song, "Go Forward," Mrs. Royal Albridge; other music will be in charge of Mrs. A. C. Stuart. Social hour will be conducted by Mrs. D. J. Cable and Mrs. Russell Young and their committee.

Members of the Primrose club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Jacob Miller, of S. West-st., to reorganize for the coming club year. All members are requested to be present.

Members of the choir of Trinity M. E. church enjoyed a most pleasant social gathering at the home of Mrs. John Carries, of State-st., Friday evening.

THE LONGER YOUR EARRINGS THE BETTER!

(By MARIAN HALE)

NEW YORK — The longer the carrying the better.

The "drip" ear ornament seems to have outlasted, for length, any of the antique forerunners fashioned by prehistoric jewelers for cave-dwelling belles.

Earrings, indeed, reach pretty far this year, for these long pendants are to be worn not only with "dress" costumes but with tailor-mades.

Up to date, the strictly tailored woman has confined herself to the small button earring. But now she can go to any length she wants in ear pendants.

The new earrings are shown in every form, shape and color. Jet, of course, is always effective.

The three-division pendant formed in links is good.

The variations in the pendant range from the oblong hoop with inner loops, to the big circle. These often bear much ornamentation.

Tassels of pearls, often bejeweled with rubies or emeralds are replicas of antiques. One stunning pair shows a pea-shaped pendant, from the center of which swings a drop of jet.

The possessor of antique earrings is indeed fortunate, for most of the moderns follow the antique styles.

Miss Leah Simmons, of N. Scott-st., entertained Friday evening with the first of a series of informal gatherings, which will be given throughout the winter months. Halloween suggestions were attractively used throughout the rooms. In a cleverly arranged contest Miss Geneva Growda was successful. At a late hour the hostess served a dainty repast. Those enjoying the affair included Misses Geneva Growda, Harriett McIlvaine, Ethel Schwark, Marie Franklin, Lena Sharp and Naomi Railing.

Bay View club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. F. L. Foust, of S. Collett-st. Mrs. T. E. Drake will act as assistant hostess.

Class No. 4 of the First Christian church, will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Edna Williams, of Shawnee-st.

Woman's Board of Managers of City Hospital will meet at the hospital Wednesday at 9 a. m.

Good Cheer Class of the Methodist Presbyterian church will meet Friday evening with Mrs. S. B. Acgate, of Shawnee-tp.

League of Women Voters will meet at the Public Library Saturday at 2 p. m. At this time an outline of the work recommended by the state will be made, while a talk on the commission form of government will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Klueter, of Saline, Mich., who have been visiting at the home of their son, Albert Klueter, of Grand-ave, have gone to Columbus Grove, their former home before returning to their home in Michigan.

Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Leist.

Lotus club will meet Monday at 2:15 p. m. with Mrs. O. B. Selfridge, of W. Market-st.

Those present include Mrs. E. L. McElroy, Mrs. Verne Bradrick, Mrs. Woerner, Miss Davis, Mrs. Hugh Burke and Mrs. Myers.

Mrs. George P. Conner, of 753 W. High-st., will entertain the members of the Ideal club Thursday afternoon.

The Lima Chapter of D. A. R. was entertained Saturday at the delightful home of Mrs. B. A. Gramm, of S. Cole-st. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Charles Gamble, Mrs. Amelia Davis and Mrs. Perry Collins.

As this was the first meeting of the year the program was turned over to the program committee, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Gamble, who made it one of much pleasure for all.

Mrs. Clem Thompson sang beautifully, "Little Mother O'Mine" giving as an encore, "The Little White Rose." Mrs. Ralph Shriver delighted with several harp numbers, while Mrs. Ralph Austin sang the old English ballad, "The Lass With the Delicate Air" and "The Bell Song" from Lakame. As an encore she sang a pleasing little French song, Mrs. Forster Robinson sang "The Warm Southern Wind" and as an encore gave a charming southern lullaby.

The rooms of the Gramm home were artistically decorated for the occasion and following the interesting program a dainty repast was served.

St. Agatha's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church will meet Wednesday afternoon at the church.

COOL WEATHER SEES SOCIAL WHIRL RESUME

Society Awakens to Renewed Activity—Resume of Events of the Past Week—Voss-O'Connor Wedding Is Happy Affair Scheduled for Tuesday Morning

IRREFUTABLE proof of final awakening in the social realm was manifested in the number of society events during the past week. The week was not so unusually or noticeably active, but it was marked with more gaiety and liveliness than has been prevailing for some time.

A very delightful affair of the week was the prettily appointed luncheon-bridge given Saturday by Mrs. Francis P. O'Connor, of W. Wayne-st., for the pleasure of her sister-in-law, Miss Helen O'Connor, bride-elect of Fred Voss. Small tables were arranged in the dining room and living room and a color scheme of pink and white predominated. Gracing the center of each table was a basket containing garden flowers. Place cards, which were in the shape of silver bells, bore the names of the intimate friends of the honor guest. Following the luncheon, the afternoon was devoted to bridge. Mrs. O'Connor was assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. F. Prophot, of Connorsville, Ind.

Miss O'Connor's marriage to Mr. Voss will be an event of Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Rose church. Moncknor A. E. Manning will officiate. Miss O'Connor will be attended by her sister, Miss Irene O'Connor, while Lawrence Voss, of Detroit, will be groomsmen for his brother. A wedding breakfast at the Elks' Home will follow the ceremony and after an extended wedding trip, Mr. Voss and his bride-elect will make their home in the Neely-apts, corner Wayne and McDonnel-sts.

ENGAGED, SHYS AT FARM LIFE

"Brown Eyes" Fears She Would Not Be Happy In Rural Surroundings

"Fatty" Worries Too Much About Her Weight; Is Given Advice

Dear Miss Smart:—I am a young girl and am engaged to a young man. I love him dearly, but there is something which has come up and now I am not so certain whether or not I should marry him. I have always lived in town and have always had a friend of O course, I don't think you should break your engagement, you foolish girl. Surely, you would not permit so trivial a matter to spoil your future happiness with the man you love. We must all make concessions. Certainly, if you love this man dearly, you should be willing to please him and at least try to live on his farm. Many girls have to face the problem of going into a different community when they marry and yet is safe to say that it has not interfered with their happiness in many cases.

You say that the farm is a nice one and that your fiancé has a machine, making it possible for you to come and go as you please. Many persons find the country ideal and yearly more and more are moving to places remote from town. Whether or not you will be contented in your new surroundings will depend almost entirely upon yourself. If you are feeling that you will not like it and that the people will be strange and distant, your own personal attitude will discourage friendliness. Do not break your engagement. Show your willingness to at least try living on the farm and I am certain your fiancé will appreciate your unselfishness and willingness and will no longer encourage anything toward which he knows you are opposed.

Dear Miss Smart:—(1) I am a girl 17 years old. I am five feet three inches tall and weigh 141 pounds. Do you think I am too heavy for my height? (2) You can reduce (3) What would be a good diet to make one thin?

FATTY:—(1) Yes, you are really quite a bit overweight but, of course, what difference should a pound or two make? Don't let it cause you any great worry. Every one is a little "too fat" or a little too thin, according to their own estimate. In fact, there are very few people whom we know who are not either trying a cure for their supposed underweight or overweight. (2) Of course, if you really feel that you are too thin, perhaps we can find some remedy. Walking should be very helpful. Walk from three to five miles a day. Don't let that frighten you. It isn't so far and you will enjoy it. You will have to keep it up regularly if it is to be effective. Needless to say, you should have plenty of plain, wholesome food, but one who is too stout should not indulge in sweet, starchy or fatty foods, such as cake, candy, pastries, white breads, potatoes, butter, cream and fat meats. You may eat freely of green vegetables, etcetera. "The best of luck to you, Fatty."

Friday afternoon the officers of the City Federation of Women's clubs, the presidents of the clubs affiliated with the federation and the chairman of the committees gathered at the Episcopal church parish home for a conference. Mrs. Boecher Moke, president of the Federation, Mrs. W. B. Kirk and Mrs. E. B. Taylor were chosen delegates to the state convention which will be held in Cincinnati, October 24-28th. Alternates are Mrs. Naud Mathews, Mrs. W. A. Campbell and Mrs. M. M. Keltner.

Two resolutions were adopted during the meeting. The first asking and advising Mayor Frank Burkhardt to appoint Mrs. Freda Preston, of S. West-st., a member of the city board of health and the second urging the city council to confirm this appointment, should it be made.

The conference Friday was better attended than any previous one of its kind. Much enthusiasm and interest was displayed, assuring the president, Mrs. Moke that splendid co-operation would be given by all the members of the Federation during the coming year.

Proceeding to a conference a "fellowship meeting" was held by the presidents of the clubs affiliated with the City Federation that all might become acquainted with one another.

Mrs. Marjorie Henderson Carnes left Friday for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will return to her study of interpretive dancing in the Deans Shaw School where she studied last year. She will take a special course under Ruth St. Dennis.

Mrs. Carnes not only found the work delightful but also a health restorer, the constant practice developing strength of muscle along with mental alertness.

Her improvement was most marked and her ability to dance is unquestioned. She has something many dancers lack but need as much as musicians—a sense of rhythm.

Lima has only had a fleeting glimpse of this young artist in embryo and will anxiously await her return next spring.

Miss Ethel Hammell was pleasantly surprised by a group of friends at her home on N. Market-st, Wednesday evening in honor of her 18th birthday anniversary. She was the recipient of many pretty gifts. The evening was happily whittled away in dancing and games after which a dainty lunch was served.

Those enjoying the evening were Misses Martha Minsky, Beatrice Robinson, Matilda Long, Mildred and Helen Sheick, Lavens Neely, Catharine Moore, Dorothy and Mary Kertzog, Mary Sprague, Gertrude Burdington, Anna Katchka, Lenore Stevenson and Ethel Hammell.

Clem; paper, Mrs. Merson; organ number, Miss Marjorie Collins; paper, Mrs. Minnie Hoffman and music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Cincinnati Symphony orchestra has planned four concerts for young people that are to be of high value educationally since music has been given its rightful value in the schools of Cincinnati. Another great step is their giving an afternoon concert to the children in most of the towns they are to visit this season. It is hoped that this step will also be taken in this city as it would doubtless be a wonderful achievement.

The trespasser is not peculiar to modern situations. Unattached women have always fallen in love with other women's husbands. Cleopatra did it, and Anne Boleyn—without remorse. They simply didn't think at all about the wife.

But nowadays everybody knows that the trespasser is a conscious and deliberate intruder.

"I've loved a married man for months. I care for nobody but him. I cry most of the time to think he is married. He often asks me if I love him and is so happy when I say I do, but he never tells me he loves me. I know I'm doing wrong but I simply can't give him up."

The girl writes as if she never had heard of the great commandment: "Compare her lack of conscience and pride with a girl of another calibre in much the same situation: "A married man whom I know has cost me my good position. He insisted on making love to me. But I want my lover to be all my own. I refuse to value any man's divided devotion. I am much too proud to rob another girl of her husband."

LETTERS TO LOVERS

By WINONA WILCOX

A GIRL has robbed me of my husband! Tragedy lies below this lament. The entire letter is as simple as an eucalyptus. Two were happy until came the trespasser. Then the flash of eye upon eye, and life beckoned to life: "Follow!"

And one more deserted wife weeps. Too often she weeps for a man not at all valuable as a lover. He got proved him unworthy of the tears shed for him by day and the agony of jealous nights.

These tears, this agony, are woe at its worst. The tears fall in secret, the agony is endured in solitude. Thus wives protect the romance of the husband and stave off scandal—for the children's sake.

One wife writes: "A pretty girl who boards with me, once respectable, has taken my place in my husband's love. I can't send her away because this is a small town, and everybody would understand!"

That is an unusually pathetic example of how the wife saves the errant husband—and promotes what she most desires to end.

It is the old, old way, tried since the first affinity flare, and it has not changed the nature of man one bit.

Isn't it time the betrayed wife tried another method?

Now the feminists who are supposed to be coldly disinclined to romance, have recently explained how women are themselves to blame for some of their marital misery, how women themselves uphold and sustain the double moral standard.

Secretary of the "League of Women Voters" says that the secret of romantic intrigue, which can usually be trusted to end such affairs.

The trespasser is not peculiar to modern situations. Unattached women have always fallen in love with other women's husbands. Cleopatra did it, and Anne Boleyn—without remorse. They simply didn't think at all about the wife.

But nowadays everybody knows that the trespasser is a conscious and deliberate intruder.

The Women's and Misses' Dress Shop Offers Dresses For Immediate Wear

In Fashionable Silk Crepes, Tricotines and Twills

THERE are certain outstanding features of the new dresses that mark them as Fall 1921 New. One is their very long lines; another, their uneven hems, and still another, their sashes and barbaric looking girdles. And at that we have only just begun to tell of the new dresses, for there are about as many different styles in dresses as there are women to wear them.

There are any number of occasions when one can wear a silk frock, made, perhaps, with Georgette sleeves of a brilliant, contrasting tone or with draped panels swinging way below the hem. The fabrics are Canton crepe, Roshanaro, crepe back satin and satin back Canton.

What after all is smarter for street than a cloth frock in the smart coat style, when worn with a fur choker? Very good looking new ones are trimmed with silk braid and others have steel nail head embroidery. In tricotine, Poiret twill and piquet.

STAGE BILL ANNOUNCED HOLDS BIG FEATURE FOR LIMA THEATRE-GOERS

'SCANDALS' IS FAUROT OFFERING

George White's Presentation Promises Lavish Showing of Glittering Effects

Beautiful Scenic Pictures Involved —Gossip of the Stage and Movie World

WITH the flood gates of lavish expenditures thrown wide open, George White's Scandals will be presented at the Faurot Opera House on Monday, October 3rd, for one night only. "Scandals" is a gorgeous, glittering galaxy of girls, costumes, mountings and scenic investiture provided with a prodigality of "Costa Crista" proportions. The two acts and sixteen scenes of the revue is a succession of beautiful stage pictures, every one of artistic merit of an exceptionally high degree, while White has injected novelties galore into the production. The revue opens with a Pandora's Box. Four pages, rhythmically and without musical accompaniment, introduce soloists, costume, comedy, surprise, drama and the latter appears successively from the box. Among the many beautiful scenes is the "Three Miles Up," the illusion being so complete that the audience experiences the sensation of going up. Next is a cactus scene, "In Mexico," with many fascinating bandits, who have no difficulty in capturing other bandits who are of the sterner sex. The conclusion of the first act is a Presidential election. With true comedy he diagnoses of all candidates by the disappearing route, then a trio, until Mr. Jazz appears and wins the day.

The book is by Andy Rice and George White, while the score that contains many hitting and dancing melodies is by George Gershwin. For his cast Mr. White has selected an elite of players that includes Helen Breen, George Rogers, Dolly King, Fred Cady, Bonnie Budon, Harry Wardell, Helen Powell, Sidney Norton, Helen Powell, Anita V. W. W. North, Miriam Malloy, Charles Witzel, Fay Merrill, James Curran and a dashing chorus that has good looks and unusual ability, decorated in beautiful and at times, in startling manner.

The Majestic Pictures

THE great drama "Everywoman" by Walter Browne, is to be the special feature today at the Majestic theatre. This production, besides being marvellously well costumed and staged, has a cast that is truly all-star. Such famous names as Vanda Hallow, Theodore Roberts, Hebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Irving Cummings and Violet Heming appear in the cast of principal players. The title role is played by beautiful Violet Heming and her work throughout is splendid. As is quite well known, the "Everywoman" is in the main allegorical in character, telling the story of a beautiful girl who is wooed by a millionaire, an actor and a poor physician. She is also besieged by the offer of a stage manager to embrace a dramatic career. The heroine becomes "Everywoman" and her quest for love leads her through many pitfalls, past the temptations of Wealth and Passion until she finally reaches the humble cottage of Love, who turns out to be the young physician.

Scenes of lavish splendor form the setting for story, and costume and details are elaborately worked out. "Everywoman" is an extraordinary production, from every point of view, and should prove delectable to everyone.

At the Majestic two days only, Sunday and Monday.

The Faurot Pictures

FOLLOWING its highly successful week with "The Affairs of Anzio" the Faurot comes right back with an enticing array of Paramount pictures for the delectation of all.

Today is allotted to the presentation of a new Donald Crisp production, "Appearances," written by the great playwright, Edward Knott, and with David Powell and Mai. Gwynne in the leading roles. "Appearances" is an intimate story of young married life that tried to wear a false mask of prosperity. Its motto was "Look like a million dollars" and its standard "What will people say," until one day the cord of deception snapped. It makes up a great human drama that, struggling back to happiness, touches every heart and home.

Added features of today's program will include the latest Pathe News, the funny Aesop Fables and a new "Screen Snap-Shots," with intimate views of popular screen stars in their home life. This program will be shown for today only.

You will probably remember George Melford's production of Sir Gilbert Parker's "Behold My Wife" for Paramount and will therefore be attracted by the announcement that on next Tuesday the Faurot will inaugurate a four-day run of another picture in which the same author and producer collaborate. This time it is Parker's widely read novel, "The Money Master," which has been dramatized by Mr. Melford under the title of "A Wise Fool." The celebrated novelist not only made the adaptation himself but assisted personally in its direction at the Lasky studio. The cast is headed by James Kirkwood and prominent in his support are Ann Forest, Alice Hollister, Alan Hale, Fred Huntley, Charles Ogle and Truly Shattuck. The settings, laid in the Canadian Northwest, are extremely picturesque.

For next Saturday, in response to the insistent demand of its patrons the Faurot will bring back Thomas Meighan's great success, "The City of Silent Men." Those of you who saw this admirable picture on its first presentation at the Faurot will be glad of another opportunity to see the "good luck star" in one of his biggest hits.

The Regent Pictures

The Regent theatre announces a program for the forthcoming week that is one hundred percent excellent.

The first attraction of the bill, opening today and continuing for three days is "Gypsy Blood" with Pola Negri as the waif, unscrupulous Carmencita. Miss Negri, by her work in "Passion" became one of the most popular stars of the day —she gave to that production the finest acting we have yet seen.

In "Gypsy Blood" we have a new Negri. She is fiery, glorious, fascinating, portraying the role of Carmencita as it has never been portrayed.

Pola Negri is a great emotional actress. With fire and temperament the Polish star throws herself into every role she portrays, seeming to live the part rather than merely acting it. Here is the realistic type of acting, the type so seldom seen.

This triumph of the motion picture is shared by Ernest Lubitsch, a wizard of production, who also directed Pola in her previous successes. The photography is magnificent as is the general technique of the story.

Then, following the presentation of "Gypsy Blood" the Regent announces that, beginning Wednesday, "Peck's Bad Boy" will be the special attraction. Little Jackie Coogan, better known as "The Kid" is the star in this well known comedy and repeats the success he made with Chaplin in his former picture.

Jackie was an admirable selection for the "bad boy" of the story, the lad who never runs out of mischievous ideas and is constantly making trouble for someone. How he manages to get to the circus at the expense and mortification of his "pa" causes the escape of a lion and throws a church into an uproar by introducing a collection of live ants, are some of the high lights of this comedy.

The subtitles were written by Irvin S. Cobb, the famous humorist, in support of the child star appear the names of Doris May, Wheeler Oakman and James Corrigan.

Marshall Neilan will not only direct but will also appear as an actor in "Bits of Life."

SILVERSHEET DEVOTEES PROMISED GREAT ROUND OF PLAYS DURING WEEK

THEATRE SCHEDULE OUTLINED

Great Variety of Subjects is Indicated in Announcements by Screen Managers

Stars of Film Firmament Booked For Local Houses in Season's Latest Releases

(BY ESTHER WAGNER.)
PATRONS of the silversheet have before them a week of splendid photoplay attractions, and theatres as a whole have announced programs of excellent proportions.

Pols Negri, the famous international star whose work in "Passion" placed her among the foremost in the ranks of emotional actresses, is to be seen at the Regent theatre today in "Gypsy Blood." This is the well known role in the capable hands of Miss Negri. "Gypsy Blood" has been filmed twice before, but never has the role of the daring, unscrupulous Spanish girl been portrayed with such wonderful acting as is to be seen in "Gypsy Blood." The engagement of this picture is for three days only.

Starting on Wednesday, Little Jackie Coogan, the most talked of child in the country, comes to the Regent in "Peck's Bad Boy." You've all read the story and remember how the "bad boy" and his "pa" get into scrapes innumerable thru the mischievous tendencies of the first named. Little Jackie is ideally cast as this precocious youngster and gives a performance that is a delight to everyone, old and young.

A Donald Crisp production, "Apprenticeship," on Tuesday and for four only at the Faurot Opera House. David Powell and Mary Glynn, a famous English actress, are the star performers. On Tuesday and for days, "A Wise Fool" is scheduled to appear, in the cast appear the names of James Kirkwood, Alice Hollister, Ann Forest and several others of prominence.

"The City of Silent Men" believed by hundreds to be Tom Meighan's best production, plays a return engagement at the Faurot next Saturday. Many of the scenes are taken at Sing Sing; in fact, the entire picture is one of convict life.

The Lyric offers as its Sunday feature "The Rider of the King Log," a story of the Maine Woods with Frank Sheridan in a particularly strong role. The engagement of this production is for three days only.

Another prominent film will play a return engagement in this city. This is George Loane Tucker's "The Miracle Man" and will open a four day run on Wednesday at the Lyric. Betty Compson, Thomas Meighan, Lon Chaney and Joseph Dowling ap-fitting role in "The Land of Hope" at the Sigma next Thursday.

The Majestic theatre presents "Everywoman" a Regent special with an all-star cast.

The Lyric Pictures

"THE Rider of the King Log" by Holman Day is the special attraction today, at the Lyric theatre. Frank Sheridan and Irene Boyle have the leading roles.

The story of "The Rider of the King Log" has a theme of the great outdoors, and singularly, the locale for the production is the same location where Mr. Day originally wrote the book. All of the scenes were taken in Maine, and are some of the finest ever filmed.

The story is a timely drama and the leading characters are unusually true to life. Frank Sheridan, seen in the role of "X-K," Paramount, the hero of Mr. Day's story, is a splendid selection for that portrayal and in Miss Irene Boyle he has excellent support.

Of great interest to the theatre going public of this city is the announcement that, commencing on Wednesday and continuing thru the remainder of the week, George Loane Tucker's famous production "The Miracle Man" will be shown. When this picture was shown in Lima several years ago, many did not have the opportunity to witness it, but those who did not have since regretted it, for assuredly "The Miracle Man" is one of the best, if not the best, pictures ever released. There's a story that is above the average; a cast that is par excellence; acting that is remarkable.

Thomas Meighan has the leading role; Betty Compson, as Rose, girl crook, was elevated to stardom thru her work in this picture; Lon Chaney, in one of his famous "cripple" roles, is unforgettable; Joseph Dowling as the Miracle Man gives a wonderful characterization.

Those who have never seen "The Miracle Man" have a treat in store for them. Those who have seen it will want to see it again, for it's a picture that remains in your memory after other pictures have come and gone.

The Sigma Pictures

A comedy drama of the first water is "A Perfect Crime," Allan Dwan's production which opens a four day engagement today at the Sigma theatre.

The story is a simple one, embellished with sound philosophy, with plenty of romance, humor and pathos. Monte Blue has the leading role, being cast as Wally Griggs, working in a bank as messenger. He is despised for his timidity and laughed at for his awkwardness. He has only one friend, Mary, a little stenographer at the bank. Mary is a lonely girl, too, having just recently lost her father, and is all alone in the world, with her own living to make.

When Wally retires to his hall bedroom, however, it is found that he has a secret. For with the removal of his huge shell-rim glasses, a few straightening up exercises and added touches, he is a good looking young man. You see, Wally plans to rob the bank and part of the scheme is to establish another identity in the person of one James Brown, sportsman.

With this unusual start, the story spreads to wide proportions and the climax is one of the cleverest ever woven into a story. Jacqueline Logan, a former Polles star, plays opposite Monte Blue, and between these two young favorites they manage to do some of the best comedy work ever brought to the screen.

In addition to "A Perfect Crime" the Sigma's bill today includes a Ben Turpin comedy, "Love's Outcast" in which this cross-eyed king of the comics is seen in one of the funniest roles he has ever had. The Sigma's entire program today is one of comedy, which is perhaps, the most popular form of entertainment.

Alice Brady is scheduled to appear at this theatre on Thursday and for the week-end in "The Land of Hope" a Regent special release.

SHADES OF HEROES TO STALK ACROSS THE SCREEN

(BY ESTHER WAGNER.)

M OVIE producers in their mad quest for new screen material have taken shelter under the tree of knowledge.

They have turned to the libraries to find heroic cloaks for their stars who now shiver for the lack of stellar talent.

The German producers turned back the pages of history for the material for their masterpieces. Then Arliss did "Disraeli" and Fairbanks produced "The Three Musketeers."

Now the serial producers are thumbing the pages of histories for their episodes. Art Acord will produce an episode film called "Winners of the West." Captain John Fremont, Kit Carson and other pioneer heroes will be depicted.

Scenarios are also being written about Daniel Boone, Marion the Swamp Fox, Ethan Allen and others.

Stanley's expedition to find Livingston in the African Jungle is the basis of another new serial.

The short subject producer, who has long depended on natural history for much of his material, is now also rummaging through the literary and historical shelves for material.

Charles Urban is producing "The Great American Authors Series." Four reels, now completed, are about Washington Irving, Longfellow, Lowell and Whittier. They are semi-biographical and semi-literary and contain scenes of their birthplaces, tributes erected to them, visualized bits of their writings and biographical sketches.

Thus there may come a day when a prospective employer in filling out a questionnaire will relate what films he has seen rather than what schools he has attended.

ABOUT ARLISS

Doris Kenyon has been engaged as leading woman for George Arliss in his next production, "Idle Hands." Arliss is contemplating the production of "Richelieu" after he completes that picture. After his screen version of "Disraeli" it is difficult to picture any other actor so well-fitted to bring "Richelieu" to the screen.

NAZIMOVA

Nazimova has contracted for the release of her future productions thru United Artists, distributors for Pickford, Fairbanks and Griffith. Nazimova has selected Oscar Wilde's "Salome" as the companion picture to her "A Doll House" in her first repertoire program.

NEGRO COMEDIES

In the past decade the short story relating the humorous side of the negro has proved one of the most popular features of national periodicals.

Octavus Roy Cohen, Harris Dickson and W. A. P. John have used such stories for their principal stock in trade. Now two Satevepost stories written by Dickson have been made into two-reel comedies with all-negro casts.

Dickson supervised the filming of the stories in Vicksburg, Miss. They are "The Custard Nue" and "The Beauty Contest" and will be released by Pathé.

TULLY PLANS TO RE-SCREENED

Now that Richard Walton Tully has stuck his finger in the film pie, he seems about to turn his back upon the stage. Plans for screening "Omar, the Tent Maker" have already been made and now Tully is spending long hours writing contingencies for "The Bird of Paradise," "Keep Her Smiling," "The Flame" and a number of original scenarios and European plays which he recently acquired.

AT STUDIO KEYHOLES

The next Acrop film fable is "Venus and the Cat."

President Harding sees celluloid version of "Disraeli."

Go't jokes enacted by Gaylord

Irene Dalton. She's Lloyd Hamilton's leading woman in "The Adviser," a comedy satirizing correspondence law students.

Frank Mayo. He's an old Universal favorite. His next in "Dr. Jinx." His last was "The Shark-Master."

Pola Negri in "Gypsy Blood" at the Regent theatre today.

Lloyd in "A Zero Hero."

Thomas H. Ince is doing a screen version of "The Hotentot."

The castle in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is 226 feet long and 25 wide.

Ben Turpin has started for Chicago. He is to make a number of personal appearances in the middle West, pending the reopening of the Sennett lot when he will start on his starring contract there.

Howard Higginson, who has been production manager for Cecil B. De-Mille at the Lasky plant, has been elevated to the rank of director. His first star will be Wallace Reid in "Rent Free."

VODVIL SEASON AT THE ORPHEUM

STARTING tomorrow matinee and the first three days of the week the regular vaudeville season of 1921-22 will start at the popular market street playhouse. Manager Shaw has made different arrangements in the bookings this season and all acts playing the Orpheum this season will be seen before they are booked so far ahead that it was hard to change the bookings but from now on if an act is not up to the standard they will not be booked in Lima.

For the opening bill a dandy program will be offered. Manager Shaw knows that the majority of his patrons want comedy and that's exactly what is being booked. Starting tomorrow matinee and for Tuesday and Wednesday the following acts will hold the boards. Paul Savor, in an act billed, "The Assassinator of Sorrow," will offer something entirely new in a vaudeville specialty. Fuller and Vance, have an act that is replete with witty dialogue and is certainly bound to make a decided hit at the initial performance.

Fletcher and Terry are two famous comedians that absolutely say they will keep the audience in an uproar. Peggy Brennan and Brother have an act entitled, "The Imps Play-ground" which introduces a spectacle on unsupported ladders with special stage settings.

The big feature of tomorrow's program will be "The Follies of '81" introducing four old veterans from the civil war. This is the first appearance of this act in Lima, coming directly from Indianapolis where it is making an immense hit. There will be a big reduction in prices this season. The matinee prices are, 25c any seat downstairs, 15c any seat upstairs. The night prices are, 45c downstairs, 25c in the first balcony and 22c in the second balcony.

There will be an entire change of program on Thursday. On account of the "Great Richelieu" remaining here this Sunday the vaudeville will open on Monday but hereafter the NEW SHOW will always start on Sunday matinee giving changes on Sunday and Thursday of each week. Three shows daily, 2:30, 7:30 and 9:00.

DYED HER WRAP, SKIRT, SWEATER AND DRAPERIES

To dye or tint any worn, faded garment or drapery a new rich color that will not streak, spot, fade or run, just buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—and follow the simple directions in package. Then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed even if you have never dyed before. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. For fifty-one years millions of women have been using "Diamond Dyes" to add years of wear to their old, shabby waists, skirts, dresses, coats, sweaters, stockings, draperies, hangings, everything! adv.

INGROWN NAIL

Toughen Skin and Toe Nails Turns Out.

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

CUTICURA HEALS ECZEMA ON BABY

In Rash, Burned and Itched, Was Fretful and Cried at Night, Face Disfigured.

"When baby was six weeks old eczema broke out on his cheek in a watery rash and gradually spread until the whole cheek became a burning, itching eruption. It irritated so he would rub his face. His face was disfigured and he was fretful, waking and crying at night."

"The trouble lasted about ten weeks. Soap and Ointment and after using six cakes of Soap and one box of Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Fred Hargreaves, 108 Winchester Ave., Detroit, Mich.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

Sample Each Free by Mail Address: "Cuticura Lab., Dept. B, P. O. Box 100, Portland, Me., U.S.A." Send for free sample, Soap, Ointment and Talcum. 25c Cuticura Soap without charge.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

A SCOUT FOR VIRGINIA

By HUGH PENDMETER

The letter was from Governor Dunmore, who had dropped down to the mouth of the big Hockhocking. We passed the seventh and eighth of the month in making the camp sanitary and in building a shelter for the supplies yet to arrive down the river.

Three men came in from the Elk and reported that Col. Christian was camped there with 220 men. On the evening of the ninth Cousin and I were ordered out to scout up the river beyond Old Town creek. Cousin and I planned to keep along the Ohio shore until a few miles above Old Town creek, when we would separate, one returning along our course, the other circling to the east and swinging back thru the low hills. This double reconnaissance should reveal any spies. Cousin was in a new mood. There was a certain wild gaiety, rather a ferocious gaiety, in his bearing. His face looked almost boyish and his eyes were feverishly afloat. We halted when abreast of a stretch of marsh land and watched the starlight find a mirror in the water. After a protracted, silence Cousin abruptly asked:

"My sister said she was sending me a new sister, you say?"

"Those were her words."

"I wish she could know right now that she's always been my sister. She was just gone away for a little while. She found a mighty hard and rough trail to travel, I 'low. I 'low the Almighty will have to give her many belts afore He smooths out the path in her mind. Thank God she died white!"

"Amen to that!"

After a while we arose and continued up the river.

"No injuns 'along here," murmured Cousin.

We reached Old Town creek and crossed it without discovering any signs of the enemy. We went nearly two miles above the creek and turned back after deciding we would separate at the creek, he taking the hills route and I following the river. We returned to the creek and he was about to leave me when we both heard a new note, a splashing noise, very faint. Our hands met in a mutual desire to grab an arm to enforce attention.

"No fish made it," I whispered.

"No fish," he agreed. "There!"

The splashing came from across the several hundred yards of the Ohio's deep and silent current. It was repeated until it became almost continuous, and it gradually grew louder.

"Rats!" shrilly whispered Cousin. "They are paddling fast."

"Not! But there are many rats," he corrected.

We retreated upstream a short distance and concealed ourselves in a deep growth. To the sound of poles and paddles was added the murmuring of guttural voices. Then for a climax a raft struck against the bank and a low voice speaking Shawnee gave some sharp orders.

"One," counted Cousin.

As he spoke another raft took the shore, and then they grounded so rapidly that it was impossible to count them.

"There's a heap of 'em!" whispered Cousin. "Lucky for us they didn't fetch any daws along, or we'd be smelted out, an' have to leg it."

"I hear squaws talking."

"There's boys' voices, too. They fetched their squaws an' boys along to knock the wounded an' dying in the head."

"Then that means they feel sure of winning."

"Keep shut," cautioned Cousin. "There it is again! A Mingo talkin' a Seneca. I'd say—Hear that jabber! Delaware—Wyandot—Taway (Ottawa). With a blanket o' Shawnee pow-wow. By heavens, Morris! This is Cornstalk's whole force! They've larned that Dunmore is at the Hockhocking an' will be 'linit' up with Lewis any day, an' old Cornstalk thinks to lick Lewis afore Dunmore's men can get along!"

It was terrible to think of our army asleep only three miles away. I urged an immediate return but Cousin coolly refused to go until he had reconnoitered further.

"I want to look over them rafts. I can tell from them how many warriors come over, or pretty close to it."

He slipped away and it seemed a very long time before I heard the bushes rustle. Feeling his way to my side Cousin gravely informed me:

"There's seventy-eight or ninety rafts an' a few canoes. It's goin' to be a fine piece o' fightin'. At least there's 1,000 warriors." I estimated our army at 1,100 and I thanked God they were all frontiersmen.

We worked north until we felt safe to make a detour to the east. About an hour before sunrise we were at the head of the marsh, and in time to witness the first act of the war's great drama. Two men were working out of the fallen timber, and Cousin threw up his double-barrel rifle. I checked him, saying:

"John Sevier's younger brother, Valentine. T'other is Jim Robertson."

"Then Lewis knows. He sent 'em to scout the camp."

"They're after game. Signal them. They know nothing about the injuns!"

Cousin risked discovery by standing clear of the bushes and waving his hat. "There comes two more of 'em!" he exclaimed.

This couple was some distance behind the Watauga boys, but I recognized them. One was James Mooney. The other Joseph Hughey. I jumped out and stood beside Cousin and waved my arms frantically. At first they were slow to understand, thinking, as Sevier told me afterward, that I was pointing out some game. Then they turned to run, Robertson and Sevier firing their rifles to the woods to the north of us. From the woods came the noise of a large body of men advancing. A ripple of shots were sent after the hunters. Hughey and Mooney halted and returned the fire. A streak of red some distance ahead of the Shawnees' position and close to the river bank dropped Hughey dead.

Mooney, Robertson and young Sevier were now running for the camp, passing between the Ohio bank and the marsh. We raced after them. The Indians kept up a scattering fire and they made much noise as they spread out thru the woods in battle line. They supposed we were the scouts of an advancing army.

By the time Cousin and I passed the lower end of the marsh small bodies of Indians were making for the hills along Crooked creek, others were following down the Ohio inside the timber, while their scouts raced recklessly after us.

Mooney was the first to reach Col. Lewis. Mooney shouted:

"More'n four acres covered with injuns at Old Town creek!"

Rising, but with no show of haste, Lewis called to Cousin and me:

"What about this?"

"An attack in force, sir, I believe," I panted.

He glanced at Cousin, who nodded and then ducked away.

"I think you are mistaken," the colonel coldly remarked. "It must be a big scouting party." I tried to tell him what Cousin and I had seen and heard. But he ignored me and ordered the drums to beat. "To Arms!" But already the border men were turning out and diving behind logs and rocks even while the sleep still blurred their eyes.

(Concluded tomorrow.)

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

MISS LUTIE LEAVES

"My, but you young people look jolly here," she began, smiling her queer, twisted smile, which was anything but indicative of joy.

"Come in and warm yourself, Miss Lutie, do," urged Beth, hospitably. Beth was invariably kind to everybody, gossips included. So at her invitation the grim intruder minced forward to a large armchair and proceeded to make herself comfortable.

Miss Lutie as an older member of society of course did not belong to this rather exclusive set, but she was always eager to hear what they were up to. Her curiosity increased with her years.

The telephone rang shortly afterward and Beth skipped to answer it, mentally devising a plan to get rid of Miss Lutie, as she took up the receiver.

"Yes, this is Mrs. Wilders. Good evening, Mrs. Vane. Yes, thank you, everyone is well over here. Mrs. King's front parlor is full of men? Well, I just wonder now. Miss Laura's too old for them to be the courting kind, but maybe well find out all about it tomorrow. You can only see the legs of the crowd. Too bad she didn't think to leave the shades all the way up, Mrs. Vane." She laughed Beth, as she hung up. She had deliberately raised her voice while talking, so that it would be carried into the living room and her little ruse worked, for when she returned Miss Lutie was already getting into her lavender muffler and explaining that she really must go.

As the door closed upon her spare form, Beth went into gales of laughter. "You girls can thank me for getting rid of the old gossip. She's on her way now to try to catch Miss Laura at something, mark my word! And Mrs. Vane only said that 'the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker' were ringing. Miss Laura's doorbell and were coming to collect the money for Fair day!"

Even as she was laughing with her friends, Beth suddenly straightened up anxiously at the sound of Miss Lutie's voice speaking with someone at the gate. Then came the deeper rumble of a man's voice and in an instant she was out of the room and calling to her husband frantically. Anything to distract his attention from Miss Lutie and to help her progress toward Miss Laura's house.

"That club of yours still in session, Beth?" called the tactless one loudly. Then, to her dismay, Beth saw him turn to Miss Lutie and ask her what she thought of "The Disgruntled Wives' Club."

Next came the sound of Miss Lutie's response, oh, so beguiling, questioning concerning this new club. Her every note registered an ignoble curiosity. The deep, masculine answer and explanation was followed by a hearty roar and a titter from the lady. Then the sound of Dick's "Night, Miss Lutie. An' when you get married, just you drop around and join our merry circle of disgruntled ones!"

There was a deathly stillness as Dick came whistling cheerily into the house. At sight of his wife's white, set face, he stopped and asked her what was the matter. For once Beth Wilders shook her fist at him and forgot all her mandates as to the proper behavior to be expected of a wife.

"You are an idiot, Dick Wilders. Furthermore, you are downright mean."

"What's all the row about?" asked her husband.

"You great, big loud standing there and making fun of us and letting Miss Lutie have a new bit of scandal from our house. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. I hate you, Dick Wilders, hate, hate, HATE you!" And here Beth stamped her foot violently and ran back to her guests.

At her vivid report to them all became chaos. One by one the voices were raised in walls and protests. It would have gone hard with Miss Lutie had she been in the room then.

"I told you how Dick was. He's the meanest man alive. And I'm thru being disgruntled, girls, I'm determined," said Beth with a savage nod of her head. "This is going to be fought to a finish. Either he comes to my point of view and agrees to let me develop myself, as well as cook his meals, or I get out."

ELIDA

By MRS. RACHEL TRIFER

Rev. F. G. Boruff and wife had the pleasure of entertaining 43 people from Mendon, Ohio, Sept. 22. A picnic was served in the church basement. Rev. F. G. Boruff was formerly pastor of the M. E. church at Mendon before coming to Elida a year ago.

The U. B. W. M. A. will hold a missionary institute here Oct. 2 and 4. Mrs. O. B. Knoff of Toledo, will be one of the speakers.

Rev. F. G. Boruff and wife spent the day Friday with friends at Forest, Ohio.

The following young people of the Epworth class: Misses Agnes Boruff, Irene Kehrhar, Ruth Montague, Lucille Harner, Agnes Blinnick, Louise Miller and Hazel Miller, Mowbray, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Robert Furry, Nite Miller and Fred Kober, chaperoned by Prof. J. J. Williams, motored Friday evening to the Harner home at Allenstown where they enjoyed a warmer roast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Enlen and daughter, Gretia, entertained Wednesday at dinner Rev. William Frank and family, moving here from McMillan, Ohio, to take charge of the A. E. B. parish.

NEW RECORD MADE BY STUDEBAKER

Speed and Endurance Run on The Island of Hawaii.

Another important addition to the long string of notable records established by the Studebaker Light-Six has just been registered, this time around the island of Hawaii which a stock model Light-Six touring car circled in the remarkable time of 9 hours and 20 minutes, smashing the previous best mark by 2 hours and 30 minutes. The 236.8-mile circuit of the island was made on a night run, the start being made from Hilo at 10 p. m., and the driver, Jack Ness, checking back at this town at 7:20 o'clock the following morning.

Cable reports forwarded to E. H. Hawisher, local Studebaker distributor, refer to the run around the island of Hawaii as a "trip of terrors," with the roads in places extremely difficult to negotiate even for a car of light weight and far more severe on heavier machines.

The Light-Six making this run was the same car that previously lowered three other time marks on the island during its 3,000 miles of service. In all these performances not a single mechanical adjustment was required. This car, Ness being the pilot in each instance, now holds all of the most important records on the island including, in addition to its latest achievement, the following:

Waimea-Kawahia record, stiffest climb on the island, a 12.5-mile trip involving an ascent from sea level to an altitude of 2600 feet. The Studebaker made the trip in 1 hour and 5 minutes.

Hilo to the Volcano, an almost steady uphill climb of 23 miles, in 54 minutes.

Waiohona to Hilo, in 2 hours and 11 minutes.

DAVIS MANAGER TALKS OF NEW AUTO DEMAND

The peak of the demand for automobiles is still in the distant future. There are 6,000,000 automobiles in actual service today, but, in the opinion of economists the saturation point will not be reached until there are 20,000,000 motor cars in daily service carrying people and products back and forth, providing the convenience and comfort and quick transportation which the American people demand.

"There can be no let-up in the demand for automobiles until the motor car has become practically universal," is the opinion of Mr. Walter C. Davis, secretary and sales manager of the Davis Motor Car Company. "The American people will have it no other way. In the past two decades the automobile has become too vitally a part of our every day life, and its sphere of service is constantly widening.

"The motor car has replaced millions of horse-drawn vehicles. And it has replaced them with transportation of a vastly superior sort. The motor car has given us a new standard of living, and new standards of business, new opportunities for self development, for recreation, and for the creation of wealth.

"We in the industry have unbounded faith in the future of the automobile. It meets the insatiable demand of the American people for more transportation without which business would come to a standstill."

GLAD TO SELL TIRES TO THIS HARD DRIVER

"There's one man I've always wanted to sell tires to," says Mr. Ehling, local Dayton Tire dealer. "He's a friend of mine, and he's a hard driver. I've watched him and I know that the tires he uses have to show what kind of stuff is in them."

"Well, one day he came into the store and said, 'I've noticed your advertising of Dayton Tires. I have a lot of tire trouble—guess it's because I drive hard—and I think I'll try a Dayton. How much mileage will it give me?'"

"Ask me something easy," said Mr. Ehling. "That's a hard question to answer for two reasons—first because Dayton has an awful lot of miles built into them, and second because I know how you drive—how you punish your tires. But I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll put a Dayton on your car and back it to give more service under hard treatment than any tire you've ever had."

"That interested him and he bought a Dayton. It's been on for several weeks now and the other day he came in and said that, much to his surprise, it hasn't even begun to show wear. I'm not betting how long it will run, but I do know he's going to be surprised by the amount of punishment Dayton will stand."

TOO ANXIOUS TO QUIT SHANGHAI—Yen Heng-ti, employed by M. Hampton, showed such anxiety to resign that Hampton became suspicious. A search of Yen's luggage revealed several pieces of clothing belonging to his employer.

PREST-O-LITE REDUCES AGAIN

Through its local distributor, The Lima Battery Service Co., Prest-O-Lite Co., Inc. announces a 30 per cent reduction in the price of a model for Fords and other light cars. This particular model is now down to the trade-in price of $23.50, which is lower than the 1917 price.

In September, 1920, this battery sold for $35.90. In December the price was reduced to $31.15. The Lima Battery Service company reports that the sales on this and other Prest-O-Lite batteries are unusually large and they predict a big fall business.

"Some people are skeptical when we tell them that they can get a genuine Prest-O-Lite Battery for as little as $23.50," says Mr. Aydelotte, of the Lima Battery Service Company, "but when we show them the actual battery with the name Prest-O-Lite on it, they are convinced."

"I can realize what a surprise it is to the average motorist to learn that he can get a genuine Prest-O-Lite Battery for $23.50. He knows that the Prest-O-Lite is a strictly high-grade, high-powered, first-quality battery. He knows that it was selling in September, 1920, for $35.90. He knows that even as late as December, 1920, that this battery sold at $31.15. It requires considerable mental adjustment to realize that this battery is now only $23.50."

"Since the announcement of this second reduction there has been a steady line-up of Fords and other light cars at our service station."

Most of the ice in England is transported from Norway in special fast wooden ships.

FRANKLIN SALES INCREASE

Shipments of Franklin cars from the Syracuse factory for the first three weeks of September were over 10 per cent in excess of the same period in August, a straw, which, in the opinion of officials of the Company, points to a healthy fall business.

FACTORY SERVICE MEETING Distributors representing the Nash Motor Company in various sections of the country will gather at the factory in Kenosha October 5, 6, and 7 to attend the Company's regular fall service meeting. The distributors will be accompanied by their respective service managers.

MANUFACTURER IS OPTIMISTIC

B. A. Gramm Predicts Great Prosperity Motor Trucks.

"We are at the threshold of a new transportation era, which will be a revelation to those who have given it but a passing thought; but to those of us who have given the best years of our lives to pioneering and working out our visions of motor transportation, there will come great satisfaction in seeing its realization in the near future," writes B. A. Gramm, president of the Motor Truck Manufacturers' Association and vice president and general manager of the Gramm-Barstien Motor Truck Co.

"The past twelve months of depression have in various ways delayed our progress, but they have aided us in arriving at a more completely correct basis from which to start our next period of growth; so that the next five years will see greater development than would have been had the country remained normal."

"Recent conditions have also taught us to pay more attention to the business conditions made by our economic experts and to realize that our university departments of political economy have become fairly accurate fortune-tellers. They have been able to figure out from a mass of statistical figures gathered the world over, just when, how and where changes should take place, affecting our business conditions. Looking back, we realize these facts, but previously we had never thought of hard times when good times were on. Consequently, it did not take as smart a man to make money as it did to know when to stop and keep what he had made; likewise, few of us know how to spend our earnings or when to stop spending."

"The motor truck industry is passing thru its second cycle. The duration of the first—its relationship to horse delivery—was greatly extended, because of the overshadowing influence of the passenger car industry, which for several years, selfishly in a way, forgot its big business brother, which, after all, thru its economic usefulness, must help provide the means for future stability of the entire automotive industry."

"That the motor truck industry

WASTE OILS SPRING

If a piece of oiled waste is placed between the springs and the frame, it will keep the spring oiled for several days. The jostling of the car squeezes the oil out of the waste. The oil seeps into the spring and works out to the tips of the leaves.

Is closely approaching its boom period as we enter the new transportation era should be evident to any one who will but open his eyes in any city with a population of 25,000 or more, and note the line-up of motor trucks ranging from 3-4-ton up to the 5-ton capacities, as they start out from factories, packing plants, wholesale groceries, etc., wending their way over the highways to all the surrounding towns and villages, delivering direct to the door, without additional cost of packing; delivering in a few hours what used to take days to do, assuring prompt arrival of perishable goods at the door of the consumer when they are in the best condition and command the highest prices, and in addition contributing to a quicker turn-over of capital for both wholesaler and retailer.

"If those men who are to solve our transportation problems will catch the vision and approach their task in a broad, unselfish spirit, the great new economic transportation era, with its many benefits to humanity, will be upon us overnight."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

More Autos Built For Service

The motoring public is adjusting itself into a body of comfort and service seekers. Less and less do automobile dealers get demands for speed and power. Instead, there comes an increased call for endurance, ease and comfort.

At a recent census of automobiles over the country, the American Automobile Association found that most of the automobile purchasers today demand endurance above all requisites in a car. Therefore, manufacturers have directed their efforts toward more efficient engines, sturdier chassis and, most important of all, good service.

For endurance, power and speed have been sacrificed to a large extent. Four cylinder cars have never been as popular as they are today. Out of some 190 cars models manufactured today, 105 have six-cylinder engines and more than 60 have four cylinders. But there are more four cylinder automobiles on the streets than there are any other kind. Only eleven four-cylinder models are sold below $1000.

Smaller bore engines have come to the front. The recent races at Indianapolis and Le Mans, France, have proven the value of this form of power plant.

Ease and comfort in riding have been the aim of engineers who are concentrating on spring and chassis designs.

The arrival of the enclosed car has been another step toward making driving as comfortable for the motorist as possible. It has meant less speed and greater strain on the engine but its rapid growth in popularity proves the decline in the desire for speed.

RATTIGAN COMET IS SPEED KING

World's Train Records Smashed On Reading System.

By PAUL H. EGOLF

PHILADELPHIA—(International News Service)—Fifty-six and one-half miles in fifty minutes, with a train of twelve steel Pullmans, is the latest regularly scheduled speed record established by the world's speed laboratory—the Philadelphia-Atlantic City line of the Philadelphia and Reading railway system. The average speed of the latest "flier" is sixty-seven miles an hour, a world's record far above its nearest competitor.

The "speed laboratory" is a stretch of track rarely found in the railroad world. In places there are long, straight stretches, all curves being under 1 per cent, and the grades are negligible. In the run from Blue Anchor to Cologne, N. J., there is a stretch of eighteen miles in a mathematically straight line. Another straight run is seven miles in length. For several years the Atlantic City Express has been credited the "fastest train" in the world by the encyclopedias, with a scheduled speed of sixty-one miles an hour. But that figure was printed before the creation of high-speed locomotives was given special attention.

One of the first attempts in the speed line was Engine 348, a product of the Reading shops. Combined with "Mike" Rattigan, a veteran, engineer, and Dan Devaney, star fireman, she succeeded in logging a few minutes off the running schedule.

With her performance as a basis, five new engines were recently built and are now running over the line, pulling the crack expresses to the shore and return.

TABLE OF RATTIGAN'S COMET

So far Engine 120 has captured the title of "Speed Queen," and she works the 5:10 express, in conjunction with the old "348." Rattigan personally gave his attention to "120" when she arrived fresh from the shops and spent some time "running her in" at slow speeds until her bearings were polished to mirror brightness for high-speed work. Then, one day recently, he "tried her out" on a special train.

Tales of that run are still going the round of the round-houses and offices of the company. They tell of blanched faces peering from car windows, while telegraph poles formed a blur at the side of the track. "Mike" grimly leaning out the cab window, with set teeth, eyes squinted, urging the "big girl" to still more speed, and the huge locomotive shrieking in response as she crashed past grade crossings in a fraction of a second. The appearance of the rail flier as it crossed the data approaching Atlantic City earned it the name of "Rattigan's Comet."

According to the round-houses, when Mike climbed down from the cab and looked at his watch it was just forty-one minutes after he had left the Camden terminal, despite the fact that he had to run slowly thru Camden and reduce speed to six miles an hour for the Atlantic City drawbridge.

The average speed for the trip was eighty-three miles an hour, while on certain sections "120" had exhibited a liking for a pace well above the hundred-miles-an-hour mark.

GO'N MORE COMING UP

Having shown what she could do "120" settled down to her lifework of hauling the shore expresses at a slower rate of speed. The regular scheduled time of the train, fifty minutes, is only approached by a Great Western Railway train, in England, with a scheduled speed of 58.2 miles an hour, and a Great Northern Railway train of the same country, with an average speed of 52 miles an hour.

Despite the high velocity of the trains which Rattigan operates he has never had an accident, or a wreck. His record for being on time is perfect. Also he has never "walked out" on a strike. He and his fireman, Devaney, hold not only the speed record, but the economy record for the Reading system, having made the round trip to Atlantic City on 7,700 pounds of coal.

Now the eyes of the round-houses are turned toward "120" and her sister engine. Any day may see them enter a second-splitting contest with the "Speed Queen," if one of them gets a chance at hauling a "special."

And Now—The Greatest Value—the 1922 DAVIS at $1695

At $1695 the 1922 Davis touring car is beyond all doubt the greatest dollar for dollar value in the world's automobile market today.

Here is the final answer to your question, "Which car gives me the utmost value for every dollar of its cost?"

For the 1922 Davis is a car of extraordinary ability, performance and beauty at a price that is now lower than a car of like design, of equal style and distinction and ability has ever sold!

We have been building fine automobiles for twelve years and the 1922 Davis is our greatest car, and its price is lower.

The Davis has always been "Built of the Best." We have steadfastly refused to build a car on the basis of price alone—price has always been a secondary consideration to quality. And now, in the 1922 Davis, we have produced a car of Davis quality, of Davis character, and of Davis reputation—at new low prices that set a new standard of value—the very maximum of value for the money.

See the beautiful new 1922 Davis and compare it with any car, by any standard. Judge it by its beauty, performance, style, value—and now by its price. And then decide!

You cannot buy more for your money.

Comfortable Winter Driving

WHETHER you own a Ford touring car or roadster, you need not deny yourself the convenience of driving during the cold winter weather. By using your present top and attaching to it the Close Tite Winter Top Attachment, your car will be just as snug and warm as a coupe or sedan.

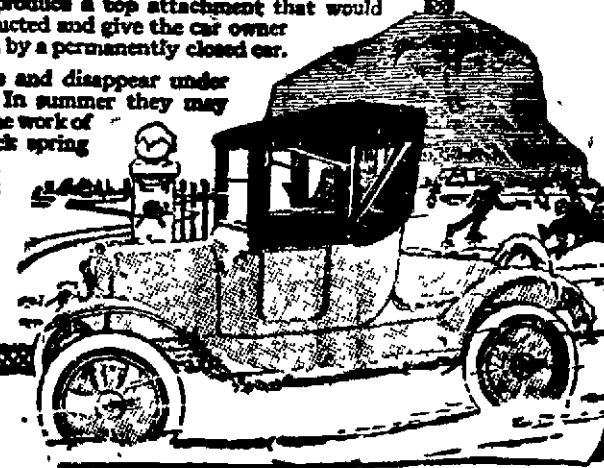

Rain, snow and storms do not affect the owner of an open car if he has equipped it with this practical and serviceable top enclosure.

CLOSE TITE WINTER TOP ATTACHMENT

The Close Tite is the result of the efforts of a large top manufacturing plant with unlimited facilities to produce a top attachment that would be attractively designed and constructed and give the car owner the protection and comfort afforded by a permanently closed car.

The curtains slide in steel channels and disappear under the top similar to a roll top deck. In summer they may be kept up permanently. The frame work of the curtains is made of a durable grade of all transparent Pyralite and slide up and down smoothly.

We will be glad to tell you more about the Close Tite and show you the advantages of having it on YOUR car.

NOTED SPEAKERS COMING HERE

Methodist Divines to Address W. H. M. S. Meeting.
300 DELEGATES REGISTER
Sessions at Trinity Church, October 11 to 14.

Three hundred delegates, representing six states, were registered up to Saturday night for the Cincinnati branch meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, which will convene in Trinity Methodist church opening Tuesday, October 11, and continue until the following Friday.

Women will come from Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and West Virginia, to attend. Among the leading dignitaries who will be present are included Bishop Nicholson, Chicago, and Dr. Bert Smith, superintendent of the International Sunday school adult department.

The Cincinnati branch meeting was held in Lima 17 years ago. Its work has been so extended and activities increased until the meeting then was a mere handful in comparison with the big event scheduled for the early part of October.

A feature of the meeting will be a parade, probably on Wednesday night, in which will be shown 15 new Ford cars. These will be loaned by the Timmerman Ford sales agency for the purpose. It will represent the number of Ford cars which the Cincinnati branch has sent during the past year to its missionaries to aid the work in foreign fields.

Mrs. Howey and Miss Harriet Howey, wife and daughter of the Rev. M. C. Howey, former pastor of Epworth M. E. church several years ago, will be present at the convention, bringing a first-hand message from the work in foreign fields. For the past five years Miss Howey has labored in Japan. Mrs. Howey is supported by Trinity church, Lima, in her work.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Lima women who will head the various committees in charge of the convention are as follows: On finance, Mrs. Davis J. Cable and Mrs. Fred Bradley; registration, Mrs. E. T. Lippincott; publicity, Mrs. Rosa E. Tullon; meals, Mrs. L. E. Justice and Mrs. Louise Long; courtesies, Mrs. Walter D. Cole; badges, Mrs. G. A. Herrett; hospitality and trains, Mrs. S. M. Williams; reception, Mrs. L. H. Rogers; music, Mrs. H. M. Dille; information, Mrs. Dora Stockton; post-office, Miss Harriet Kerkie; check room, Mrs. Fred Biskantz; rest room, Mrs. F. B. Easton; young people's work, Mrs. David E. Helms; recreation, Mrs. Foss Zartman; pages and ushers, Mrs. Carl Kommitsky; children's department, Mrs. A. O. Dole; decorations, Mrs. L. C. Binkley; local representative of the program committee, Mrs. H. D. Zurnmehly; general chairman of the branch meeting, Mrs. C. V. Stephens.

Delegates will be entertained at the Argonne and Barr hotels where special arrangements have been made for their reception.

If Stomach is Out of Order —"Diapepsin"

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate relief, but lasting relief. This harmless natural helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal grating. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.—Adv.

LIMA RELATIVES TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF WAR HERO IN EAST

Information has been received here of the arrival of the body of Clarence Kahle, late of Franklin, Pa., in Hoboken on October 6. Kahle was a nephew of Dr. A. W. Kahle, 122 S. Collett-st.; Dr. R. D. Kahle, 201 S. Collett-st. and P. A. Kahle, 1202 W. Market-st., all of whom will probably go to Franklin, Pa., for the funeral services.

Kahle served in the world war, a pilot in the aviation service. He served in France 14 months before he was killed. He received injuries which proved fatal on October 2, 1918.

Kahle was twice decorated for bravery and received the Distinguished Service Medal and the Croix de Guerre. The body will be taken to his home in Franklin, Pa., for burial. He had frequently visited in Lima before entering the war.

WIFE GIVEN DIVORCE; SUPPORT IS ORDERED

Judge P. C. Becker acted on two divorce cases Saturday and one decree was granted.

SRM. Mary Lakioevich was granted a divorce from her husband Vase P. Lakioevich on the grounds of neglect. She was restored to her maiden name of Mary Stoganevich.

Judge Becker granted Mrs. J. H. Jannings $11 a week support and maintenance for herself and their minor children. Jennings is seeking a divorce.

Jennings must also pay his wife $40 for fees for her legal counsel.

SINGLE OBSEQUIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Jacob Slagle, who died at her home in Bath-tu Friday night, will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m., at Perry Chapel. The Rev. L. R. Wingert, pastor of the Church of God, will officiate. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery, near Kenton.

APPLES

Just received car load select Utah Jonathan apples in bushel baskets. Pennsylvania tracks between West and McDonells. Prices as cheap as possible. Open for sale Monday morning.

S. M. FLETCHER

MINISTER GOES ON TRIAL MONDAY

California Preacher Accused of Murdering Wife.

LAKEPORT, Calif. — The Rev. John Spencer, former Presbyterian minister of Fulton, Calif., and before that a country doctor in Oklahoma, will go on trial here Monday, charged with the murder of his wife.

The state alleges that Rev. Spencer threw his wife from a canoe into Clear Lake.

Infatuation for another woman, named Mrs. E. B. Barber, of Santa Rosa, Calif., and a desire to obtain possession of his wife's property were set up by the state as the motives for the alleged murder.

The Rev. Spencer, who has devoted himself to evangelistic work among the handful of prisoners in the jail here since his arrest, stoutly maintains he is innocent.

Mrs. Spencer, he claims, fell from the canoe and was drowned while he was busy tying the little craft to its moorings.

The Spencers were married in 1907 in Dayton, Ohio.

HOLLORAN AND DALEY LEASE CONCESSIONS AT K. OF C. HOME

It became known Saturday that a deal was consummated during the past week in which the bowling alleys, the billiard hall and the cigar stand at the Knights of Columbus building have all been leased by Bernie Halloran and Tom Daley.

The new operators took charge of the concessions Saturday. Several thousand dollars are involved in the transaction.

Both Halloran and Daley are well known locally. They have been connected with the Knights of Columbus Recreation building for a year.

Before going there, Halloran was a clerk to the board of the county commissioners and Daley was connected with the Stolzenbach Baking company.

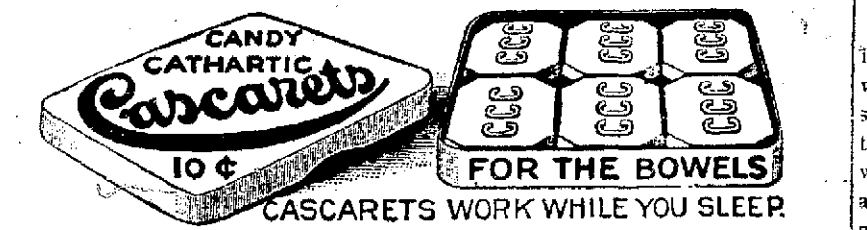

An elaborate opening is being planned by Halloran for Wednesday and Thursday night, when the bowling alleys will be thrown open to the public.

BODY ENROUTE HOME

Mrs. E. M. Sonntag, 691 E. Metcalf-st., received word Saturday that the body of her son, Charles Henry Sonntag, killed in the world war, October 9, 1918, will arrive in Hoboken on October 6. The body will be brought to his home in Lima for burial.

CONSTIPATION UPSETS STOMACH, KEEP YOU HEADACHY, BILIOUS

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night with Cascarets. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten your stomach; remove the fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess milt from your liver and carry off the waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then you feel great. A Cascarets to-night will straighten you up by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular for months. Children love Cascarets too.—Adv.

LIMA DIME SAVINGS BANK IS CITY'S NEWEST FINANCIAL INSTITUTION

COMMERCIAL AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS SOLICITED BY NEW BANK WHICH OPENS NEXT SATURDAY

Lima's newest financial institution, The Lima Dime Savings Bank, will open its doors to the public next Saturday, October 8th, in the handsome new quarters at 130 South Main street, just two doors south of the square on the west side of the street between the old Harold Cunningham Drug Store and the Spyker Hardware.

The Lima Dime Savings Bank is incorporated under the general banking laws of the state of Ohio and will conduct commercial and savings departments just as do the other banks of the city. The officers invite checking accounts as well as savings accounts. The tremendous success of similar institutions in Detroit and Cleveland led the directors to a realization that there was a decided need for another bank in this city.

In the Commercial or Checking department 2% interest will be paid on monthly balances of $500 or more. Interest will be computed on time deposits in multiples of thirty days. In that way if funds are withdrawn inside of three months, the usual interest drawing period, interest will be paid for each full month.

In the savings department deposits made on or before the 15th of each month will draw interest from the preceding first day of the month. In this way the Dime bank will split the month evenly with the depositors giving them five more days of grace than is customary.

The above features which are unusual will make the Dime Savings Bank a popular institution.

The motto of the Lima Dime Savings Bank will be "Service." "We want to greet the small depositor." This said Ira E. Wagner, president, "with the same good will as we do the man with a million. We want to treat all alike with the utmost courtesy and respect. We want everyone to feel they can send their children to us with safety."

On the opening day next Saturday it is planned to take a group picture on that day at 2 o'clock. This picture will be enlarged and framed and hung in the lobby of the bank in honor of the first depositors. In later years when these children grow to be successful men and women, which is possible to those who start the saving habit early in life, they can point with pride to the picture which represents their start in life. Then also there will be no little honor attached to those who were the first depositors of one of the large banking houses of the city.

The new building is a model of modern efficiency and convenience. The front is imposing with its Bedford sand stone and plate glass. As one enters the door he is impressed with the beauty and good taste that has been incorporated in the decorating of the interior. The walls are rich ivory finish with panels of tapestry paper of subdued colorings.

The wainscoting, cabinet work and fixtures are of solid quarter sawed oak. To the right of the lobby within a railing will be the president's office where Mr. Wagner may be accessible at all times to business visitors. Behind this are the counting offices and in the center to the rear is the main vault with huge walls twenty inches thick built by the Diebold Lock & Safe Co. In this vault will be a safe for cash and securities and the safe deposit boxes. Another vault is located immediately under this vault in the basement for the safe guarding of other valuables.

One of the features of the offices will be the room set aside as a rest room for patrons, especially women and children, where friends may be met and a rest taken in the easy chairs. This room is situated behind the vault and is accessible from the lobby as is also the conference room where patrons may take their business associates for discussions and the transaction of personal business.

The banking room is equipped with the latest office devices necessary to a modern bank, which were supplied by the Lima Office Supply Co. The floors are covered with heavy battleship linoleum furnished

BASE-BALL PLAYERS TO BE GUESTS OF ROTARY

The players on the four baseball teams entered in the city league during the past summer will be guests of the Rotary Club at a 6:30 p. m. dinner to be given at the Elks Home, Monday.

More than 160 reservations have been made. H. E. Simonson, chairman of the dinner committee stated Saturday, E. B. Schumaker, Detroit, will be the speaker of the evening. He bears the reputation of being a very fine entertainer and during the war spent considerable time overseas as a "Y" director.

Music will be furnished by Fockmatt Jackson, who officiated at a majority of the games as an umpire will act as toastmaster.

Not In Years Have You Seen Such Values As These

FALL SUITS

$25.00 $35 and $40

The unusually attractive prices are important—very! Yet important as they are, the savings are overshadowed by this fact: Only the best of everything has been put into these Suits.

Finer clothes cannot be produced at the price. That's a certainty, for our volume of business makes possible these great values.

The Jolley-Chenoweth Store Savings Place at 204 West Market

IRA E. WAGNER President

by R. T. Gregg & Co. The men behind the Lima Dime Savings Bank are all men of high character and integrity and well known in the community.

Ira E. Wagner, the president, has been associated in the loan business for the past fifteen years, ten years in Celina and the past five years as head of the Wagner Loan company of this city. This company was organized with a capital of $25,000 all paid in. Within a year it had been increased to $50,000 and now has a capital stock of $125,000 fully paid. The Wagner Loan Company, however, will be connected in no way with the Dime Savings Bank but it augurs well for the new bank to have a man at the head of it with the guiding genius of Mr. Wagner.

The Lima Dime Savings Bank has been organized with a capital and surplus of $55,000 and with the following officers and directors:

OFFICERS:
Ira E. Wagner, President.
J. M. Mills, Vice President.
G. Swank, Vice President.
Eugene Lippincott, Secretary.
F. A. Thomas, Treasurer.
Ernest Mills, Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
F. D. Bradley, C. P. Thomas, John F. Jarvis, G. Swank, Eugene Lippincott, J. R. Tilleston, J. M. Mills, F. A. Thomas, Ira E. Wagner.

PLEA IS MADE BY JANE ADDAMS

Calls on League to Champion Suffering Millions.

URGES U. S. RELIEF WORK

Women Determined to Prevent War, She Says.

By JANE ADDAMS
(In an interview with Milton Bromer of NEA Service).

LONDON — If the women of America knew the condition of shell-shocked Europe they would greatly care.

And if they cared, they would undoubtedly use their very great personal and political influence to bring about a swifter amelioration of conditions.

I know, of course, the wonderful work American people and American dollars and American food have been doing over here. But I know, too, that Americans are beginning to be just a bit weary of the constant appeals that are made to them.

They are mainly worried because they don't know the immense and pressing necessities that prompt the appeals. The main job is to inform them.

MILLIONS IN DISTRESS
I was over here last in 1919. In the two years that have elapsed there have, of course, been improvements in conditions in some of the countries, but I can't say that the sum total of optimism about the future has very greatly increased. How could it?

There are widows and orphans everywhere. There are blinded and mutilated men. There are the millions of strong young men who will never more come back.

I have seen rich children and half-starved children and consumptive people until my heart is sick.

PLEA FOR SUCCESS
I think America, in conjunction with the nations of Europe that have succeeded fairly well in getting back on their feet, should help Austria.

I think, too, we should feed the starving in Russia without making so many "ifs" and "ands" about it.

You can be easily anti-Bolshevik as you please, but you can't be or shouldn't be anti-human. Say the lines of these suffering people now and think about their political and economic beliefs later.

NEED FOR LEAGUE
And that brings me to the subject of the League of Nations.

I come back to America from Europe a convert.

When the League was formed, I was for it. I am resigned for it.

Later I had reactions. I began to wonder to doubt.

But after a fresh contact with Europe, I no longer doubt.

I once more believe strongly in the League of Nations and heartily wish our country might associate itself with the work the League alone can do.

WHAT SUBSTITUTE?
I would like to see this way: If you abolish the League, or if it dies, what is there to take its place?

There is no answer.

I have been president of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom since its foundation in 1915 and have just been reelected at our meeting in Vienna.

At this meeting I came into contact with the women of 30 different nations. I not only heard of the troubles of shell-shocked Europe, but these representative women, but I learned their faith and hope in the League of Nations.

There was a universal feeling among the women that it was their job to see that no more wars are made possible.

They came to Vienna full of belief in their ability, because today women, then the franchise, have a power they never had before in the world's history.

LEAGUE'S BROADER DUTY
The one reservation I make with regard to the League of Nations is that possibly up to now it has concerned itself too much with the political phases of world problems.

I think the time has come now when it must deal with economic problems and, still more, with human problems.

It must concern itself with such things as the famine in Russia and the want in Austria.

It must help protect the weak, whether they be the under-dogs in industrial situations or racial minorities.

BOND DELIVERY IS DELAYED Awaits Passage of Assessing Ordinance For Lights.

Many interested onlookers are expected at council meeting Monday. The reason for their possible presence is the assessing ordinance for the boulevard lighting system which will probably be passed, councilmen state.

Until the ordinance is passed, it is claimed the issue of bonds amounting to $135,000 cannot be delivered. There were recently sold tentatively by City Auditor David L. Rupert.

During the past summer Rupert, in the face of a weak market, disposed of more than $1,000,000 worth of city notes and bonds.

Recommendation for the appointment of Mrs. Frieda Preston, 529 S. West street, as a member of the Board of Health, will probably be made by Mayor Burkhardt, according to Councilman Earl Rohn.

The recommendation is expected to be referred to the judiciary committee and be reported on later in the meeting. A number of members of council are now said to be in favor of confirming the appointment of a woman.

TO CONDUCT FIRST SERVICES SUNDAY

Calvary Reformed Pastor Arrives With Family.

Rev. Edgar Bruce Jacobs, who has been called to the pastorate of Calvary Reformed church, will conduct his first services here Sunday. The minister and his wife are residing in the manse, 855 Brice-ave.

The Rev. Mr. Jacobs is a native of Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of Ursinus college, near Philadelphia, and of Central Theological seminary, Dayton.

He comes to Lima from Thornville, Pa., where he has been pastor of Trinity Reformed church for almost six years. In point of service, he was the oldest minister in that country.

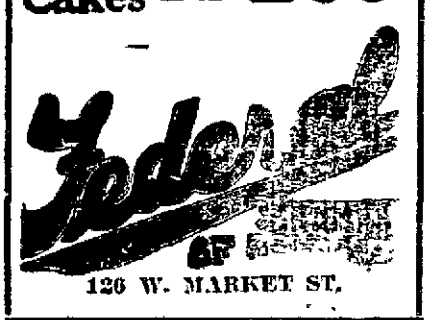

The new minister was superintendent of the young people's conference in the County Sunday school association there. He conducted the survey of churches two years ago and was president of the county ministerial association. He also held the position of chairman of the Thorn-tp Red Cross and was president of the dry federation.

Programme of Music by the Market Street Presbyterian Church Quartette, Sunday evening at seven o'clock. A cordial welcome to all.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Women candidates for members of the board of education were discussing their possible co-horts in the various wards and precincts, preparatory to lining up for the race before election.

But when the north side was reached, it was a problem to think of Republicans. Most everyone down there is a Democrat.

Mrs. W. B. Kirk, one of the candidates, solved the problem for herself. "I know Joe Reed," she said, "and he's a Republican."

Sam Schoonover, habitue of the "Y," was awakened by a noise in the night. He sat up listening. Toward morning he decided that the noise was not made by burglars, as he had at first thought. "I lost something tho," he declares;—"a night's rest."

Lester L. Morton, of the Club

Cigar Store, tells of a young man whom a girl was driving home in her automobile. It ran out of gas. They stopped at a filling station. "Give it 10 gallons," the youth shouted to the station attendant. Then he climbed out and whispered, "Just put in two. I've only half a dollar with me."

Henry Jones attended a dance at a Lima park. Only 14 persons were present, nine of whom were men, so he decided to leave. There being no car for almost an hour, he walked in. More than 20 automobiles passed him at high speed, he says, taking the far side of the street. When he boarded a Market-st car at the end of the line the crew threw up their hands. They all thought he was a holdup man. He was as nervous as they were, as he carried his money in his shoe during the hike.

Fred Wilton, hardware salesman, met a friend who said, "You look tired out. You ought to take a vacation." Wilton said, "I just had a vacation. That's what made me tired."

Jim Morton went to a party and undertook to entertain the guests by balancing a glass of water on his chin. "All went well," he says, "until someone turned out the lights, and the water all went down my neck."

Hugh Burke went to a clam bake. "I would like them better," he said, "if the clams baked this far from ocean were a little less like leather washers."

MARIAN M'ARDLE PUT ON TRIAL

Third to Face Court in Daniel Kaber Murder.

DEATH PENALTY NOT SOUGHT

News in Brief Picked Up From Ohio Cities.

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press) — The trial of Marian M'ardle, charged with the first degree murder of Daniel Kaber, her stepfather, was begun today. She is the third to be tried in the case. The first, Mrs. Edna Smith, was acquitted, and the second, Mrs. Mary Brock, was found guilty and sentenced to life in prison.

County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton announced he would not seek the death penalty, but would demand a conviction for first degree murder.

The girl's knowledge of the plot to kill Kaber, which also involved Mrs. Mary Brock, her 69-year-old grandmother, will be admitted by the defense, according to Francis W. Poulson, assistant counsel for Mrs. M'ardle, but a general denial that she participated in the murder conspiracy will be offered.

That Miss M'ardle's devotion to her mother prevented her from interfering with or disclosing any details of the plot, will be one of the pleas offered. Attorney Poulson said.

Kaber was stabbed to death in his Lakewood home more than two years ago by hired assassins. Cula confessed when arrested in Buffalo, N. Y., that he held the invalid while Victoria Pisselli wielded the weapon. Mrs. Emma Calavito who is alleged to have procured Cula and Pisselli for Mrs. Kaber, is awaiting trial. Pisselli has not been apprehended.

Mrs. Kaber will be brought from the Marysville reformatory to testify for the defense.

Prosecutor Stanton is considering summoning New York detectives who arrested Miss M'ardle and her mother.

NEWMAN DENIES CHARGE OF BEING KEEPER OF A HOUSE OF ILL REPUTE

Grant Newman, colored, proprietor of a building house at 131 E. Wayne-st., was arrested before Judge Edmund Jackson in criminal court, Monday, on a charge of conducting a house of ill repute. He pleaded not guilty.

Newman was arrested after the police had obtained information from two men and two women, colored, arrested in a raid on the place Saturday night. They are: Mrs. Ruth Williams, 21, Mrs. Beatrice Green, 22, Willis Hardin, 39, and Arnold Manday, 25. The Williams girl was thought by the police to be a white woman, but when arrested she stated she was an orphan.

They were held as witnesses in the case against Newman.

LIMA BOY LOSES LIMBS IN ACCIDENT IN IDAHO

Relatives of George L. Hardin, a Lima boy, have gone to Boise, Idaho, in response to a telegram from that city that Hardin was in a hospital there, near death, the result of burns received when he came in contact with a wire carrying 6,000 volts of electricity.

He was employed at Emmett, Idaho, with the Idaho Power company. Surgeons stated that it would be necessary to amputate his left arm, his right arm and left leg. Hardin was returning home from a trip near the high voltage line when the accident occurred.

Guilford Hardin, Lima, R. D. 6 and James Mowley, Unipolis, uncles of Hardin, were notified of the accident.

WIFE'S CONDUCT LEADS TO SHOOTING AFFRAY, COURT SUIT CHARGES

Charges that his wife Beulah is guilty of misconduct with other men, P. A. Barber, Lima, has filed suit for divorce in common pleas court. He names Tommy Tomos, sometimes known as Harry Palmer, as the man in the case.

Barber and his wife were married in 1912, in Lima, and have one child, a daughter, Watheens, 8.

He charges that she neglected her household duties and was often absent for weeks at a time. During those periods he cooked his own meals, he said.

Mrs. Barber's alleged indiscretions with Tomos or Palmer, led to a shooting affray between the two, the petition recites. Barber got the worst of the duel, in which four shots were fired, he claims.

His petition states that one bullet inflicted a wound in the right arm and another placed the left leg. The other two projectiles are alleged to have passed thru his clothing.

The petition does not state in the petition just what happened to Palmer during the exchange of shots. But it does state that Mrs. Barber paid Palmer's hospital bill with the plaintiff's money. Barber asks that he be given the care and custody of their daughter.

Willite Company Seeks Funds For West Cairo Work.

Mandamus proceedings instituted against County Auditor C. R. Phillips by John W. Tait, of the Willite Construction company, were heard before Judge Fred C. Becker in common pleas court, Monday.

Suit was brought by the construction company to compel Auditor Phillips to pay from the repair or general fund sufficient money to build a road thru the village of West Cairo, authorized by the county commissioners.

The road has been long in dispute. It was advertised twice and for a time the commissioners would not certify it over, because they felt that it was illegally advertised.

An opinion from John L. Cable, then prosecutor, finally settled the point. When it was certified over, another snag was encountered in the auditor's office. At the time the commissioners let the contract there was money in the proper fund to pay, but it has since been spent on other roads.

The contractors seek to force Phillips transfer the money from the repair fund, so that construction may start.

WILLIAMS QUILTS

Resigns Place as Head of Federal Highway Council.

Personal interests have made it necessary for S. M. Williams to sever his connection with the Federal Highway Council. He has been chairman of this organization for the last four years.

Announcement of his resignation has just been received in Lima. During his service, which was without compensation, great headway in the development of the nation's highways was made. He has been located in Washington.

Mr. Williams has not announced his plans for the future, but has pledged his fullest cooperation in any possible manner in assisting in developing the highway system.

COSTS GOIN TO LOOK UPON WINE WHILE IT IS RED, THREE FIND

Walter Plummer 19, member of a terpsichorean troupe billed as the "Dancing Poets" had a few drinks of light wine at a party Sunday night, he told Judge Edmund Jackson in court Monday. Sergeant Strick arrested Plummer after midnight Monday for creating a disturbance near the Hudson restaurant.

"I had some wine," Plummer told the court, "and it went to my head. I never drank before."

"It'll cost you $15," was the comment of the court.

Joe Daly, 56, laborer, arrested for intoxication, told the court he had been drinking raisin brandy, but could not remember who sold it to him. He was fined $15. He resides in Mansfield, he told the police.

Joe Seamon, arrested while carrying a quantity of lemon extract, inside and out, paid a similar fine.

CAREERS SPLIT UP WEALTHY HOME

Harold F. McCormick and Wife Are Separated.

DIVORCE NOT YET SOUGHT

Millionaire Husband Confirms Domestic Break.

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Harold F. McCormick and his wife, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have separated, it was announced at the millionaire's Lake Forest home today.

McCormick, who is head of the International Harvester Company, in a statement issued to the United Press, thru his secretary, definitely confirmed rumors that have been afloat ever since Mrs. McCormick exhibited herself in Switzerland eight years ago.

"Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are living apart," said the statement. "It is not known whether or not there will be divorce proceedings. No steps toward legal action have been taken."

The statement concluded, "Mr. McCormick has nothing further to give out."

The secretary to John D. Rockefeller's son-in-law then smiled, "I do not know where Mr. McCormick is now. Perhaps I will not know all day."

Mrs. McCormick, who came back to Chicago, after her exile abroad in a psychological retreat, evaded all inquiries today.

She arose early—soon after dawn—according to reports, and slipped out of the servants' entrance to her palatial town home on the Gold Coast.

Mrs. McCormick, in her last public statement made yesterday, denied there had been a break with her husband.

"We are very happy indeed," she said. "We are very happy indeed."

Mrs. McCormick, the pretty 19-year-old daughter of the wealthy and socially prominent family, is understood to be with her mother.

Mrs. McCormick's friends, who would not allow their names to be used, said they believed that the desire of McCormick, Mrs. McCormick and their daughter, Mrs. McCormick, of their own cause the rift.

McCormick's friends, since she arrived here yesterday, had denied herself to several of her former close friends.

The socially prominent, whose palatial home lies the "Gold Coast"—were left to wonder whether Mrs. McCormick, in pursuit of her career, had renounced the position she alone had the right to claim—detachment of Chicago society.

Eight years ago, before Mrs. McCormick left for abroad, she shared the leadership in Chicago's upper set with Mrs. Potter Palmer.

Social lights expressed their belief when Mrs. McCormick returned, that "Chicago would be Chicago again," but when the news leaked out that several of Mrs. McCormick's former close friends had been unable to see her, they believed she might not re-enter the social field.

Mrs. Ed Stillman, center of the sensational divorce wrangle with her millionaire husband, James Stillman, is a close friend of the McCormicks. She recently took the "rest cure" at Lake Forest, while both McCormicks were away. Mrs. Stillman, the daughter, was the hostess.

Mrs. McCormick and Anne Stillman are known companions, are together either here or in the east frequently. Harold McCormick, Jr., is reported engaged to Anne, but there has been no announcement.

Three new ministers were welcomed into membership, Rev. Jacobus of Calvary Reformed church, Rev. Beck of the Second M. E. and Rev. Baumgardner of Epworth church.

WAS NOT ROBBED; SPENT MONEY AT PLAYING POOL

W. H. Fisher, cigarmaker, who reported to police Saturday night that he had been held up and robbed of $22.50 in an alley, admitted Monday to Chief of Police O. J. Roush that he had not been robbed, but had spent his money at playing pool, Chief Roush stated.

Fisher stated that he disliked telling his wife he had wasted his money at pool and invented the holdup story, police say.

He told police Saturday night that he had been held up in an alley soon after he left the Manhattan cafe at midnight to go to his home. He said the holdup was waiting for him in a shed. He had gone home, he left home, Fisher Monday.

MEN AND MATTERS

Fred Smith, 1404 Lowell-ave, exhibited at The News office Monday flowers taken from what is known as a small vine at his home. Smith brought the seed from California 14 years ago. The flowers are in the shape of a small shell, are variegated in color and have the odor of a rose.

MURDER PROBES FIND LOVE NOTE

Clues Are Traced in the Virginia Tragedy.

COLONIAL BEACH, Va. — (By Associated Press) — County attorneys investigating the murder Friday morning of Mrs. Margaret Eastlake, for which a coroner's jury ordered held the woman's husband, Roger D. Eastlake, naval petty officer, and Miss Sarah P. Knox, a Baltimore nurse, announced today the findings of the front door key of the Eastlake home. The key was found at the fence over which Miss Knox said she climbed pursuing the man she claimed committed the murder. The police say they have established that only one person went over the fence. All of the doors of the Eastlake home were found locked except the front door when the body of Mrs. Eastlake was discovered.

A coat, Miss Knox's ownership of which was said to have been established, was found in a clump of bushes near the Eastlake cottage. In this was found a letter alleged to have been written to Miss Knox by Eastlake and which was couched in endearing phrases. In it he said "you will have to come down to be near me" and "Margaret is on to us and pretty ashly."

LIMA WOMAN NAMES COLUMBUS GROVE GIRL IN HER DIVORCE SUIT

Divorce and the custody of her daughter Anna, is asked by Mrs. Juanita Whitley, 126 N. McDonough, in a petition filed in common pleas court Monday. Roland Whitley, a salesman, is made defendant.

Mrs. Whitley names Ruth Rimer, Columbus Grove, a co-ed at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, in her petition and charges that her husband abandoned her September 29 to go to Ann Arbor to visit the girl. It is alleged that he has been paying court to her for a year past. The Whitleys were married in this city in 1919.

Whitley is also charged with forcing his wife to eat with his relatives against her will. According to her story, he has not supported her in recent months, although earning good money. The petition recites that the defendant earns not less than $22.50 weekly as a salesman and an additional $20 playing in a jazz orchestra at dances.

Mrs. Whitley has no means of support, she claims. She seeks to obtain temporary alimony during pendency of her suit. An order of the court tying up her husband's holdings with the Atlas Rubber company and account at the Lima Trust company is sought.

WITNESSES FLEE IN MURDER CASE

Alleged Slayer of California Priest Goes on Trial.

IMPORTANT PERSONS GONE

Girls, one for State, Other for Defense, Missing.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. — (By Associated Press) — Important witnesses for state and defense were missing today as the hour drew near for William Hightower to go on trial for the alleged murder of the Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, Catholic priest.

The state witness whom all of the power of the district attorney's office, helped out by the San Francisco police had been unable to locate, was Marie Bianchi. She, with the priest's housekeeper, Marie Wendel, is known to have seen the cleric after an unidentified man, said to resemble Hightower, took him by night from the parish residence on the pretext that a dying man desired spiritual consolation.

DOLLY MASON MISSING — The defense witness who had not been found was "Dolly Mason" from whom Hightower said he obtained the information that enabled him to find the priest's shallow grave in the sands of Salada Beach, on the San Francisco peninsula, from which Father Heslin's body was exhumed by lantern light by San Francisco police and newspaper men. The district attorney asserts "Dolly Mason" is a mythical personage.

William A. Hightower, itinerant baker and casual laborer, charged with the murder of the Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, a Catholic priest of Colma, Cal., protested his innocence from the first and maintained that he would be willing to have a full jury of priests sit in judgment on him. The killing of the priest developed one of California's most notable murder cases.

FATHER HESLIN was called from his home at Colma, a suburb of San Francisco, about nine o'clock on the night of August 2, by a muffled stranger who said he wanted the priest to administer the last sacrament to a dying man. The two rode away in a small automobile.

The following morning Miss Marie Wendel, the priest's housekeeper, notified the police of his failure to return, and search was begun. Miss Wendel, late, identified Hightower as the man who had called for him.

The day after the priest's disappearance the Right Rev. Edward J. Hanna, archbishop of the Catholic archdiocese of San Francisco, received a ransom of $2,000 for Father Heslin, and saying that he would be killed if the money was not paid.

Hightower, claiming $8,000 were offered for the safe return of Father Heslin or the recovery of his body, in the early evening of August 10, Hightower called at the home of Archbishop Hanna.

WOMAN INJURED WHEN OIL LAMP EXPLODES 2 CALLS FOR FIREMEN

Mrs. Edna Smith, Market House court, sustained slight burns about the body and head, when a kerosene lamp which caught in her garments was upset and exploded at her home, Sunday night. A portion of her hair was burned by the flames. The department was called.

Mrs. Smith was working at a table on which the lamp was standing. In reaching across, she upset the lamp.

Burning oil set fire to the interior of the room, but the arrival of the fire department prevented the flames reaching dangerous proportions.

Sulphur candles burning in buckets at the People's Credit Clothing company Sunday filled the place with smoke. Pedestrians window shopping along S. Main and Spring-sts., thought the interior was afire and called the department.

ROBBERY, HOLDUP AND FIGHT

Three Incidents Stir Citizens of Harrod on Sunday.

Two robberies occurred at Harrod Sunday, as well as a street fight during the morning, citizens state.

Jacob Hanly, owner of a restaurant, locked up his place of business in the afternoon between 2 and 4, to attend a baseball game.

When he returned Hanly found that a screen had been ripped off a rear window, affording means of ingress for a thief, who tapped the cash register and secured $50 in currency and coin. A purse and a money bag, from which the money was taken, were left by the thief. Sheriff Baxter was notified of the robbery.

At 11 p. m. Sunday, after Howard Dietzler had placed his automobile in the garage at the rear of his home and as he stepped out of the door, was held up by a highwayman, menaced with a gun and robbed of $4.

During the morning, according to report, Sidney Warren, a baker and James Griffin, a dealer in poultry and eggs, engaged in a controversy over politics and came to blows, both being pretty well used up.

They were ordered by Marshal Mart Williams to appear before Mayor Isaac McClure Monday. Warren was fined $2 and Griffin $1.

STEPS TAKEN TO REVIVE FINDLAY, FORT WAYNE ROAD

FINDLAY — The chamber of commerce transportation committee here decided to take up with Henry Ford the matter of reviving the old Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western Railroad which ran from Findlay to Fort Wayne, Ind., thru Ottawa, for many years. It was abandoned several years ago.

Failure of the railroad administration during the war to take over the line brought about its collapse and subsequent suspension. Since then most of the rails have been torn up and junked and much of the right of way sold back to land owners.

QUAKER ARRIVAL TO BE OBSERVED

Tide of Norwegian Immigration to U. S. Will be Celebrated

JUBILEE IS SET FOR 1925

Group of 52 Reached American Shore 100 Years Ago.

NEW YORK. — (By Associated Press.) — Elaborate preparations are under way for a centennial celebration in 1925 in commemoration of the beginning of the tide of modern immigration to the United States from Norway, the Foreign Language Information Service announced today.

The principal celebration will be held in Minneapolis but there will also be demonstrations in a number of other cities including New York and Chicago.

ARRIVAL OF 52 — Kleng Peerson is generally recognized as the father of modern immigration from Norway, said the Information Service announcement. He visited the United States in 1821 for the purpose of finding a suitable place of settlement in the new world for a group of Quakers who desired to leave Norway, in order to escape religious intolerance. This group, 52 in all, set sail in a small sloop, the Restaoration, from Stavanger, Norway, July 4, 1825 and arrived in New York 14 weeks later, after a circuitous and stormy voyage, the vessel having touched at Madeira and sailed to New York by the way of the West Indies.

"The arrival of the Restaoration," added the statement, "was the beginning of the great exodus from Norway as well as from the other Scandinavian countries in the 19th century."

MODEL OF SHIP — A model of the Restaoration will form an interesting historical part of the centennial festivities. As a background will be shown Leif Erikson's discovery of America in the year of 1000. Thorinn Karlsefni's first attempt to found a settlement in the new world several centuries before Columbus arrived in the West Indies, Norwegian settlers in New Amsterdam among the Dutch colonists in 1630, 1674, the first navigation of the Northwest passage and the first circumnavigation of the North American continent by Captain Amundsen and many other facts of interest to all Americans.

BOY DIES AS RESULT OF BITING HIS TONGUE

CELINA — Clyde Schoen, two-year-old, was dead here today as the result of biting his tongue.

While playing recently, he fell, bumped his chin and bit his tongue so that it bled profusely.

A physician was called, but could not stop the flow entirely. The lad swallowed a quantity of blood causing death.

BAKE RUTH won't hit a home run in the world's series. That is, he won't hit one in person in the game played on The Lima News baseball board, but aside from seeing the big Bambino slam one into the stands, the game played on this board in front of The News office will be the most interesting way to see the two New York teams battle it out.

The series starts Wednesday. Just as soon as the first batter steps to the plate the News mechanical board will start operating. It will show in detail each play as soon as it is made. One of our press wires will be given over exclusively to this work and will be connected up directly with the sender at the Polo grounds. It will furnish the quickest information received in Lima and in addition you will see the plays executed on a miniature diamond.

You are invited to attend The News' baseball party. Then after the game the News pink will give you a play-by-play account of the series games. Nothing has been left undone for fans' convenience this year.

TEETH IN RAILWAY LAW DEMANDED

Cummins Renews Fight for Anti-Strike Act.

PENALTY WILL BE SOUGHT

Means to Enforce Labor Board's Edicts Asked.

(By J. C. MARTIN) WASHINGTON.—United Press.—Congress must either "put teeth" into the Esch-Cummins railroad law, or admit it is a failure and repeal it, Senator Cummins, Iowa, declared today.

Complete reshaping of the government's railroad policy, probably at the next session of congress, as a result of the strike threat of railroad employees and the many attacks upon the present law, was forecast by Cummins, part author of the measure.

PENALTY TO BE SOUGHT

The demand for anti-strike legislation will be renewed whether the strike now threatened occurs or not, Cummins indicated. Provisions penalizing railroads or others defying authority of the railway labor board, limitation of the interstate commerce commission's control over rate making and repeal of the anti-railroad law, Cummins said, when congress takes up the administration's $394,000,000 railroad relief bill.

While chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods met today in Chicago to determine their attitude towards a nation-wide rail strike, Cummins was preparing to put the senate interstate commerce committee to work on the rail problem in its aspects. He has summoned brotherhood representatives and officials of the Pennsylvania railroad. The labor leaders will be asked to explain why they refused to recognize the labor board's authority to order wage cuts; the Pennsylvania's officials will be quizzed regarding their refusal to obey the board's collective bargaining orders.

RATE CONTROL—Legislation designed to save the existing law from complete demolition may grow out of the hearings before the committee.

Cummins also is preparing an amendment to the law to limit the interstate commerce commission's rate control to interstate rates.

The 48 states are parties to suits now pending, attacking the commission's authority to control intrastate rates. In the event the federal commission is upheld, the law will be amended to restore to the states their previous powers of the railroad rates, Cummins said.

The law also is under fire from the agricultural bloc in congress, which will demand repeal of the guarantee as a means of forcing freight rate reductions. So long as the guarantee remains, the bloc members contend, the rates must remain at their present high level.

HELD ON CHARGE OF ROBBERING EMPLOYER

Charles Her, 5, plumber, arrested Sunday on a burglary charge, was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond by Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court Monday.

Her was taken into custody by Officers Ross, Dandridge and Rella Glover, on complaint that he had stolen a shotgun, valued at $50 and a Grant tire worth $8 from George Hooker, by whom he is employed.

Her told the court he entered the shop by unlocking the door with a key which he carried.

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

WASHINGTON.—Secretary Denby today issued a call for volunteers in the naval reserve force—reduction from 200,000 to barely 5,000 by his recent order discharging all members of four reserve classes not on active duty. Mr. Denby in a letter sent to each reservist, explained that the department's action was made necessary by lack of appropriations and pointed out the opportunity of joining the sixth class—the volunteer reserve—which serves without pay in peace time.

SPIES IN MILLS, PROBERS SAY

Employed by Steel Companies, Church Body Reports.

NEW YORK.—(By United Press)—The alleged spy system employed by steel companies in their mills was described in a supplementary report on 1919 steel strike by the commission of inquiry of the Inter Church World Movement, made public today.

The report quoted hundreds of documents on "under cover men" in the steel strike and stated that "widespread system of espionage are in integral part of the anti-union policy of great industrial corporations."

According to the commission, spies hired by the steel companies worked like other employees, whispered depressing rumors among them and in daily mailed reports, "advised" "influence by municipal authorities to close up public meeting places."

The report also said that spies were also employed against the commission in its investigations.

For the first time details of the commission's interview with Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, were made public. The interview lasted two hours and Gary refused to listen to any plan for mediation and was quoted as declaring that the aims of the strikers were "the closed shop, strikers' and the forcible distribution of property."

JEWISH NEW YEAR IS OBSERVED IN SYNAGOGS

Rabbi Walter E. Rothman, student at the Cincinnati Hebrew Union college, came to Lima Sunday to conduct holiday services at Temple Beth Israel. He will be in charge of all Sunday services at the local Temple hereafter, it is announced, and will also be at the head of the Sunday school.

The Jewish New Year, better known by its Hebrew designation, Rosh Hashanah, occurred this year on October 3. According to practice it is observed from Sunday evening, October 2 until the evening of Monday. Services were held in Temple Beth Israel Sunday night, in charge of Rabbi Rothman. Services were also held Monday morning, from 10 to 12 o'clock.

The Temple quartette, Fred Carter, R. B. Mikesell, Mrs. R. O. Woods and Mrs. C. S. Baxter, with Mrs. R. B. Greene of Darkeco, as organist, afforded special music.

Orthodox Jews are holding services at Mitchell Hall, beginning Sunday night. They will continue until Tuesday. Morning services Monday and Tuesday were set for 8 o'clock. All Jewish children were excused from the public schools to attend the services, in charge of Rabbi Jacob Kayman, who will also be in charge of the services for the Day of Atonement, which will begin October 11 with a service in Mitchell Hall at 5:30 a. m. and continue the following day from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

LONG FIGHT AHEAD ON TAX BILL

Senate Will Not Vote Before Late in Month.

50 AMENDMENTS OFFERED

One Substitute For Excess Profits Levy is Proposed.

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—The senate entered today upon the second week of consideration of the tax revision bill with indications that a final vote would be delayed until late in the month. More than fifty amendments affecting every tax provision in the measure remained to be acted upon and in addition uninterrupted work on the bill was to be prevented by debate on the peace treaties and votes on those bills and on the Panama canal tolls repeal bill.

MUCH TO BE SAID—Chairman Penrose of the finance committee, in charge of the tax measure, expected to reach soon a unanimous consent agreement for a time to vote on the high spots of the measure, but much discussion of the most outstanding of the provisions was looked for before final action on any of them. Senator Penrose said he was keeping his mind open on all of the major amendments offered, adding there was "a whole lot to be said for the Smoot plan for a manufacturers' sales tax or a similar idea."

The provision of the committee bill most under fire is that reducing the maximum surtax rate to 32 per cent. Three substitutes for this section already have been offered, two from the Democratic side and one from the Republican side. Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, has proposed that the maximum rate be made sixty per cent of the amount by which an individual income exceeds $200,000, in lieu of the present 65 per cent of the amount by which the income exceeds $1,000,000.

ONE SUBSTITUTE—Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, leader in the tax revision fight, proposes a maximum of 54 per cent of the amount by which the income exceeds $500,000 while Senator King, Democrat, Utah, would have the rate forty per cent of the amount by which the income exceeds $66,000.

Only one substitute has been proposed for the excess profits tax, Senator King favoring a ten per cent tax on that part of a corporation's net income in excess of twenty per cent of the usual deductions allowed under the bill. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, has placed before the senate an amendment which would provide for a tax of from 12 to 25 per cent on corporation income, while Senator Smoot would retain the present flat ten per cent rate.

NUMBER OF PERSONS IN FAMILY ON THE DECREASE

WASHINGTON.—Decrease during the last decade in the average number of persons in a family and to a dwelling in the United States is indicated by comparative statistics made public today by the census bureau. The 1920 census showed, a statement said, that the nation's population was grouped into 24,351,476 families residing in 20,697,004 dwellings, making an average of 4.3 persons to a family and 5.1 persons to a dwelling.

In 1920 the average number of persons to a family was 4.5 and to a dwelling 5.2. The average in both cases was still higher in 1910—5 persons to a family and 5.6 persons to a dwelling—and has declined steadily since.

ATTORNEYS DEMAND NEW TRIAL FOR JOHN BURKE

TOLEDO.—Attorneys for John Burke, convicted Saturday of first degree murder in connection with the death of two New York York railroad detectives during a $10,000 holdup here last January 17, today filed a motion for a new trial. The petition says the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence. Judge Manton, chief counsel for Burke, said the case would be carried to the supreme court in case of a refusal here.

After a jury in Common Pleas Judge Broun's court had deliberated more than ten hours and four of them had voted for acquittal the other eight finally won out and returned a verdict of first degree murder without mercy at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK BEGINS

Chief Mack to Search City For Fire Hazards.

National Fire Prevention week, to be observed throughout the country started Sunday. No special effort will be made in Lima to stage a demonstration to show fire losses, but Chief John Mack is planning to do so later in the year.

The object of National Fire Prevention week is to call attention to the tremendous loss of lives and property by fires, which might have been prevented. Each year 15,000 persons lose their lives and a half billion of property goes up in smoke in the United States.

Farm fires are demanding more and more attention, from insurance men. The hazard is greater on account of lack of fire fighting apparatus. More than 38,000 fires occur on farms annually, according to statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The estimated loss is in excess of $18,000,000.

Chief Mack, during the present week will make an inspection of the city, with the view to eliminating fire hazards. His special efforts will be directed toward getting residents to put their furnaces and heaters in good order, cleaning chimneys, and elimination of rubber gas hose used for gas connections.

The fire chief's car has been overhauled and repainted by members of the department and looks like a new one.

LIMA PRIEST BECOMES PASTOR OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH AT VAN WERT

Sunday at 8 p. m. a farewell reception was held in St. Rose auditorium, honoring the Rev. Joseph J. Williams, who will leave Wednesday for Van Wert, to assume his duties as pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, having been assigned to that church by the Bishop of the diocese.

An informal program followed the reception. Monsignor A. E. Manning giving an address. The students of St. Rose school presented Father Williams with a traveling bag, while a Ford sedan was a gift from the entire congregation.

Father Williams came to this city as assistant pastor of St. Rose church in June of the year, 1918, immediately following his ordination. His departure from this city will not only be regretted by the congregation of St. Rose church, but also by a wide circle of friends in this city.

WOMAN IS APPOINTED AS METHODIST PASTOR

MASSILON, O.—The appointment of Miss Elizabeth Reavie, of Massilon, as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal mission at Columbia Heights, Massilon suburb, was announced today by Bishop W. F. Anderson, of the Cincinnati area, who is presiding at the Northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here.

This appointment was made following the ritualistic services in the dedication of the Elizabeth Reavie mission, at Columbia Heights, so designated in honor of its founder. The list of pastorate assignments will be made known late this afternoon.

AUNT DINAH, Economist

THE hardest job in business is to get people to eat a new kind of food. Parmentier found that out. He was the fellow who taught the world to eat potatoes, 135 years ago. Before then, nearly all potatoes were fed to the pigs.

Parmentier was a shrewd psychologist, which means, he knew how to juggle with vanity and curiosity.

First, he got Paris duds to wear potato blossoms in their coat lapels. That started folks talking, aroused interest.

Then he invited Ben Franklin to a potato dinner, got Ben to make a few wise remarks, which editors printed.

But Parmentier's ablest ally was the French chef who concocted choice ways of preparing potatoes to tickle the palate. The chef established the potato-eating business after his boss brought the customers in by the knowledge that, if you get folks really interested in anything, they soon want to taste it.

By the same process Hugh Paddington, London glutton, added white wheat flour to man's bill-of-fare in 1819.

WHAT the American corn farmers need, instead of government financial aid in handling the surplus corn crop is to recruit an army of cooks and send them to Europe to spread the gospel of how to turn corn into a dish fit for the gods.

Russia is out of the wheat market. That has boosted the price of wheat and destroyed the old price ration of wheat selling at $1 a bushel while corn went at 60 cents and oats at 40 cents a bushel.

Farmers are shelling corn and packing it in cat bins to make room for the new crop, which is a whopper, far above normal.

Corn exports are running; about 50,000,000 bushels a year, but that's just a drop in the bucket alongside a crop of 3,100,000,000 bushels. Instead of sending wheat to the starving of Russia and central Europe, we should be sending them corn. That would take care of the surplus.

AT the Paris Exposition, the great sensation was an aged ebbered woman who cooked and served free corn griddle-cakes, corn pone and other choice "vittles."

What she did on a small scale, a regiment of cooks could do on a big scale.

The way to solve the surplus corn problem is to teach people how to cook corn so it tastes good.

Farmers! Recruit an army of Aunt Dinahs, and let them carry the gospel to Europe. Mentally, they'd do more to relieve the corn situation than the War Finance Board.

HEALTH

UNCLE SAM has joined the forces of those who maintain that the Saturday night bath is no longer sufficient to keep the human system in first-class or even passable condition.

It is now contended that at least two baths a week are necessary to keep mankind in good health. The bureau of education in Washington says so. The teeth, too, should be given better attention. They must be brushed twice a day and everyone should drink at least four glasses of water a day, Uncle Sam decrees.

Children should sleep long hours with windows of rooms open, drink plenty of milk, have lots of outdoor play and drink no coffee or tea.

Uncle Sam has a right to butt into these things. The mission of the bureau is to promote education. Instructing the children how to keep the body in good condition is essential.

YANKEES

THE thrift of the New England Yankee, and the inventive ingenuity which it produced, have been world-famous for centuries.

Bankers now say that Massachusetts people still are the thriftiest in the United States, 67 per cent having savings accounts.

What is it that, despite immigration makes one section of the country persist in thrift while others are noted generation after generation for crime, fast life, bad health, etc.?

Climate and drinking-water have something to do with that.

EXPORTS

WE do things on such a big scale in this country, with so many millions helping that we do not realize their magnitude.

Southern Railway figures out that American exports in first six months of 1921 were 34,011,000 tons. That would fill a train of freight cars 10,306 miles long, or nearly half-way around the world.

The figures also show that tonnages or physical amounts of the leading exports were bigger than in the corresponding six months of 1920. Losing our foreign trade? No. Just a fall in prices.

FOR GOTTEN

IN 1653 two important skeletons were discovered near Tournai, France. They have just been identified as Mr. and Mrs. Childeric. Ever hear the name? Few have.

Yet Childeric was king of the Franks (ancient French) in the year 451 when the Franks and their allies stopped Attila and his invading Chinese armies at the Marne. That battle determined that Europe was to have a white instead of Mongolian civilization. Three hundred thousand dead, were left on the field.

Now Childeric and his legions are nearly forgotten.

History has a poor memory.

ROADS

THE federal aid road act has been in operation five years and three months. The result is that 7469 miles of good roads have been completed and 17,977 miles are under construction.

The total, roughly, is equal to a road around the world or about eight times across the continent.

That is an achievement, and a heritage for the future, that this generation can be mighty proud of. Civilization, progress and prosperity follow the road builder.

WE'VE BEEN AGAIN
For several months we have been threatened with the dire calamity of having food prices reduced. It has been, in fact, an imminent peril which has worried us more than a little. But we now observe the following headline in The Evening: "FOOD PRICES WILL GO STILL HIGHER!"

So, the crisis is passed and all our worry is vain, which is true of so many worries of this life.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

TWO CLERKS

Two there were in the self same store
Side by side on the busy floor,
Each with rubrics and silks to sell,
But one of them rose while the other fell;
One moved up while all year long
The other was merely a part of the throng.
Here's the story, so oft retold
In the busy shops where life's wages are sold—
One sold silk from a crowded shelf,
And quite forgot he must sell himself;
One was cheerful and liked his work,
The other gloomy and just a clerk.
The cheerful one with his ready smile
Had people flock to his crowded aisle;
The gloomy one, and thus advertised
For that is the secret of making friends.

If, perchance, our nightmare should have come true and prices should have dropped even the fraction of a cent for the fraction of a moment, we don't believe we could have stood it.
Maybe some day a low bidder will get a contract. If he does, we move that a monument be erected to him.
Perhaps Mr. Zero could auction off some of our white elephants in Lima.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

Dr. F. E. Ladd, United States Senator from North Dakota, Answers the Question

I SHOULD say that among the causes of the present great business depression and unemployment may be mentioned:

ONE: Over-inflation, encouraging speculation and waste, with too large loans to European countries.
TWO: Unnecessary rapid deflation so timed and apparently pre-arranged, under the guidance of the Federal Reserve Banking system, as to force the farmers of the country to the verge of national bankruptcy.

THREE: The failure of the farmer to buy, manufacturers as well as retailers, were forced to discontinue business, or at least largely to curtail their output, thus throwing large numbers out of employment.

FOUR: Lack of confidence is a big factor, and while it would be to be optimistic few have faith to do more than to hope for the revival of liberal buying and of renewed activity in the manufacturing centers of the country.

FIVE: Much of the present unfortunate conditions have been made possible because of the uncontrolled banking monopoly, highly profitable to the inner circle. Most people still think that our banking system, and especially the new capstone of the system, the Federal Reserve Bank, is a governmental institution. As a matter of fact it is undoubtedly

FOREIGN INVESTMENTS
After the money and credits had been largely withdrawn from the ordinary channels of trade to the eastern speculation centers, apparently most of this money was used and is still being invested by big financial interests to gain spheres of trade influence in foreign countries.

"This is apparently to acquire concessions that will force the United States from her Washingtonian idea of aloofness from old world affairs and drag her into the unfortunate political affairs of European and Asiatic diplomacy heretofore alien to our ideas of frankness.

The unnecessary rapid and complete deflation of agriculture, beyond that forced upon other lines of business and industry, destroyed not only the farmer's income, but plunged him unmercifully into debt, also destroying his purchasing powers.

It should be remembered that the farmer has been the largest purchaser of manufactured products as well as the largest producer in this country. For the past 16 months the farmer has failed to buy even the necessities for carrying on his business.

THREE: With the failure of the farmer to buy, manufacturers as well as retailers, were forced to discontinue business, or at least largely to curtail their output, thus throwing large numbers out of employment.

The railroads, in place of taking their share of losses, under government, proceeded to raise the world's greatest uncontrolled monopoly interlocking with some of the leading speculative interests of the country. It is not at all so designed or conducted as to furnish our greatest and basic industry with production credit, but capable of being so employed as to wreck that industry or any part of the country at will.

It must so remain so long as 85 per cent of the people must serve and 15 per cent rule and while 2 per cent of the people control 68 per cent of the wealth of the land.

All this can and should be changed. It can be done away with by the adoption of Senate bill 2342 to establish an honest money system.

In other words, the root of the great evils that have come upon us is the outcome of the method of conducting our present banking system which Salmon P. Chase helped to establish and later so strongly condemned.

The dangers of this system were sound to come upon us. It was clearly foretold by Abraham Lincoln at the close of the Civil War. TOMORROW — Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant, American Legion. E. F. LADD

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

ISOLATION FEARED BY JAPANESE

Oriental Are Disappointed By The British Empire.

FUTURE MAY BE ROUND UP

Outcome of Disarmament Meet Is Closely Watched.

(BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS)

TIENSTIN (N. E. A. Service) — Much as Japan may dislike the idea of certain phases of the Far Eastern situation being discussed at the Washington Conference, there can be little doubt that she would yield completely when the other powers interested in Pacific questions assemble in the American capital.

This typical British view in China was expressed by the English editor of the Peking and Tientsin "Times" organ of the British community, but it is shared by a large group of observers composed not only of foreigners, but Chinese as well.

Japan, it is pointed out, will have two courses open to her when she sits down with the other powers at the conference table in Washington.

ONE: She may face the music, as her liberal leaders are using, and play the game wholeheartedly with Great Britain, the United States and China, holding nothing back that might contribute to the peace of the Pacific.

TWO: She may bolt the conference, declaring the powers assembled have no right to discuss her claim to special status in Asia, her policy in China and Siberia.

Japan's future for the next hundred years, disinterestedly declared, will depend upon which of these courses she chooses. The best opinion at present seems evenly divided on what she will do.

As for all things, critics declare Japan fears isolation. Her failure to secure a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance came as a terrifying shock to Nippon, particularly as it followed the crown prince's visit to England, timed with the renewal in view.

BLOW TO JAPAN

Equally distasteful to Japan was the revelation that the British dominion's prime minister was not altogether friendly in their criticisms of the Oriental ally and that in this attitude the British press and public opinion throughout the United Kingdom supported them almost unanimously.

In Japan's latest winter round Japanese opinion is of the belief that not only was the alliance certain to be renewed, but that it would undergo revision in Japan's favor. A portion of this opinion held that it could even provide for help from England in case of war with the United States.

Now, it is realized in Japan, it is a question whether the alliance will be renewed in any form, and if it will be renewed at all, it will be so framed as to remove all doubt from anybody's mind that it is not aimed at America.

JAPAN, THE ENIGM

Now the critics are putting it like this:

As British prime ministers have stated, Anglo-American friendship is to be the basis of Britain's world policy, and that this friendship is valued so highly "that almost any sacrifice is not considered too great" to pay for it, and

As these same spokesmen for the British Empire have openly disapproved of Japanese militarism; of her behavior in Korea, in China and in Siberia—

Will Japan dare to throw away her last chance of regaining the approval of British statesmen—who will make or break the alliance with England—by an arrogant stand at Washington? Will she refuse to play the game at the conference and walk out, thus isolating herself completely from the Western world?

Or will she put all her cards face up on the table, play an open game, win back her friends and ally the world's frank suspicions that her militarists are in complete control?

AGAINST "OPEN DOOR"

It is recalled in British circles here that during the correspondence with American Great Britain regarding the consortium, the Japanese government repeatedly maintained that the "Taonan-Jehol Railway" and a line connecting a point thereof with a seaport were projected with the strategic object of working in means of common defense on the part of China and Japan against foreign invasion.

It was moreover repeatedly emphasized according to the same British source that the adoption of the open port policy, and the principle of equal opportunity in South Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolia would "affect the economic existence and national defense of Japan."

China it is observed was never consulted as to the value to her of such schemes, and British critics are denouncing it Japan, at the conference will claim it is nobody's business but her own how far into the interior of China she chooses to push her defenses and zones of paramount interest.

AMBASSADOR'S VIEWS OF PROBLEMS

By N. E. A. Service

HONOLULU, Hawaii — "The peace of the Pacific in the future will be very largely in the hands of the forthcoming conference on the limitations of armaments at Washington. What is done there will determine to a large extent the policies of the major nations bordering the world's greatest ocean."

Thus declared Charles B. Warren of Detroit, new American ambassador to Japan, who passed thru Honolulu recently on his way to the Orient to take up his duties.

"The entire relations of the Pacific trading nations, with respect to mutual intercourse and exchange of commodities, will be decided by the Pacific conference," said the new ambassador.

"Trade between nations can be made the basis for a peace that will last. The world lives upon itself. It is the healthy, the far-seeing, the intelligent commerce of the world that preserves friendly relations."

"The way to furnish an opportunity for disarmament is to remove the cause for armament. The United States must guide its own destinies in such a manner that there will be no danger of war. Our country must not permit international matters to press forward to where there is the slightest likelihood of war in the distant future."

"It is true," a British critic declared, "that some of China's least patriotic and most unscrupulous officials entered into contracts relating to the construction of railways in Manchuria and Mongolia in September, 1918, but these contracts purported to be purely commercial deals, the Peking government was to receive an advance of yen 20,000,000 ($10,000,000 gold) after the signature of the preliminary agreement."

"These railway deals," he insisted, "are only one of the problems of 'sole concern to certain particular powers' (which Japan, in accepting President Harding's invitation, stipulated) 'which have a vital bearing upon the question of disarmament and upon the whole Far Eastern problem. Their exclusion from discussion at Washington would render any attempt to evolve a permanent solution of Far Eastern questions futile.'"

RIDDLES

(By IRVING BACHELLER)

which directed him into the road to Coulterville sixteen miles ahead. In a few minutes he came upon a farmer working with a scythe near the road wall.

"Do you need any help?" Riddles asked.

The farmer looked at the traveler about whom there was a rich glow of blue silk and polished leather and clean gray flannel and spotted tweed and artful tailoring.

"Do I want any help? Of course I do. Everybody wants help these days," the farmer answered.

"Would you give me a job?" Riddles asked.

The farmer smiled and felt his beard thoughtfully as he answered:

"Say, I've hired tramps and boys and old men, and I've got one feller that escaped from the insane asylum; but I don't want no millionaires here. You're a good feller, too, an' I'll bet on it."

"I'm a working man the same as you are," he declared. "I haven't forgot how to swing a scythe or handle a pitchfork. Give me a trial."

"Say, mister, if I was to give you a job, do you know what I'd want you to do?" the farmer asked. "I'd tell you to keep right on walkin' 'til ye got out o' sight. You could earn more for me travelin' than ye could makin' hay. You're a good feller, too, an' I'll bet on it."

"You don't seem to like the look of me," Riddles laughed.

"I do like it, an' that's all that's the matter with ye," the farmer went on. "I like it so well that I'd just love to set down an' do nothin' but look at ye all day—you're so gol' darn handsome. Senators and Presidents an' bankers ain't no good in a hay madder. We never hire 'em in the summer time. Did you ever see a millionaire livin' on a farm?"

"No, but I've seen a farm livin' on a millionaire," said Riddles.

The farmer laughed. "Say, you're said it," he answered. "Seems so the farm jumped up in the air an' landed on his back as if it wanted a ride."

"A farm doesn't know how to behave in swell society," said Riddles as he began to walk on.

After an hour or so he was overtaken by a traveling store—a large, square, glowing, red box—mounted on a Ford chassis, its sides lettered in gold with the legend:

"Farmer's Supply Company of Boston, A. Hitchman, Agent."

A number of hand rakes and pitchforks rested on top of the box. As it was getting on toward luncheon time with no tavern in sight, Riddles accepted the invitation of the driver and climbed up beside him for a lift.

"I am A. Hitchman, Agent," said the driver.

"I congratulate you. My name is Riddles."

"I used to shave a man by the name o' R. R. Rides—Lemuel Riddles—I took care o' his face for him for about six years," said A. Hitchman.

"It was half an acre o' face, too. You see, before I began shovin' this store around the country I was in the barber business down in Portsmouth. That kind o' led up to this."

"How so?"

"It was the gift o' gab I got there," Hitchman went on. "It's wonderful how it draws a man out mowin' whiskers an' trimmin' hair. You hear all kinds o' talk. In head work ye just naturally learn how to use your head. Honest, a few years of it is as good as a college education."

"I was cuttin' a man's hair," said Hitchman when I got thru, you ought to be sellin' goods. You can talk a man helpless. He'd buy to get rid o' you. If you ever want a job come to my office. I went and have been earnin' high onto sixty dollars a week since, which ain't bad wages."

They came to a road inn, presently, where Riddles invited Mr. A. Hitchman, Agent, to have lunch with him. It was a flat and "uninteresting bit of country thereabouts and so Riddles rode on with him after luncheon."

"Do you happen to know where the Martin farm is?" Riddles asked.

"The widow Martin's?—you bet,"

"Hello!" Riddles answered.

said Hitchman. "Was there this m'nting. Sold 'em some jorks n' rakes an' a lot o' plates an' napkins for a picnic. They're goin' off for a picnic somewhere this afternoon. It's only a few miles up the road."

About two o'clock they came to a shady grove filled with the murmur of flowing water.

"Here's where I leave you," said Riddles. "I'm going to be down here in the shade and take a nap."

"I turn into the road to Hope Center just above," said A. Hitchman. "I'll stop and look for ye when I come back, by an' by. Maybe you'll want to go on with me toward the Notch. I like yer company, darned if I don't."

The peddler drove on and Riddles entered the grove which had been the resort of picnic parties. A river, near the road, sped over its rocky bed between high shores. Invited by its sound he went and looked down into the river alley, cedared on both sides, almost to the water's edge. He lay on a mossy bank in the cool shade of the grove and closed his eyes. He was weary. He felt into sleep and pleasant dreams. The far of approaching footsteps soon awoke him.

"Hello o' pal!" said a cheerful voice.

Riddles rose and rubbed his eyes. A tall man in faded and seedy garments stood before him with a stout, crooked stick in his hand. The lower part of the bronzed face was covered with black stubble. A mass of dark, dusty, unkempt hair showed beneath the dirty, tow crown of his straw hat. His face had a grimy look.

"Hello!" Riddles answered.

"You look like a worn-out New England farm—run down, but not quite deserted," he remarked.

"There's still a man in the house," said the tramp. "Six, is there anything I can do for you? I should judge that you have seen better days. I don't know as I can afford to get mixed up with ye. By George! I believe you'd work for a living—darned if I don't."

"I'm kind o' scared o' you, son of the tramp. I hope you're a man o' good morals."

"Why?"

"You're such a respectable looking cuss. Haven't you got any decent clothes? Anybody would think that you were nothing but a cheap, common millionaire."

Riddles looked at himself and laughed.

"You look like a worn-out New England farm—run down, but not quite deserted," he remarked.

"There's still a man in the house," said the tramp. "Six, is there anything I can do for you? I should judge that you have seen better days. I don't know as I can afford to get mixed up with ye. By George! I believe you'd work for a living—darned if I don't."

CHAMPION

Combination

Oil and Gas Range and Coal and Gas

I Like My Champion

It's Not a Range Cut in Halves—BUT TWO RANGES IN THE SPACE OF ONE

"Just compare it with the ranges that have four lids for gas and four other lids for coal.

"It takes up a quarter less space, yet it is half again as big when a fuel shortage comes.

"And I can use gas and oil at the same time, if I want to.

A Good Looking Range—
As Good As It Looks

"When I think of how I used to get along with a stove for just one fuel, or how some people crowd their kitchens with two stoves, or put up with a little hot plate—

"I tell you I'm proud of my 'Champion'."

WOMEN PLEAD FOR DISARMAMENT

International Body Organized To Press Their Demand For Peace

BY MRS. EDWARD THOMAS

Secretary Women's Peace Union of Western Hemisphere
WASHINGTON — If you don't ask for complete disarmament you will never have it.

Mrs. E. Thomas. We believe it is possible to have complete, immediate and universal disarmament. And the way to disarm is to disarm.

That is why a group of women of Canada and the United States met at Niagara Falls in August and founded the Women's Peace Union of the Western Hemisphere.

We believe that under no circumstances is it right to take human life. We pledge ourselves to work for world peace and we leave our organization open to any woman living in the Western Hemisphere who agrees never, under any circumstances, to take part in the hideous business of man killing.

If women had not asked for complete suffrage we would not have had it. Now is the time to ask for complete peace.

If two nations can live as Canada and the United States have for a hundred years why cannot every nation do the same?

Mrs. E. Thomas. We believe it is possible to have complete, immediate and universal disarmament. And the way to disarm is to disarm.

Mrs. William Justice, of St. John's, is in Salem, W. Va. visiting with her mother and other relatives.

Mrs. J. B. Hoffman and son, Billie, returned to their home in Cleveland, Monday, after a visit with Mrs. Hoffman's mother, Mrs. Nellie Schnabel, of S. Scott-st.

Mrs. C. D. Owen, of Titusville, Pa., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Elmer Barth, of the Barth-apts., and her brother, John Medley, of E. Kibby-st.

BE LOVLIEST JEWEL OF ALL
(BY MME. MOREAU.)

PARLIS.—Perhaps in the days of Cleopatra jewels were as important a matter in the dress of woman as they are today—but not a whit more important could they ever have been!

An ornament of the jeweler's craft, rightly selected and rightly worn, is acknowledged now as the one thing which can give subtle emphasis to good lines and lovely color.

Perhaps there is a certain very charming woman whom you rarely see without a string of well-matched pearls cutting her throat? Probably they're quite large and, instead of fitting closely, they hang in a long graceful loop? Some day when you chance to see her without them, you'll know what the secret is—pearls are miracle workers when it comes to bringing out unthought-of beauties of complexion and contour!

Pure diamonds play up the brilliance of laughing eyes. Emeralds bring out the deeper lights of hair, eyes and complexion. Sapphires accent the loveliness of the tongue.

Quite as smart, quite as capable of enhancing natural beauty are the semi-precious jewels, set with rare artistry. They lend themselves to gorgeousness of setting and are sometimes as handsome in finely wrought silver as in gold or platinum.

One of the finest of arts is the selection of the right jewel or jeweled ornament—it must harmonize or accent. It must be chosen with frock, coloring, general type and event in mind!

And always, the important thing is, that you be the important jewel among them! Use your jewels and your dress to play up your personality.

DRIED FRUIT

(BY SISTER MARY)

Learn to use dried fruits as well as canned ones. If during the canning season it is impossible for you to can, there are all kinds of dried fruits on the market that will make quite as delicious desserts as the rather expensive factory canned fruits.

Dried fruits lose none of their sweetness and minerals during the preserving process and retain their natural richness of flavor to a greater extent than canned fruits do.

APRICOT BOUTIQUE
One-half cup dried apricots, flaky pie crust, sugar, 1-2 cup whipping cream.

Wash fruit thoroughly thru five waters. Cover with lake warm water and let stand over night. Cook fruit in the same water for two hours. Rub thru a coarse sieve. Measure and add three-fourths as much water as there is fruit puree.

Cook until the syrup jellies when a little is tried on a saucer. Pour this into individual baked shells. Top each with a spoonful of slightly sweetened whipped cream.

APRICOT PUDDING
One half cup dried apricots, 1-2 cups stale bread crumbs, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cups milk, 2 eggs, juice 1 lemon.

Wash fruit and let stand in water to cover over night. Stew in the same water for two hours. Let the water cook away as much as possible without burning the fruit. Rub the fruit thru a fine sieve. Add sugar, lemon juice and the yolks of the eggs well beaten. Mix well. Scald the milk and pour over the bread crumbs. Let stand half an hour.

Combine the two mixtures and pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven until set. Then cover with the whites of the eggs beaten till stiff and dry with 1 tablespoon of sugar. Put in the oven to brown the top. Serve warm or cold.

APRICOT SOUFFLE
Three-quarters cup apricots, 1-2 cup flour, 4 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup sugar, milk and apricot juice to make 1 cup, 3 eggs.

Wash and soak apricots. Cook two hours and drain from juice. Rub thru a fine sieve. Measure the juice and use as much more milk as is necessary to make 1 cup liquid.

Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly smooth add the fruit juice slowly, stirring constantly. Add milk and cook until the mixture is very stiff and leaves the sides of the pan. Let this cool while beating the yolks of the eggs till thick and lemon-colored. Then beat in yolks, sugar and apricot pulp. Fold in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and bake in a moderate oven for twenty-five minutes. Serve at once with stewed apricot sauce.

APRICOT SAUCE
Rub stewed apricots thru a sieve. There should be 1 1-2 cups. Add the juice of 1 lemon, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch. There should be some juice with the apricots, but if there isn't, add enough to make 3 cups of apricot puree. Mix the cornstarch well with the sugar and stir this into the fruit. Stir and cook until the sauce thickens.

We do not believe in scrapping battleships to protect the chemical industry. Along that line we have sent the following resolution to the American Chemical Society:

We believe that it should be the part of science to redeem history from being a record of crimes, follies and misfortunes. We appeal to you to do constructive work instead of devoting science to the devising of poison gases and other destructive agencies. The world is weary of war. Economically sick, it is sore need of the aid of those who can solve the difficulty.

Now that we have suffrage and women are beginning to understand why, under existing economical conditions and imperialism, a military system is a means to an end, they get the full significance of Bismarck's statement:

"Any fool can govern by military rule."

Women have it in their power today to create a public opinion for peace that will be more enduring than armament. And so, as the disarmament conference convenes we send this greeting to them:

Women, from pole to pole—unite!

Safeguard against war.

Peace knows no boundary.

Peace knows no enemy.

Peace has no trade barrier.

FINDING HAPPINESS ONE WAY

By RUTH AGNES ABELING

In its quest for happiness at least half of the world is rushing with misguided haste after a will-o'-the-wisp which vanishes just at the edge of realization.

A crystal ball which shatters at the slightest touch, the half has called happiness, and then wept over the splintered fragments.

A wretched feather-down, moved by the woeing of any fitful breeze, it has called happiness, and then grieved when it was wafted out of sight.

A mirage, a fantasy, born of some dream stuff, it has called happiness, and then mourned when its nothingness was revealed.

Blind seeking. Resultant suffering. While all along at the very door of every seeker, the treasure has been unnoticed.

But of the other half—the half that sees that there are people who are instantly liked? They are the people whom the rest of the world thinks fortune has smiled on—when really it is just the reward of their own willingness to value the joys which come.

Down in Tennessee there's such a woman, singularly successful, singularly happy. Folks who know Miss Chard Williams, president of the National Educational Association, say that from the very first of her climb from a small-town school teacher to her present position, she has given due value to ordinary experiences.

Perhaps it was just the tacking of hunting over a platform frame for a school entertainment—but she liked it and found pleasure in it because it served well the purpose of the moment. With a certain womanly wisdom she sought the joy at hand instead of wishing for that just out of her reach.

The silver coffee service which you'd find on her table at dinner—were you there—is a concrete expression of appreciation for a group with which she once worked. She treasures in memory the wedding of a girl employee who, with a near relative, asked her to give her in marriage. A thousand such things bring her happiness.

Are you missing much because you are looking too far?

PATCHWORK

Patchwork quilts, such as our grandmothers used to make, have become a feature of the London shops. If you have one, get it out, and if you haven't one, use up your silk pieces in the making one.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY SUSIE SMART

Dear Miss Smart: I WAS engaged to a young man for about two years. Several days ago he told me he thought the engagement a mistake and that we should break it. I have never hurt so much in all my life. I love him and I thought he loved me. I can't give him up. I simply must. I can't back what I do? Don't you think it is a girl's place to break the engagement?

HEART BROKEN
T is customary for a girl to break the engagement, as the man is usually courteous and considerate enough to give her the right. As a rule a man is not quite so frank as your former fiancé. If a man wishes to break his engagement, he usually makes suggestion to his fiancée, making her feel that he no longer cares to continue the engagement and thus gives her an

Now a Folly to Have Corns

Millions of People Know an Easy Way to End Them—Quick and Sure

FOLKS all about you now treat corns in this scientific way. That's why corns are becoming so uncommon. At the first pain they apply Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster—for sale at all druggists. The pain stops instantly. Soon the whole corn gently loosens and comes out.

This is not like old ways, harsh and crude. It is the modern method, put out by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

For millions of people it has solved the corn problem. It will bring you freedom—and forever—when you know it. For your own sake, find this out tonight.

Liquid or Plaster—Blue-jay stops pain—ends corns—a Bauer & Black product

The policeman took my number. And said it wasn't right. To park the bus so near a plug. And there wasn't a horse in sight.

Babe Ruth hit his 55th and last home run of the regular season, giving the Yanks a 7 to 6 victory over the Red Sox in the season's final.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, runners-up in the National League race, ended the season by trimming the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 3.

The St. Louis Browns won third place in the American League race by winning the last game of the season from Detroit 12 to 5.

John McGraw presented twenty of the new National League champions in the line-up for the benefit of Brooklyn fans and the Red Sox trimmed them all 7 to 4.

The Cubs brought the season to a close by taking two from the Red Sox 7 to 5 and 7 to 0.

The Cleveland Indians fell before the Chicago White Sox in their final 7 to 4.

Washington capped the closer from the Athletics, 11 to 5.

Bravo, Indians.

We like a fighting team. We honor fellows that die game. Now they wonder of Babe really had the flu.

For a gent with lagrippe, Babe made a surprisingly quick recovery. Speculators figure on a rich harvest in seats at New York world series.

It's predicted the baseball scalpers will play their trade in the open in Gotham.

Speculators were selling tickets during the recent New-York-Cleveland series as high as $7 each on Sunday.

Daddy, spare that tree! Touch not a single bow! Send it you must. But do not dust. The sent of my trousers now.

PICKUPS OF GAME IN LIMA SUNDAY

Sunday's game concluded the Troy series with Lima which stands three out of four in favor of the Trojans. All four games were hot battles and the fans were given great base ball in every contest. Troy's next opponents in the elimination series will be St. Mary's and then Wapak, who they must defeat to have an undisputed claim to the championship of northwestern Ohio. Lima has defeated Kenton and St. Mary's, claimants of the honor, and are even up with Wapak who will be the next enemies to visit the home lot.

Gipp, says he has a chap who will against him. Eli Main pitched a grand game of ball but the luck of the game had it written in the book that he should lose. Sensational catches of hard drives off the bat of Seward and Malloy and which in nine cases out of ten would have gone for safe blows were turned into put outs for the visitors, the culling of a ball that was for certain a strike and which resulted in the winning run being scored by the visitors are all summed up as the breaks of the game and it being written in the books for Troy to get said breaks counts more for their victory than any superior playing over the home lads.

While the attendance was some several hundred less than the crowd of the past couple of weeks, it was nevertheless the largest Lima crowd of the season. The 1500 present were practically all Lima fans whereas in the past games with Wapak and St. Mary's 500 or more visiting fans have been present.

Cable, who has been playing short for the Lima nine, is on the sick list and Connie Bressnahan was used to fill the vacancy. Bressnahan, who has been playing in the Ontario League this summer, handled difficult plays with the same ease that has made local fans deem him as one of the best infielders that has ever played here. Bressnahan will likely finish the season with Lima.

Fish, who twirled for the Troy outfit, is a former star athlete of Ohio State University, having graduated from that institution last fall. Fish, besides being a real ball player, is regarded as one of the best all around athletes in the state.

Landry, who was expected to be the choice of pitchers for the Troy nine, was used by the visitors in the sun field. His shoe string catch of Malloy's traffic drive was the best play of the day and it pulled his team out of a hole when things were looking bright for a Lima victory. Landry was the leading pitcher in the Texas League this season.

Frank Gilhoolley, leading hitter and run getter of the International League, is expected to be in the Lima line-up next Sunday. The speed king of the International League has advised the home management that in past years he would like to finish the season in Lima where he states they play harder to win than in any professional games he has ever played in. Gilhoolley is popular with local fans who will be glad of the opportunity of seeing him in action.

Should Lima have won Sunday's game, it would have reconstructed the playing of the fifth and deciding game with Troy and would have been a big attraction from the stand point of attendance and a benefit to both the Troy and Lima teams. The fact that both teams battled hard for yesterday's victory and the Troy team being winners proves again that base ball whether played in the major leagues or on our own sand lot is near to certain of being played fair and square.

YANKS WILL RELY ON SLUGGING TO WIN THE WORLD SERIES

By BILLY EVANS

NEW YORK.—Greater teams than the New York Yankees have represented the American League in the world series, but never a club with more color.

BILLY EVANS

A team possessing remarkable power at the bat, coupled with a good defense and fair pitching, the Yankees found it a difficult matter, indeed, to win the American League pennant.

The New York team has for several years been the enigma of the American League. With an offense apparently sufficient to crush any opposition, the Yankees have been in-and-outers. At times the club looks like the greatest aggregation ever gotten together. Yet almost overnight the same club can look very ordinary.

These sudden reversal of forms can perhaps be best explained by types. The New York Yankees from the top of the batting order down to the pitchers, is a team that can hit. It is a team that likes to hit. It plays the slashing style of a game to the exclusion of all others. When it is hitting, it looks great. The crack of the old base hit tends to enliven, and the general play of the club reflects the enthusiasm.

SUFFERS BATTING SLUMS.
On the other hand the Yankees are easily depressed. Barring slumps are a part of baseball. No matter how great a hitter the individual there are times during the season when he suffers a slump. Barring slumps are unexplainable. They just happen. When a couple of good hitters slump, it is very often contagious, the inability to hit spreading through the entire team.

It is at such times that the New York Americans look like the ordinary ball club. It is not a team that fights its hardest when in such a slump, but rather a team that takes it as a matter of course. Such an attitude has at several times nearly proven fatal to the club's chances.

Failure to hit naturally affects the temperament and spirit of the player of players. In a great many cases, the slump in batting is followed by a similar let-up in the field. Worried over both, inevitably clogs up the thinking apparatus, and it is not the unusual to have a bunch of dumb plays work themselves into the picture.

A team made up of free-swinging hitters, batters with a tendency to hit for extra bases, is the type most liable to suffer batting slumps. The New York Americans is just such a team.

YANKS SLOW ON BASES.
The Yankees are slow on the bases, and very naturally this slowness of foot is reflected in the work affield. It is a team that lacks a varied attack, but how those athletes can hit the ball!

I seriously doubt if there ever was a team more dangerous at the bat from the standpoint of slugging strength, pure and simple.

Home runs are nothing out of the ordinary in the lives of the Yankees. Any man on the club, and I don't except the pitchers, is liable to "bust" one for a homer at any time.

If a pitcher elects to pass Ruth, he must face Meusel. If he refuses to take a chance on Meusel, then he must pitch to Pipp. If Pipp looks dangerous, there looms up "Home Run" Baker of the old days.

After Baker comes Ward and then Schang, both take a dangerous cut at the ball.

Even the lead-off men, Miller and Peckinpaugh, loom up in the home-run column, while Carl Mays and Bob Shawkey usually come through with a couple of home runs every year.

MOST INTERESTING LEAGUERS.
The Yankees certainly are a colorful aggregation. There is no getting away from it. Despite its slowness of foot, and the fact that at times the club can look very ordinary, it is one of the most interesting aggregations that has ever represented a major league in the big series.

It is a team noted for its hitting ability. Fandom has demonstrated that it loves the slugger, and the New York Yankees lineup fairly teems with sluggers. It is a club that gets runs in huge clusters.

In a very important series with the Washington club before the close of the season, it scored 59 runs in 6 games. In one of the all-important games in the final clash with Cleveland, it went out and scored 21 runs for Mays. Such hitting should certainly be considerable encouragement for any pitching staff.

PITCHING STAFF WABBLERS.
But about the Yankees pitching staff? During the final stages of the race the staff wobbled badly, due to Shawkey's injured arm and a tendency on the part of Mays to have one bad inning.

Shawkey has had a peculiar season. A sore arm handicapped him for about six weeks at the start. Then he hit his stride, and for a couple of months was the most dependable man on the staff. The fall weather brought a return of the sore arm, and with it a reversal of form.

Mays, a glutton for work, who has received plenty of it, seemed to show the effects of it at the finish, by a tendency to let down at some stage.

In most of his games he was fortunate enough to get plenty of hitting, so that his one bad inning habit was no handicap to his winning.

At second is Ward, a mighty fine fielder and a dangerous batsman. Pipp, at first, is a far better player than generally given credit for. He will uphold the honor of the American League at the initial sack. It is a good infielder, but hardly compares with Steinfield, Tinker, Evers and Chance, or Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnes.

SUPERMAN ADORNS OUTFIELD.
In the outfield the Yankees have the outstanding figure of baseball, the superman of all times, "Babe" Ruth. Seldom, if ever, has a world series offered so big a star as an added attraction.

Heilman participated in 149 games, was at bat 602 times, scored 113 runs and made 235 hits. A year ago he ranked twenty-third in the batting list with .309.

Cobb, who last year was the ninth ranking American League batsman with an average of .334, was in 21 less games than his rival outfielder this season. He batted 505 times, crossed the plate 122 times and hit safely 197 times.

Rogers II, who, the St. Louis Cardinals' star second baseman, topped the National League batters with .338, the unofficial averages showed. This figure is an increase of 28 points over his total last year, when he also was the senior organization's champion hitter. Rogers, Cincinnati, was second this year with .352; Cruise, Boston third .349; McInnes, St. Louis, fourth .348 and Meusel, New York, fifth, .345.

It wouldn't surprise me if Quinn got a chance against the Giants, who like spitball pitching none too well.

In Harry Harper and "Rip" Collins, the Yankees have two peculiar pitchers. No left-hander in the American League has more stuff than Harper, no right-hander than Collins. Yet it is questionable if either will get a chance.

Both lack poise. They have a habit of developing a wild streak at a most inopportune time. Lack of control may prevent either from getting a chance to start.

Harper, however, turned in several brilliant exhibitions of pitching at the close of the race, and if Huggins is hard pressed, will get his chance. Like the Glanis staff, the Yankees is good, but not great.

COMBINATIONS IN INFIELD.
There is a possible chance that two combinations may appear in the Yankees infield. One would have Pipp at first, Ward at second, Peckinpaugh at short and Baker at third.

The other would have the first three named with McNally holding down third. An injury to Baker gave McNally his chance, and he certainly made good. While lacking the hitting power of Baker, he held his own at the bat, and fairly sparkled in the field.

His defensive play proved of such value, as the Yankees came into the home stretch, that he was kept at third after Baker was in condition to play.

Either Baker or McNally will fill the bill at third. Baker will improve the offense of the team, McNally the defense. It is a matter for Huggins to decide which is of most importance to the team.

At short is Peckinpaugh, one of the greatest in the business. With Scott, he shares the premier honors in the American League.

At second is Ward, a mighty fine fielder and a dangerous batsman. Pipp, at first, is a far better player than generally given credit for. He will uphold the honor of the American League at the initial sack. It is a good infielder, but hardly compares with Steinfield, Tinker, Evers and Chance, or Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnes.

In the outfield the Yankees have the outstanding figure of baseball, the superman of all times, "Babe" Ruth. Seldom, if ever, has a world series offered so big a star as an added attraction.

Heilman participated in 149 games, was at bat 602 times, scored 113 runs and made 235 hits. A year ago he ranked twenty-third in the batting list with .309.

Cobb, who last year was the ninth ranking American League batsman with an average of .334, was in 21 less games than his rival outfielder this season. He batted 505 times, crossed the plate 122 times and hit safely 197 times.

Rogers II, who, the St. Louis Cardinals' star second baseman, topped the National League batters with .338, the unofficial averages showed. This figure is an increase of 28 points over his total last year, when he also was the senior organization's champion hitter. Rogers, Cincinnati, was second this year with .352; Cruise, Boston third .349; McInnes, St. Louis, fourth .348 and Meusel, New York, fifth, .345.

EASY TO BREAK INTO MOVIES—IF YOU KNOW HOW

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
T'S a saying in movieland that every man, woman and child in the United States old enough and intelligent enough to construct sentences and put them into writing has written, or is writing, a scenario.

Based on these statistics, it is figured that at least 5 per cent have tried, or are trying, to get a regular job writing scenarios.

According to the census returns of Hollywood, Cal., a very infinitesimal fraction of one per cent of these ever achieve their purpose.

Among those who did are two young women who turned the trick so easily they wonder why every body thinks their feat so remarkable.

They are Hazel MacDonald, formerly of Chicago, and Vianna Knowlton, ex-Bostonian, and buy a typewriter and get to work.

Now don't rush out just because they walked right in and got jobs without a struggle.

Hazel and Vianna are heroines of a fairy tale—for it is almost a fairy tale situation when two unknowns can capture jobs that millions haven't a ghost of a chance to get.

Mme. Pola Negri Is Alluring as "Carmen"

GYPSY BLOOD, as you perhaps know is the story of Carmen and needless to say, Pola Negri has the role of the gypsy girl.

If you saw her in "Passion" you will let nothing prevent your seeing her in "Gypsy Blood". I couldn't be honest and tell you that the latter is as powerful as the former, for it isn't. However, Madame Negri herself as the graceful, prodigal creature whose flaming eyes and tigerish abandon make even the strongest men and result finally in her own destruction, gives a unique and gripping portrayal of the familiar role.

The director in this case is the same who made "Passion" and credit is due him for the excellent

They are both in the scenario department of the DeMille studio, and they have just finished collaborating upon a screen version of Rita Weisman's story "After the Sheet".

Miss MacDonald was a reporter for a Chicago paper. She was sent to interview Cecil DeMille and Adolph Zukor at a meeting in Chicago. She got the interview and as she was leaving DeMille jokingly asked her why she didn't try motion picture work.

"I don't know if I dare try," she replied.

"Then I dare you to try," said DeMille.

And the next thing he knew—about two weeks later, she turned up at Hollywood and demanded a job.

"Maybe it was my nerve," suggested Miss MacDonald.

Miss Knowlton didn't wait to be dared. She stormed Hollywood after studying playwriting under Prof. Baker at Harvard. She had been an actress, a professional dancer and a writer and producer of pageants. Just to prove scenario writing was easy compared to this, she won a prize in the scenario contest held by Thomas H. Ince. Now she has a job with DeMille.

casting. The acting of every principal is polished and certain, although of course, Pola herself dominates every situation.

Like her work in "Passion", Miss Negri's characterization in "Gypsy Blood" is alive and vital, with none of the stageiness which could have so easily been given the production. The photography is nothing extraordinary, but the sets and scenes are creditable.

We wonder what the next Negri picture will be like. She has made a blazing start, certainly, and it is to be hoped that she doesn't just fizzle out like a sky rocket in a few years.

"Gypsy Blood" is the feature at the Regent today and Tuesday.

A Comedy Program at the Sigma

WHILE the feature attraction at the Sigma today is "A Perfect Crime" and is, to all appearances, a perfectly nice little picture with Monte Blue and a good-looking ex-Follies girl, Miss Jacqueline Logan, in the leading roles, the comedy feature which is "Love's Outcast" is so funny and so obviously entertaining, that we're going to turn the tables a trifle and review the comedy, instead of the feature.

This is Ben Turpin's latest funny and we're all for it. It calls itself a comedy, and it is a comedy, something unusual, you will admit. You find yourself grinning in the darkness like a Cheshire cat, occasionally breaking into a chuckle, while around you rise howls of glee, according to the sense of humor of your neighbors, even occasional hoots.

Mr. Turpin, is of course, the outcast. A pite married man brought into court on circumstantial evidence that he has been stepping out. The plaintiff, his wife, is a tall angular lady with a mean tongue and plenty of determination. Many of your favorites appear as witnesses and the camera unrolls the adventures of the outcast as they are told. His only friend is Miss Phyllis Haver, who saves the day for him.

There's lots of action in "Love's Outcast". Something doing every minute. It's perfectly ridiculous, of course, but takes itself with side-splitting seriousness.

Mr. Turpin is Mr. Turpin at his best. His cock-eyed despair is enough to make angels hold their sides. The sub-titles, like the subject matter, are smart and gassy.

If you've any kind of a funny bone at all you'll laugh over "Love's Outcast". At the Sigma until Thursday.

George White's Scandals

TONIGHT at the Faurot George White will present his own company and production in the elaborate and spectacular musical revue "Scandals". White, unlike other managers has gained his material from the columns of the daily press which is a new departure in the revue institution that has been more than welcomed in the theatre as the auditor thoroughly appreciates the burlesque and satire that these timely topics offer, some of these are the Mexican situation, the Volstead Act, the last presidential campaign and others that are equally interesting. Just the backgrounds of scenes, masterly in the hands of the company well known players and decorated the whole with a chorus that is as youthful and gorgeously gowned as any that has graced the musical comedy stage in many seasons.

"Scandals" seems to be one of the real things of merit in the theatre this season and its visit here will undoubtedly be a welcome one.

THRU the courtesy of the B. S. Porter Co., a tone test recital will be given at Memorial Hall.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys its source. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with your fingers.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single speck and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and—FAR more effective than any other remedy. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NORMA OFF TO ORIENT

Foreign travel lures the movie stars. Norma Talmadge is going to the Orient, following completion of "Smilin' Thru." She is going to Honolulu and then to Japan and may decide to continue around the world, with a special stop at Algeria. She will not return until after the first of the year and her next production probably will be "The Voice on the Minaret" and "Snake Bite," both by Robert Hichen.

CINEMAGRAMS:

Tom McNamara and Clive Weed, cartoonists, have gone into movies.

Buster Keaton has completed "The Blacksmith," a two-reel comedy.

Charles Ray's new comedy "Gas, Oil and Water" has the Mexican border as locale.

An old Lincoln J. Carter thriller, "The Fast Mail," is to be screened with Buck Jones as the star.

Tom Mix is working on "The Gutter," a picture written and directed by Lynn F. Reynolds.

Will Rogers has been drafted from his two-reel comedies to play the leading role in "The Melancholy Spirit."

A burlesque on Fairbanks' "Three Musketeers" is being produced, called "Three and a Half Musketeers."

Mother and daughter in the same film. May Beth Carr, daughter of Mary Carr, has a role in a new picture in which the mother is starred.

AMERICANS MAY BE HELD UP

Face Confusing Passport Situation in Russia.

RIGA — (By Associated Press)—Maxim Letvinoff, chief of Soviet legations abroad has telegraphed the local Bolshevik legation that Russia will make no exception to the new rule not to admit Americans unless they carry national passports. The state department at Washington has made a regulation that such passports must be surrendered to American consuls, and Americans bound for Russia on legitimate errands are therefore facing the choice of either violating the Washington ruling or staying out of the country.

Should they violate the state department ruling and attempt to carry their passports into Russia without American sanction, the officials of Latvia and other border states will refuse to permit them to leave Riga or any other frontier city where they may happen to be.

This situation which occurs while there is a great scramble for Russian trade and at the time of a change in the Soviet economic policy, threatens to hold up emissaries of several large American firms who are now enroute to Russia. Moscow advises state it is extremely probable that some Americans now in Russia, who obeyed the state department's order and entered upon presentation of consular receipts for their passports, may be held up when they attempt to leave the country. The only alternative is said to be for the consuls to whom they surrendered their passports, to send them into Russia for an onward rise.

will warm any small house as perfectly as the large heating plants will warm a mansion.
Arcola has these five advantages which no small-home heating equipment has ever offered:
1—Connected with the American Radiators it will fill every room of a small house, upstairs and down, with healthful hot-water warmth.
2—It will save the waste and labor of a half dozen old-fashioned stuffy stoves.
3—It will reduce your fuel consumption room for room at least one-third of the amount consumed by stoves or hot-air furnaces as proved by the experience of thousands of ARCOLA owners.
4—Connected with the kitchen tank it will provide an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing.
5—It can be installed easily and quickly without the slightest disturbance to the family.
This is no ordinary guarantee. It is offered by the largest manufacturer of heating equipment in the world.

Bernie Halloran went to call on a friend. He was used to identifying the house by counting four houses from the corner. But an extra house had been built since he was there last. "He got into the wrong house," reports a friend, "and got out again before they called the police."

Ed Ferry, became lost in a vineyard while visiting his uncle near Geneva, O.

"Fortunately the grapes were ripe," he says, "and I was able to sustain life during the afternoon until I could find my way out."

A shawnee-farmer reports he is teaching his dog to dig potatoes. "I got the idea," he reports, "watching him dig out woodchucks. I figure I won't have to do any potato digging myself."

H. H. Starrett, unable to sleep, heard a cat mew and he yelled out the window at it. That aroused a dog. "I didn't hear the cat again," he says, "but the dog barked all night."

INDIANA WOMAN SAYS "NERVOUSNESS GONE"

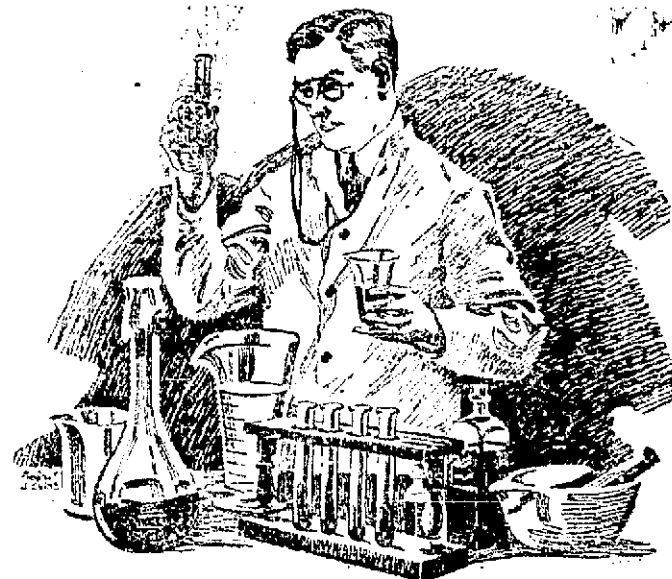

Nellie Shields of 1112 Oakland Ave., Tells How She Was Quickly Relieved by Nerv-Worth.

"I had indigestion and I was in a bad condition," said Mrs. Shields. "I was so weak and nervous that I could not even eat a meal with pleasure. One day I tried a sample of Nerv-Worth and found it so pleasant to take that I bought a bottle. After taking one bottle I am glad to give this testimony, for it has helped me more than any other medicine I have ever taken. Every day now letters telling of Nerv-Worth's great work come in to the Nerv-Worth offices. These letters offer the most convincing of proof because they represent the voice of the public. Public opinion is what counts, and it goes without saying as these letters prove that the public's opinion of Nerv-Worth is exceptionally high. If you suffer from nervousness (trouble and the fits that go with it, give Nerv-Worth a trial, and if your first trial bottle does not benefit you, your money will be refunded. Nerv-Worth is now $1.00 per bottle. Nerv-Worth is sold and recommended by Hunter's Drug Store, Lima; C. M. The New Laws on teeth cleaning—five of them

Dental science has adopted new laws on teeth cleaning. They mean whiter, cleaner, safer teeth to those who follow them.

Millions employ these new methods, largely by dental advice. Now this ten-day test is offered to show every home the results.

1—Fight the film

The first law is to fight film—that viscous coat you feel. It dims the teeth and causes most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Old ways of brushing do not end it. So few have escaped some form of film attack.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of decay. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Two methods now

Two ways are now known to fight film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

Both are embodied in Pepsodent—a scientific tooth paste. They keep the teeth uniquely clean and also highly polished.

Three other laws

Modern starch diet also calls for other helps to Nature. So every use of Pepsodent brings these three desired results.

1—A multiplied salivary flow.

2—Multiplied starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. 3—Multiplied alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Thus Pepsodent fights two deposits—film and starch—which may do great harm to teeth. Also the destroying acids, and in Nature's way.

Brings a new era

These mean vast improvements on old methods. In fact, old methods brought the opposite effects. Pepsodent has introduced a new era in teeth cleaning, and millions now enjoy it.

Now we urge that you send for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Feel the other good effects.

Then decide by what you see and feel. Do this for your own sake. Cut out the coupon now.

WRIGLEY'S

"After Every Meal"

Next time you want to concentrate on a piece of work just slip a stick of WRIGLEY'S between your teeth.

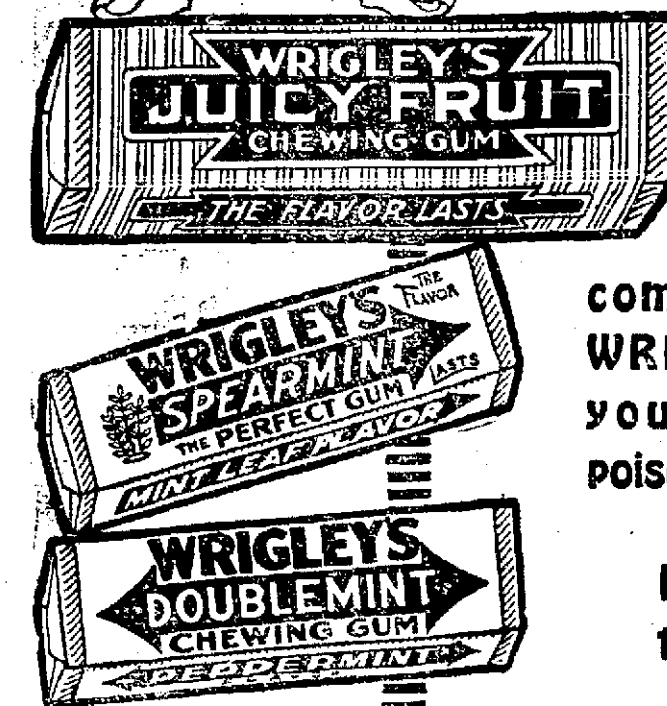

It's a wonderful help in daily tasks — and sports as well.

If that 13th hole on the course has been getting your goat — try WRIGLEY'S.

Hazards disappear and hard places come easy — for WRIGLEY'S gives you comfort and poise.
